'Space Twins' Unfold Story Of Flight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The story of an adventure crammed with mysterious satellites, a stroll in space and the anxiety of living four days in a hostile environment unfolds to the world today.

Astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II relate their experiences to newsmen this morning. They will receive congratulations from President Johnson this afternoon.

In a switch of plans, the astronauts and their wives chose to ask President Johnson to come to Houston so congratulations could be shared with all employes of the Manned Spacecraft Center.

Johnson had invited the two spacemen and their families to his Texas ranch for the weekend. Thursday the President offered instead to make his first visit to the space center, the "astronauts' home."

An official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said: "The gracious offer of the President overwhelmed the astronauts and their wives. They readily accepted so the honors could be shared with the people who made the flight possible."

A White House spokesman said McDivitt and White welcomed the change so they could spend more time with their families.

The astronauts returned to Houston Thursday, and White said their homecoming was an event second only to the successful splashdown Monday. The heroes were met with hugs and kisses from their wives and children at Ellington Air Force Base, then had a brief lunch and private chat at their homes before continuing the debriefing of their four-day journey into space.

Details of Johnson's visit, and whether he will present the special medals or awards to the space twins are not known. The President told the two last Monday he had a "little something" for them.

Afterwards, Johnson is expected to tour the center, including Mission Control from where the Gemini 4 space flight was controlled and monitored.

Officials revealed Thursday that a third sighting of a mysterious object in space was made during a pass over China. McDivitt had reported seeing an object over Hawaii and another over eastern Asia.

A recheck of the 1,400 frames of film taken by McDivitt turned up five of a glob of light with a white tail and a triangular glow above it.

The second object has not been identified. Photographs taken of it were not recognizable, a NASA official said.

Mention of the third object came during the afternoon debriefing of the two Air Force majors.

"Today is my birthday," McDivitt told the crowd welcoming him home Thursday. "I've had a lot of birthdays, I'm not going to tell you how many — but I've never had one like today."

Actually McDivitt's 36th birthday celebration began Wednesday night with a cake-cutting ceremony aboard the aircraft carrier USS Wasp, the ship that recovered the Gemini 4 capsule from the Atlantic.

At the McDivitt home, a few miles south of the Manned Spacecraft Center, he was greeted by a delegation of neighborhood children who shyly presented him a crudely lettered "happy birthday" sign.

McDivitt ate birthday cake at lunch with his wife, Pat; and children, Michael, 8; Ann Lynn, 6, and Patrick, 4, in the privacy of his home. The angel food cake baked by a sister-in-law, Mrs. John Sanders of Beria, Ohio, bore the lettering, "Happy Birthday, by Gemini."

White; his wife, Pat; and children, Eddie, 11, and Bonnie Lynn, 9, paddled about happily in a neighbor's swimming pool. White showed no signs of strain from his 20-minute walk in space June 3.

The space twins started their day at Mayport, Fla., saying farewells to the crew of the Wasp.

They also received the first of many expected awards, a copy of the Florida state seal from Gov. Hayden Burns, as they stepped on firm ground for the first time since the blastoff at Cape Kennedy June 3.

Flags flapped in a breeze and the Navy band played "Happy Birthday to You." After the brief ceremony, the two smiling space heroes boarded a four-engine jet for the 2-hour and 15-minute flight to Ellington AFB.

As the plane rolled to a stop, the astronauts emerged and were engulfed with arms, legs and kisses. McDivitt circled his arms around his three tykes and lifted them to this chest several times.

New Jersey Hotel Blaze Leaves 2 Dead, 4 Missing

PLAINFIELD, N.J. (AP) — Fire swept through the sprawling century-old Victoria Hotel today, taking at least 2 lives, injuring 15 persons and leaving 4 more missing.

Two bodies were recovered from the ruins and firemen began searching for other victims.

The three-story hotel is located near the business district of this central New Jersey community.

More than 100 permanent and transient guests escaped the burning building located across the street from the main Fire Department headquarters.

A telephone dispatcher at the fire house spotted flames shooting from the second floor of the building and turned in the first alarm at 2:36 a.m. The blaze was brought under control at 5 a.m.

Police said 12 persons were injured, including a policeman who suffered deep smoke inhalation in an attempt to rescue a 93-year-old woman trapped in the building.

The officer, patrolman Robert Miller, was placed in an intensive-care unit at Muhlenberg Hospital and reported responding to treatment.

The woman, Frances Van Horn, was listed in good condition at the hospital.

Police said Miller collapsed after rescuing 10 or 12 persons inside the building.

The cause of the fire was not known immediately, but investigators believed it started on the second floor of the old frame building.

Police and firemen combed the ruins for bodies of other possible victims. "We expect to find several other bodies," Police Captain Milford Payne said.

Migration Poses Problem, Planner Cautions County

The steady migration of young people represents a serious problem for Columbiana County, Eber Wright, planning consultant, declared in a summary of a county survey Thursday night at Lisbon.

More than 130 attended a meeting of the County Regional Planning Commission at the Lincoln School, when the commission's 1½-year survey of the county was presented in brief by Wright.

Slide photographs of county scenes and charts of various aspects of population and economy accompanied the talk by Wright, Ashtabula County planning director who is consultant to the Columbiana County group.

Floyd Lower, president, reviewed the formation of the commission, its work and its objectives.

Announcement was made of committee appointments for 1965-66.

Wright stressed the importance of retaining young people in the county as a source of leaders and skilled workers vital to the area's growth and economy.

He said in the last 10 years more than 13,000 young people have gone elsewhere to live and to work.

The birth-death ratio in the county is favorable — two births to each death — but not enough young people are remaining, he declared.

The role of education also was referred to a chart showing the relationship to education, employment and income within the county.

The need for attracting new industry was re - emphasized, along with a recommendation for a countywide industrial development program and closer ties with industrial groups in the various communities.

Wright pointed out almost 30 per cent of the labor force works outside the county, compared with the 11 per cent average for Ohio.

Industry and the labor force are vital to a county's tax base, he said.

But planning is the prerequisite for development, he stated, and said action must be taken to properly develop the county so industry will want to come here. Establishment of an airport, for example, was termed vital.

Wright also discussed the importance of agriculture, the attractive scenic areas and the

Playground Openings Set For Monday

Plans for the opening of 17 area playgrounds Monday were outlined by Keith H. Dunlevy, director, at the meeting of the East Liverpool Area Recreation Council Thursday night at the high school.

Special activities are scheduled each Tuesday, along with three inter-playground leagues in baseball, softball, volleyball and basketball. The playlots will close Aug. 20.

The leagues will be under three regional supervisors — Dennis Adkins, Frank Melchiorre and Bob Dawson.

Nancy Smith will be in charge of arts and crafts for all of the playlots.

The supervisors and their assignments are:

Margo Owen, LaCroft; Karen Maola, Klondyke; Susan Moore, Emmanuel Church; Beverly Windle, Calcutta; Marjorie Hughey, Glenmoor; Betsy Garner, Pleasant Heights.

Jane McKeever, Westgate; Vicki Heidel, McKinley; Barbara Smith, 2nd St.; Geraldine Bednarzik, Chester Central; Judy Manypenny, Lincoln; Pauline Hoyt, Chester Junior High.

Helen Morris, Chester City Park; Patricia Moore, Chester Grandview; Alice Harrington, Chester Jack Evans; Constance Dunlevy, Newell Jefferson, and Karen Lucas, Newell Clark Field.

The special activities will include:

June 22, races and contests; June 29, pet show; July 6, hiking from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.; July 13, style show; July 20,

47,000 Set Red Total In South Viet

12,000 More Than In January, U.S. Estimates Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official U.S. estimates of Communist hard- core military strength in South Viet Nam have been rising and now total about 12,000 higher than in January.

The latest public estimate of full-time Communist regulars in organized combat units stands at 47,000 men.

Last January U.S. officials estimated this hard core at between 29,000 and 35,000.

In late April, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara used the figures 38,000 to 46,000.

Knowledgeable sources said that the latest announced estimates still are below figures contained in classified reports.

One figure was said to be close to 64,000 of these well-trained, well- equipped Communist soldiers fighting with the Viet Cong.

A majority of the 47,000 hard-core Viet Cong are infiltrators from North Viet Nam — what Assistant Secretary of Defense John T. McNaughton Thursday called "the brains, the backbone and the cement of the movement as a whole."

These increases in the main force of Viet Cong have been reported despite fairly constant bombing of infiltration routes in North Viet Nam and Laos — routes through which the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam have been reinforced for six years.

U.S. officials have never claimed that the bombings have halted the infiltration. About the most they have said has been along the lines of McNamara's statement in late April that "we have impeded the progress of men and material from North Viet Nam."

This suggests that, in the absence of the bombings, the Viet Cong hard core would now be considerably greater than it is.

Union Files Charges In Crescent Dispute

Peter P. Popovich, international representative of the United Brick and Clay Workers of America, announced today that charges have been flied before the NLRB 6th Region in Pittsburgh against the Crescent Brick Co.

The company is accused of refusing to bargain in good faith, he said.

An announcement Monday by an official of the brick company stated that operations at the plant will be resumed this coming Monday.

About 45 employes of the company were affected by a strike called by the union on Sept. 1 upon expiration of the old contract. Several unsuccessful attempts have been made since to reach a settlement.

No Cross-Currents, Divisions Or Conflicts

Johnson Hits Speculation On Economic Policy Split

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has muffled speculation over a governmental split on his economic policy by giving assurances that there are "no cross-currents, divisions or conflicts" within the administration.

The President told reporters, after a meeting with Chairman William McC. Martin of the Federal Reserve Board and other top economic officials Thursday, that moderate but solid gains are foreseeable through 1965. "There is no reason for gloom or doom," he said.

This was an apparent reference to the stock market slump and public furor which followed Martin's June 1 speech at Columbia University.

That was the speech in which Martin spoke of "disquieting similarities between our present prosperity and the fabulous '20s," and emphasized the role of monetary policy — management of the money and credit supply — in preventing possible inflationary excesses.

Martin's resignation was demanded Thursday by Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking Committee. Patman charged that Martin had challenged Johnson's economic policy and was calling for what Patman described as a disastrous policy of tight money.

"This country cannot afford, even as prosperous as it is, a man at the helm of our monetary system who is so afraid of prosperity that he has to end it," Patman said on the House floor.

But Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, in an interview given before the White House meeting, helped Johnson to quash the talk of a policy split on the issue of tight money-versus- expansionism.

Fowler said he and Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor agreed completely with what they regraded as Martin's basic theme, that of maintaining and strengthening the soundness of the dollar.

"The speech caused me no nervous indigestion," Fowler said. "I was surprised at the stock market's reaction, and I think Bill (Martin) was too."

The market slump was caused by investors' fears that Martin was hinting at a coming move to tighten money by boosting interest rates, Fowler said. He himself had read no such meaning into Martin's talk "because I know Bill's thinking."

After the White House meeting, Martin smilingly indicated he had no intention of taking Rep. Patman's advice and resigning. "When and if I desire to resign I'll let you know," said the man who has headed the Federal Reserve Board under four presidents.

Big Losses Suffered By Both Sides

3 Americans Killed, 15 Missing And 15 Reported Wounded

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The battle for Dong Xoai ended today with heavy casualties on both sides. The routed Viet Cong left district headquarters in ruins, strewn with bodies of men, women and children.

U.S. military authorities said the latest count of American casualties in the battle were 3 dead, 15 wounded and 15 missing. Eight of the missing were crewmen on two helicopters destroyed by enemy fire. A newsman who visited the town 60 miles north of Saigon said several American bodies were found in the ruins.

An 11-man U.S. Army special forces team and a nine-man U.S. Navy Seabee squad engaged in building an airstrip were at the district headquarters when the Viet Cong attacked Wednesday night.

The number of U.S. casualties in Viet Nam jumped again when a two-engine C123 transport ferrying ammunition and supplies crashed in flames in central Viet Nam, killing at least eight Americans.

A U.S. spokesman said a ground party recovered the bodies of two Air Force men and six Army men. He did not know how many had been aboard.

Military sources were uncertain of the cause of the crash.

The three confirmed deaths at Dong Xoai brought the toll of American dead in Vietnamese combat since December 1961 to 409. The dead in the C123 crash would not be added to the combat toll unless enemy fire was determined.

Government and Viet Cong casualties were heavy in the fierce fighting that began at Dong Xoai early Thursday. About 150 civilians also were reported killed, including many women and children.

The government reported 280 casualties for its forces — 108 killed, 126 missing and 46 wounded. It claimed that 700 Communist guerrillas were killed — 300 in Dong Xoai and another 400 by U.S. and Vietnamese air strikes 3 to 4 miles north of the town.

None of the government figures were confirmed by U.S. military officials.

U.S. and Vietnamese planes flew 121 sorties against the Dong Xoai area Thursday.

Through the night Communists probed at government positions in the town.

State Regulation Backed

Midland Council Expands War Against Air Pollution

Following a report by Councilman Ray Presutti relative to a public hearing conducted by the Pennsylvania Department of Health last week in Butler, Midland Council Thursday night took its strongest action to date in the long battle against air pollution.

The legislators adopted a resolution directed to Region 3 of the Pennsylvania Air Pollution Commission calling for the adoption of proposed Regulation 4 and asking action by the state to help alleviate the situation created by pollution emissions from the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

The action came after an explanation of Regulation 4 by Floree J. Aquino, director of Pollution District 3, who attended the meeting.

He said that Regulation 4, when given final approval, will give the commission the authority to approach an industry, learn what exactly is being done to curtail pollution and require a company to set a specific timetable for projects designed for that purpose.

Aquino said the regulation will "put teeth into demands against various industries to alleviate pollution - producing facilities."

After being assured by the district director that Regulation 4 would be adopted at the commission's August meeting, Council instructed its secretary, Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, to write the commission and request that its October session be conducted in Midland and that representatives of Council and Crucible be invited to attend and discuss the community's air pollution problem.

Council then passed a second resolution calling on the Pennsylvania Association of Boroughs to support Regulation 4 during its convention June 27-30 at Philadelphia. The resolution will be forwarded to the Resolutions Committee of the association.

A series of tests in 1963 showed the concentration of dust particles in Midland to be among the highest in the state of Pennsylvania and approximately 10 times that of the national average.

Council President William Vinovich was named as voting delegate of the Council to the borough association's convention.

Earlier in the session, representatives of the Crucible Police Department appeared before Council and discussed pos-

Raises Listed For New Pact In Chinaware

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters today listed additional details on a new 32-month working agreement it signed Sunday with seven chinaware manufacturers, including 14 cents in hourly pay raises that will be stretched across two years.

The first general boost of 5 cents hourly was effective with the first full pay period after June 1. A 6-cent hike will take effect Aug. 1, 1966, and a 3-cent boost will begin on Aug. 1, 1967.

The union said manufacturers also reaffirmed the 1962 agreement to the effect they will assume the cost of the welfare and insurance plan for single employes.

The agreement covers: The Sterling China Co. and the Wellsville China Co., both of Wellsville, the Walker China Co. at Bedford, the Mayer China Co. in Beaver Falls, the Jackson Vitrified China Co. of Falls Creek, Pa., the Buffalo China Co. in Buffalo, N. Y., and the McNicol China Co. at Clarksburg. The pact runs until Feb. 1, 1968.

The union said its conferees included representatives of the affected local unions: Locals 24, 33, 76, 99, 104 and 108. It was the first time Local 99 was included in the so-called chinaware group. Previously, Local 99 and the McNicol China Co. negotiated a separate contract.

E. K. Koos of Sterling - Wellsville headed the china negotiating committee. The IBOP delegation was headed by E. L. Wheatley, president, Charles F. Jordan, secretary - treasurer, and Frank Dales, Leonard Greco and Clyde Jones, vice presidents.

'Space Twins' Unfold Story Of Flight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The story of an adventure crammed with mysterious satellites, a stroll in space and the anxiety of living four days in a hostile environment unfolds to the world today.

Astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II relate their experiences to newsmen this morning. They will receive congratulations from President Johnson this afternoon.

In a switch of plans, the astronauts and their wives chose to ask President Johnson to come to Houston so congratulations could be shared with all employes of the Manned Spacecraft Center.

Johnson had invited the two spacemen and their families to his Texas ranch for the weekend. Thursday the President offered instead to make his first visit to the space center, the "astronauts' home."

An official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said: "The gracious offer of the President overwhelmed the astronauts and their wives. They readily accepted so the honors could be shared with the people who made the flight possible."

A White House spokesman said McDivitt and White welcomed the change so they could spend more time with their families.

The astronauts returned to Houston Thursday, and White said their homecoming was an event second only to the successful splashdown Monday. The heroes were met with hugs and kisses from their wives and children at Ellington Air Force Base, then had a brief lunch and private chat at their homes before continuing the debriefing of their four-day journey into space.

Details of Johnson's visit, and whether he will present the special medals or awards to the space twins are not known. The President told the two last Monday he had a "little something" for them.

Afterwards, Johnson is expected to tour the center, including Mission Control from where the Gemini 4 space flight was controlled and monitored.

Officials revealed Thursday that a third sighting of a mysterious object in space was made during a pass over China. McDivitt had reported seeing an object over Hawaii and another over eastern Asia.

A recheck of the 1,400 frames of film taken by McDivitt turned up five of a glob of light with a white tail and a triangular glow above it.

The second object has not been identified. Photographs taken of it were not recognizable, a NASA official said.

Mention of the third object came during the afternoon debriefing of the two Air Force majors.

"Today is my birthday," McDivitt told the crowd welcoming him home Thursday. "I've had a lot of birthdays, I'm not going to tell you how many — but I've never had one like today."

Actually McDivitt's 36th birthday celebration began Wednesday night with a cake-cutting ceremony aboard the aircraft carrier USS Wasp, the ship that recovered the Gemini 4 capsule from the Atlantic.

At the McDivitt home, a few miles south of the Manned Spacecraft Center, he was greeted by a delegation of neighborhood children who shyly presented him a crudely lettered "happy birthday" sign.

McDivitt ate birthday cake at lunch with his wife, Pat; and children, Michael, 8; Ann Lynn, 6, and Patrick, 4, in the privacy of his home. The angel food cake baked by a sister-in-law, Mrs. John Sanders of Beria, Ohio, bore the lettering, "Happy Birthday, by Gemini."

White; his wife, Pat; and children, Eddie, 11, and Bonnie Lynn, 9, paddled about happily in a neighbor's swimming pool. White showed no signs of strain from his 20-minute walk in space June 3.

The space twins started their day at Mayport, Fla., saying farewells to the crew of the Wasp.

They also received the first of many expected awards, a copy of the Florida state seal from Gov. Hayden Burns, as they stepped on firm ground for the first time since the blastoff at Cape Kennedy June 3.

Flags flapped in a breeze and the Navy band played "Happy Birthday to You." After the brief ceremony, the two smiling space heroes boarded a four-engine jet for the 2-hour and 15-minute flight to Ellington AFB.

As the plane rolled to a stop, the astronauts emerged and were engulfed with arms, legs and kisses. McDivitt circled his arms around his three tykes and lifted them to this chest several times.

Announcement was made of committee appointments for 1965-66.

Wright stressed the importance of retaining young people in the county as a source of leaders and skilled workers vital to the area's growth and economy.

He said in the last 10 years more than 13,000 young people have gone elsewhere to live and to work.

The birth-death ratio in the county is favorable — two births to each death — but not enough young people are remaining, he declared.

The role of education also was referred to a chart showing the relationship to education, employment and income within the county.

The need for attracting new industry was re - emphasized, along with a recommendation for a countywide industrial development program and closer ties with industrial groups in the various communities.

Wright pointed out almost 30 per cent of the labor force works outside the county, compared with the 11 per cent average for Ohio.

Industry and the labor force are vital to a county's tax base, he said.

But planning is the prerequisite for development, he stated, and said action must be taken to properly develop the county so industry will want to come here. Establishment of an airport, for example, was termed vital.

Wright also discussed the importance of agriculture, the attractive scenic areas and the

Playground Openings Set For Monday

Plans for the opening of 17 area playgrounds Monday were outlined by Keith H. Dunlevy, director, at the meeting of the East Liverpool Area Recreation Council Thursday night at the high school.

Special activities are scheduled each Tuesday, along with three inter-playground leagues in baseball, softball, volleyball and basketball. The playlots will close Aug. 20.

The leagues will be under three regional supervisors — Dennis Adkins, Frank Melchiorre and Bob Dawson.

Nancy Smith will be in charge of arts and crafts for all of the playlots.

The supervisors and their assignments are:

Margo Owen, LaCroft; Karen Maola, Klondyke; Susan Moore, Emmanuel Church; Beverly Windle, Calcutta; Marjorie Hughey, Glenmoor; Betsy Garner, Pleasant Heights.

Jane McKeever, Westgate; Vicki Heidel, McKinley; Barbara Smith, 2nd St.; Geraldine Bednarzik, Chester Central; Judy Manypenny, Lincoln; Pauline Hoyt, Chester Junior High.

Helen Morris, Chester City Park; Patricia Moore, Chester Grandview; Alice Harrington, Chester Jack Evans; Constance Dunlevy, Newell Jefferson, and Karen Lucas, Newell Clark Field.

The special activities will include:

June 22, races and contests; June 29, pet show; July 6, hiking from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.; July 13, style show; July 20,

Union Files Charges In Crescent Dispute

Peter P. Popovich, international representative of the United Brick and Clay Workers of America, announced today that charges have been flied before the NLRB 6th Region in Pittsburgh against the Crescent Brick Co.

The company is accused of refusing to bargain in good faith, he said.

An announcement Monday by an official of the brick company stated that operations at the plant will be resumed this coming Monday.

About 45 employes of the company were affected by a strike called by the union on Sept. 1 upon expiration of the old contract. Several unsuccessful attempts have been made since to reach a settlement.

State Regulation Backed

Midland Council Expands War Against Air Pollution

Following a report by Councilman Ray Presutti relative to a public hearing conducted by the Pennsylvania Department of Health last week in Butler, Midland Council Thursday night took its strongest action to date in the long battle against air pollution.

The legislators adopted a resolution directed to Region 3 of the Pennsylvania Air Pollution Commission calling for the adoption of proposed Regulation 4 and asking action by the state to help alleviate the situation created by pollution emissions from the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

The action came after an explanation of Regulation 4 by Floree J. Aquino, director of Pollution District 3, who attended the meeting.

He said that Regulation 4, when given final approval, will give the commission the authority to approach an industry, learn what exactly is being done to curtail pollution and require a company to set a specific timetable for projects designed for that purpose.

Aquino said the regulation will "put teeth into demands against various industries to alleviate pollution - producing facilities."

After being assured by the district director that Regulation 4 would be adopted at the commission's August meeting, Council instructed its secretary, Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, to write the commission and request that its October session be conducted in Midland and that representatives of Council and Crucible be invited to attend and discuss the community's air pollution problem.

Council then passed a second resolution calling on the Pennsylvania Association of Boroughs to support Regulation 4 during its convention June 27-30 at Philadelphia. The resolution will be forwarded to the Resolutions Committee of the association.

A series of tests in 1963 showed the concentration of dust particles in Midland to be among the highest in the state of Pennsylvania and approximately 10 times that of the national average.

Council President William Vinovich was named as voting delegate of the Council to the borough association's convention.

Earlier in the session, representatives of the Crucible Police Department appeared before Council and discussed pos-

Raises Listed For New Pact In Chinaware

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters today listed additional details on a new 32-month working agreement it signed Sunday with seven chinaware manufacturers, including 14 cents in hourly pay raises that will be stretched across two years.

The first general boost of 5 cents hourly was effective with the first full pay period after June 1. A 6-cent hike will take effect Aug. 1, 1966, and a 3-cent boost will begin on Aug. 1, 1967.

The union said manufacturers also reaffirmed the 1962 agreement to the effect they will assume the cost of the welfare and insurance plan for single employes.

The agreement covers: The Sterling China Co. and the Wellsville China Co., both of Wellsville, the Walker China Co. at Bedford, the Mayer China Co. in Beaver Falls, the Jackson Vitrified China Co. of Falls Creek, Pa., the Buffalo China Co. in Buffalo, N. Y., and the McNicol China Co. at Clarksburg. The pact runs until Feb. 1, 1968.

The union said its conferees included representatives of the affected local unions: Locals 24, 33, 76, 99, 104 and 108. It was the first time Local 99 was included in the so-called chinaware group. Previously, Local 99 and the McNicol China Co. negotiated a separate contract.

E. K. Koos of Sterling - Wellsville headed the china negotiating committee. The IBOP delegation was headed by E. L. Wheatley, president, Charles F. Jordan, secretary - treasurer, and Frank Dales, Leonard Greco and Clyde Jones, vice presidents.

The Rev. W. H. Flurkey, pastor of the Fairview Presbyterian Church of Pughtown, will officiate. Burial will be in Union Cemetery, Pughtown.

Friends may call at the funeral home any time.

Nine Are Treated At Hospital For Various Injuries

Two men injured at work were among nine district residents treated at City Hospital Thursday.

Jerry Hanley of 921 Pan Ave., Chester, an employe of the T K Roofing Co., suffered two bruised fingers when his left hand became caught under a presser.

Edmund Carr of 324 W. 9th St. received a lacerated finger on a piece of metal while at work for the Schell Heating Co.

John Martin of 704 Diamond St., Wellsville, was treated last night for bruised ribs suffered in a fall while roller skating.

John Buchanan, son of Mrs. David Buchanan of 725 Washington St., Wellsville, received a cut on the forehead in a fall against a lamp.

In a fall from a merry-go-round at a playground, Paul Allison, son of Mrs. Richard Allison of Myler Park, suffered a knee injury.

Rusty Workman, son of Fred Workman of Cream City, Irondale, was treated for a cut finger after it became caught in a gate.

Tracy Lane, son of Mrs. Robert Lane of 1730 Etruria St., cut his foot on glass while playing in the yard at home.

A window fell on the right hand of Paul Heffner, son of Mrs. Robert Heffner of 1130 Harker Ave., causing a chip fracture.

160 In 4-H Enroll In Camp Session Opening Sunday

LISBON — More than 160 4-H members will be taking part in the Columbiana County 4-H Camp next week at Camp Aldersgate on Leesville Lake in Carroll County.

The session will start Sunday for 10 and 11-year-olds. The 12-14-year group will start camping Wednesday.

A study of conservation will be conducted by Dave Schatz, state forester from New Philadelphia. James Kelley, Columbiana County game protector, will demonstrate different caliber rifles.

The 4-H members will have supervised swimming periods under the direction of April Ford of Carrollton, lifeguard for the camp. Many other activities and programs will be packed into the four-day camping periods.

Fourteen older 4-H members will serve as counselors. Twelve adults also will be taking part to provide a well - balanced program for the youngsters, according to Robert Lewis, county extension agent in 4-H work.

Crews Tackle Water Break On North Side

Water service for a North Side area was turned off at 10 this morning as line crews began repair of a 6-inch main that developed a break at 12:30 a.m. on St. Clair Ave. near McKinnon Ave.

Supt. Donald Duke said repairs probably would be completed by 2 p.m. A crack over three feet long developed in the cast iron pipe, requiring replacement of the entire section, he said.

The cutoff affected streets east and west of St. Clair Ave. from North St. to Gardendale with the exception of Highland Colony.

The stretches left temporarily without water were: Orchard Grove Ave. west of St. Clair; McKinnon Ave., Smithfield St., Fairmont St., Brightview Dr., Montgomery Ave., North St., Jennings Ave. between North St. and McKinnon Ave. and St. Clair Ave. between North St. and Orchard Grove Ave.

Because of the heavy drain on the Henry Ave. standpipes water department relayed water into the two storage areas at a capacity pace early today. With one pump operating, the supply did not keep up with the outflow, but with two in operation the water level was maintained adequately, Duke said.

Another break was repaired Thursday in East End. A bulldozer working on property of the American Vitrified Products Co. on Maryland Ave. tore a "gaping hole" in a 6-inch line, Duke said. Repairs were completed yesterday. Only a few customers were affected, Duke said.

Liquor Unit Sets Suspension For City's VFW Post

A 14-day suspension of the liquor permit of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 66 has been ordered by the Ohio Liquor Control Commission as a result of a citation for possession of devices which may be used for gambling.

The suspension for the Blakeley St. post is effective from June 28 to July 12.

The post was cited for possession of punch boards and-or tip tickets Feb. 6. The ruling by the commission states that if the present permit is renewed by the direetor prior to the suspension period, the suspension shall apply to the renewed permit.

In another action, the commission rescinded a suspension ordered for Mary Jean Daniels of 118 5th Ave., Toronto, charged with delinquent payment of sales tax assessment, after payment was made in full.

Four Scientists From Crucible To Air Research

PITTSBURGH — Four Crucible Steel Co. scientists will discuss their research efforts to unravel one of the riddles of steel-making chemistry during the 68th annual meeting of the American Society for Testing and Materials at Purdue University Monday.

They will report on a way to determine the kind and amount of stable oxides, especially those of aluminum and silicon, that are present as damaging inclusions in low and medium alloy steels.

"Our report culminates about four years of work on nonmetallic inclusions by Crucible researchers," said Dr. James P. McKaveney, manager of Crucible's analytical chemistry research section.

"Crucible's pioneering work in the field of vacuum degassing of specialty steels by the D-H process led to our interest in this work because aluminate and silicate inclusions are generally considered to be damaging to such properties as fatigue strength, transverse ductility and notch toughness. We realize that the easier and faster we could determine these undesirable oxid inclusions, the better we could make our steels," he added.

The paper, entitled "Studies on the Determination of Stable Oxide Inclusions in Low and Medium Alloy Steels using a Combination of Electrolytic and Chemical Separations," is coauthored by Dr. McKaveney and three Crucible Steel associates, William J. Raber, George L. Vassilaros and Joseph M. Snook.

Exam Planned July 13 For Water Works Job

The Municipal Civil Service Commission announced today it will conduct an examination Tuesday, July 13, at 8 p. m. in the Council chamber at City Hall to make up an eligiblity list for appointment of an assistant maintenance man in the city water works department.

Setting an age bracket of 21-55, it said applications will be received until Wednesday, June 30, at 4 p. m. The forms must be notarized and accompanied by a $1 fee.

The commission said the applications may be obtained at Mayor Merrill D. Hall's office or from any member of the commission, which is comprised of Donal I. Burcham, chairman, A. A. Fiorello and H. A. Tullis. P. K. Calhoon is clerk.

Tulsa, Okla., Boy Wins U.S. Spelling Title

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michael Kerpan Jr. was listed last on the program and was the last speller to compete in each round of the 38th annual National Spelling Bee.

But today the 12-year-old son of a Tulsa, Okla., police sergeant comes first — he reigns as the champion.

Wearing a large card with a 70 written on it, Michael defeated the 69 other youngsters in two days of competition which ended Thursday when his chief rival — tiny, brown-haired Judy Marie Guarr, 12, of Topeka, Kan., stumbled on the word "larghetto," a musical term. She spelled it without the H.

Michael spelled it correctly and iced his victory by spelling the required extra word, in this case "eczema," a skin rash.

A seventh grader at Saints Peter and Paul School in Tulsa, Michael is an avid reader, a Boy Scout, a coin and stamp collector and the oldest of four children of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kerpan Sr. He has a brother and two sisters.

An excited Mrs. Kerpan said later Michael told her he would win the contest but Michael said he really didn't think he would.

The school Michael attends doesn't give grades to students but Mrs. Kerpan said he has scored in the top one per cent nationally on achievement tests in a variety of subjects.

"He keeps a book in every room in the house," Mrs. Kerpan said. "If he stops to tie his shoe, he picks up a book. If I want to punish him, I just don't let him go to the library."

Michael's sponsor in the contest, the Tulsa Tribune, said the lad studied 100,000 words in preparation for the Oklahoma State Spelling Bee.

First prize was $1,000 in cash, a weekend trip to New York and a visit to the World's Fair.

The contest was sponsored by Scripps- Howard Newspapers in 16 cities and 53 other daily and Sunday newspapers.

Fireworks Removed By 2 Toledo Firms

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Toledo's two largest fireworks distributors, given 24 hours to clear their warehouses, have removed thousands of dollars worth of fireworks, according to the Toledo Fire Prevention Bureau.

The Banner Fireworks Co. and Sunset Fireworks Co. complied with the city order. Action was taken against the firms under the city's new fire prevention code, which enables police to confiscate fireworks in buildings which do not meet safety and fire regulations.

Nine Are Treated At Hospital For Various Injuries

Two men injured at work were among nine district residents treated at City Hospital Thursday.

Jerry Hanley of 921 Pan Ave., Chester, an employe of the T K Roofing Co., suffered two bruised fingers when his left hand became caught under a presser.

Edmund Carr of 324 W. 9th St. received a lacerated finger on a piece of metal while at work for the Schell Heating Co.

John Martin of 704 Diamond St., Wellsville, was treated last night for bruised ribs suffered in a fall while roller skating.

John Buchanan, son of Mrs. David Buchanan of 725 Washington St., Wellsville, received a cut on the forehead in a fall against a lamp.

In a fall from a merry-go-round at a playground, Paul Allison, son of Mrs. Richard Allison of Myler Park, suffered a knee injury.

Rusty Workman, son of Fred Workman of Cream City, Irondale, was treated for a cut finger after it became caught in a gate.

Tracy Lane, son of Mrs. Robert Lane of 1730 Etruria St., cut his foot on glass while playing in the yard at home.

160 In 4-H Enroll In Camp Session Opening Sunday

LISBON — More than 160 4-H members will be taking part in the Columbiana County 4-H Camp next week at Camp Aldersgate on Leesville Lake in Carroll County.

The session will start Sunday for 10 and 11-year-olds. The 12-14-year group will start camping Wednesday.

A study of conservation will be conducted by Dave Schatz, state forester from New Philadelphia. James Kelley, Columbiana County game protector, will demonstrate different caliber rifles.

The 4-H members will have supervised swimming periods under the direction of April Ford of Carrollton, lifeguard for the camp. Many other activities and programs will be packed into the four-day camping periods.

Fourteen older 4-H members will serve as counselors. Twelve adults also will be taking part to provide a well - balanced program for the youngsters, according to Robert Lewis, county extension agent in 4-H work.

Crews Tackle Water Break On North Side

Water service for a North Side area was turned off at 10 this morning as line crews began repair of a 6-inch main that developed a break at 12:30 a.m. on St. Clair Ave. near McKinnon Ave.

Supt. Donald Duke said repairs probably would be completed by 2 p.m. A crack over three feet long developed in the cast iron pipe, requiring replacement of the entire section, he said.

The cutoff affected streets east and west of St. Clair Ave. from North St. to Gardendale with the exception of Highland Colony.

The stretches left temporarily without water were: Orchard Grove Ave. west of St. Clair; McKinnon Ave., Smithfield St., Fairmont St., Brightview Dr., Montgomery Ave., North St., Jennings Ave. between North St. and McKinnon Ave. and St. Clair Ave. between North St. and Orchard Grove Ave.

Because of the heavy drain on the Henry Ave. standpipes water department relayed water into the two storage areas at a capacity pace early today. With one pump operating, the supply did not keep up with the outflow, but with two in operation the water level was maintained adequately, Duke said.

Another break was repaired Thursday in East End. A bulldozer working on property of the American Vitrified Products Co. on Maryland Ave. tore a "gaping hole" in a 6-inch line, Duke said. Repairs were completed yesterday. Only a few customers were affected, Duke said.

Liquor Unit Sets Suspension For City's VFW Post

A 14-day suspension of the liquor permit of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 66 has been ordered by the Ohio Liquor Control Commission as a result of a citation for possession of devices which may be used for gambling.

The suspension for the Blakeley St. post is effective from June 28 to July 12.

The post was cited for possession of punch boards and-or tip tickets Feb. 6. The ruling by the commission states that if the present permit is renewed by the director prior to the suspension period, the suspension shall apply to the renewed permit.

In another action, the commission rescinded a suspension ordered for Mary Jean Daniels of 118 5th Ave., Toronto, charged with delinquent payment of sales tax assessment, after payment was made in full.

Painting Slated For Road Lines

Painting of centerlines for highways in parts of Columbiana County has been scheduled next week by Ohio Highway Department Division 11 traffic crews.

Lines will be painted Monday on Route 7 from Steubenville to East Liverpool and Tuesday on Route 45 from Route 30 to Wellsville and Route 30 from East Liverpool to Lisbon.

On Wednesday, lines will be painted on Route 7, on Route 14 from Pennsylvania to Salem and Route 170 north from East Palestine.

Route 30 from Lisbon to Minerva will be painted Thursday.

Judge Takes Action In Delinquency Case

LISBON — A 22 - year - old Wellsville man and a 17-year-old youth were found guilty of delinquency charges Thursday at a hearing before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin.

Robert McIntosh, 812 Washington St., Wellsville, was found guilty of purchasing intoxicating liquor for the 17-year-old youth. Sentencing was deferred for one week by the court.

The youth was placed in County Jail for one month, must observe a 7 p. m. curfew when released until Oct. 7, and not drive or ride in any car except his parents.

Four Scientists From Crucible To Air Research

PITTSBURGH — Four Crucible Steel Co. scientists will discuss their research efforts to unravel one of the riddles of steel-making chemistry during the 68th annual meeting of the American Society for Testing and Materials at Purdue University Monday.

They will report on a way to determine the kind and amount of stable oxides, especially those of aluminum and silicon, that are present as damaging inclusions in low and medium alloy steels.

"Our report culminates about four years of work on nonmetallic inclusions by Crucible researchers," said Dr. James P. McKaveney, manager of Crucible's analytical chemistry research section.

"Crucible's pioneering work in the field of vacuum degassing of specialty steels by the D-H process led to our interest in this work because aluminate and silicate inclusions are generally considered to be damaging to such properties as fatigue strength, transverse ductility and notch toughness. We realize that the easier and faster we could determine these undesirable oxid inclusions, the better we could make our steels," he added.

The paper, entitled "Studies on the Determination of Stable Oxide Inclusions in Low and Medium Alloy Steels using a Combination of Electrolytic and Chemical Separations," is co-authored by Dr. McKaveney and three Crucible Steel associates, William J. Raber, George L. Vassilaros and Joseph M. Snook.

Exam Planned July 13 For Water Works Job

The Municipal Civil Service Commission announced today it will conduct an examination Tuesday, July 13, at 8 p. m. in the Council chamber at City Hall to make up an eligiblity list for appointment of an assistant maintenance man in the city water works department.

Setting an age bracket of 21-55, it said applications will be received until Wednesday, June 30, at 4 p. m. The forms must be notarized and accompanied by a $1 fee.

The commission said the applications may be obtained at Mayor Merrill D. Hall's office or from any member of the commission, which is comprised of Donal I. Burcham, chairman, A. A. Fiorello and H. A. Tullis. P. K. Calhoon is clerk.

Tulsa, Okla., Boy Wins U.S. Spelling Title

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michael Kerpan Jr. was listed last on the program and was the last speller to compete in each round of the 38th annual National Spelling Bee.

But today the 12-year-old son of a Tulsa, Okla., police sergeant comes first — he reigns as the champion.

Wearing a large card with a 70 written on it, Michael defeated the 69 other youngsters in two days of competition which ended Thursday when his chief rival — tiny, brown-haired Judy Marie Guarr, 12, of Topeka, Kan., stumbled on the word "larghetto," a musical term. She spelled it without the H.

Michael spelled it correctly and iced his victory by spelling the required extra word, in this case "eczema," a skin rash.

A seventh grader at Saints Peter and Paul School in Tulsa, Michael is an avid reader, a Boy Scout, a coin and stamp collector and the oldest of four children of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kerpan Sr. He has a brother and two sisters.

An excited Mrs. Kerpan said later Michael told her he would win the contest but Michael said he really didn't think he would.

The school Michael attends doesn't give grades to students but Mrs. Kerpan said he has scored in the top one per cent nationally on achievement tests in a variety of subjects.

"He keeps a book in every room in the house," Mrs. Kerpan said. "If he stops to tie his shoe, he picks up a book. If I want to punish him, I just don't let him go to the library."

Michael's sponsor in the contest, the Tulsa Tribune, said the lad studied 100,000 words in preparation for the Oklahoma State Spelling Bee.

First prize was $1,000 in cash, a weekend trip to New York and a visit to the World's Fair.

The contest was sponsored by Scripps- Howard Newspapers in 16 cities and 53 other daily and Sunday newspapers.

Fireworks Removed By 2 Toledo Firms

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Toledo's two largest fireworks distributors, given 24 hours to clear their warehouses, have removed thousands of dollars worth of fireworks, according to the Toledo Fire Prevention Bureau.

The Banner Fireworks Co. and Sunset Fireworks Co. complied with the city order. Action was taken against the firms under the city's new fire prevention code, which enables police to confiscate fireworks in buildings which do not meet safety and fire regulations.

We Don't Believe It Either

The tortuous days that are an inescapable part of the life of Mrs. Lucille Potts of Chester since her son's capture by the Viet Cong in 1963 are about to become even more trying.

The Russians have charged that Sgt. George Smith has written an anti-American letter during his captivity.

The whole thing is utterly inconceivable to Mrs. Potts and to Sgt. Smith's stepfather, Thomas Potts. Only through an intense brainwashing or some other insidious form of persuasion can they imagine the sergeant being a part of any action that would be detrimental to the U.S.

Being aware through documented evidence of the Russians' techniques and their ability to use the lie as effective propaganda, it is equally difficult for us—and we're sure we share the feelings of hundreds of others in the vicinity—to accept the charges that emanated from Moscow.

Everything being normal, we're inclined to regard the turncoat label which the Reds are attempting to pin on Sgt. Smith as completely untrue and a fabrication of devilish minds engaged in another attempt to cast an unfavorable light on the American effort in Viet Nam.

For what consolation it may be, Mrs. Potts, we accept without hesitation your statement: "That's not my boy. He couldn't say that and be in his right mind."

One More Reason

The drowning of a Brilliant, Ohio, youngster in an abandoned sand pit brings to mind another of the dangers that go with strip-mined areas which are not properly reclaimed.

In many worked over "stripped" regions, deep pools of water have formed and been turned into unsupervised swimming holes by youngsters always ready to take a dip regardless of the hazards that might be involved.

Under adequate and carefully-planned reclamation programs, many "strip" areas have become safe and enjoyable recreation spots. But where proper regulations have been ignored, just as many unsafe water holes remain.

It's another reason why Sen. Edmund Sargus' battle for a tougher strip mine program should receive the support of the Ohio House. Stiffened regulations would go far toward eliminating many of the dangers and many of the other unfavorable aspects of "stripping" that now remain because of too weak legislation.

Issue In Search Of A Party

It is too early to think about national campaign issues in 1968, almost too early to think about them in the congressional campaigns coming up next year.

But a potential issue in 1966 and 1968 is U.S. involvement in the escalating war in Southeast Asia. The issue is not going to go away. It has arisen because of the new technique for committing the nation to large-scale combat without declaring war. It will stay because the war will be with us for a long time.

Until there has been a declaration of war by Congress, which is the only way it can be done, there will be no self-imposed curbs on discussion of national policy. What has happened and what will continue to happen in Viet Nam will be talked about freely.

U.S. policy in Southeast Asia will be an issue among the people.

The question that will loom larger as the 1966 congressional elections approach is whether the issue will find a party.

In the 1964 national campaign, the Republican standard bearer was advocating what President Johnson now is doing — escalating the military effort in Viet Nam — bombing targets in North Viet Nam — putting on pressure to show the North Vietnamese, the Viet Cong, the Chinese People's Republic and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics that the United States determined to stand its ground in Viet Nam.

It is a matter of election results that this must not have been a popular point of view. The Johnson policy of modified effort and studious avoidance of any move that would involve the United States in a war with Red China won more favor at the polls than Sen. Goldwater's ideas for bringing more force to bear on the Vietnamese and Chinese Communists.

So much for the issue of U.S. policy in Southeast Asia last year.

Where would the issue lie in 1966? How could an issue be closed between the parties with the Johnson administration doing what the Goldwater campaign advocated?

There have been many conjectures about the government by consensus that President Johnson talks about — whether it would be good or bad for the country in the long run.

One immediate effect is visible in the issue of U.S. policy in Southeast Asia.

Government by consensus has destroyed the loyal opposition by moving in beside it. It has nothing to oppose.

Fear Of The Unknown

At a time when it's a relief to think about astronauts and the Gemini 4 flight, instead of some projects that don't seem to be getting off the ground, it's a special comfort to think about what may happen in the future to fear of the unknown in space.

Astronauts McDivitt and White have been doing an especially good job of clearing the air of some notions that had been widely publicized. There is the possibility they could be over-optimistic about their own freedom from adverse physical effects after four days in space, but seemingly none of the dire things that could have happened to them did happen.

They were not bombarded with cosmic dust. Nothing has been said about jagged pieces of meteorites banging into their space craft or into Astronaut White's space suit when he left the craft for 20 minutes.

Both men were as normal when picked up in the South Atlantic as when they left Cape Canaveral. They had no difficulty walking. They were physically fit, with good appetites and still carrying on the banter that revealed how two men exploring space can hold tension at arm's length.

Fear of the unknown . . .

Voyagers of old were going to sail off the end of the earth and be lost forever. The first aviators were going to be addled from all that diving and looping.

Travelers were going to be set upon and slaughtered by savages. Astronauts were going to come back to terra firma with their bodies altered by a strange environment.

Everything that has been feared about astronautics may still be true. The unknown is still the unknown. But if man has learned anything about himself in these thousands of years, it is his adaptability.

Most of the things he is most afraid of never happen. They exist only in his mind, that vast storehouse of fear and misinformation.

Fasten The Lid

By Truman Twill

They're working on an interment capsule to freeze a human body and keep it in suspended life for as long as 100 years.

If this pans out, a man may gamble on fulfilling the wish to come back at some fixed date in the future to see what has happened.

I will settle for 2020.

I want to know how things finally turned out in Southeast Asia and whether we finally made things safe there for democracy after holding the local yokels feet to the fire until they whimpered, "Uncle Sam."

I want to know how Lyndon Johnson's doctrine of progress by consensus turned out, because if it continued to work there was bound to be a revolution in politics, with benevolent despotism replacing the two - party system; benevolent disjointedness.

I want to get the long view on modern art and modern music, with the idea of confirming my hunch that modernists are playing a trick that was half-spoofed to death at the time by a comedian named Danny Kaye with a character called "Noel Talent."

I want to know how people who care professionally for the sick made out with their dazed incredulity over the high cost of their triumph, because their first reaction was to wish for a flashback to horse-and-buggy medical economics.

I want to know what people did with all the time they were hell-bent on saving by flying in airplanes at 2,000 mph.

I want to know what the big brains finally did about the little brains who lacked ability to make signal contributions to life and progress in the tail end of the 20th century and the dawn of the 21st.

I want to know if the theoreticians fighting against planned parenthood finally tumbled to the fact they had lost their battle to the practicians.

I want to know how the white minority of this earth sustained the myth of its superiority after the colored races asserted their numerical superiority, backed up by their ability to take advantage of white men's knowledge, including the white man's evil works.

I want to know who will be fighting whom, as the grammarians say, because in my pre-frozen state I was making mental bets the big war would be between marauding Asians and defending Europeans, which was the way it all began when Genghis Khan felt his Asiatic oats in the 13th century.

There's a catch to this. They're not sure they can thaw you back to life after 100 years. But it's worth the chance. Put me in the freezer, Freddy, and fasten the lid. What do I have to lose?

NASA Seeks To Curb Labor Feuds

By Victor Riesel

Early on Aug. 9 Gemini 5 will blast off for a space rendezvous with destiny — the coupling of two satellites in black nothingness— if there are no intramural strikes, union feuds, or other major stoppages at the Cape and Merritt Island Moonport.

Victor Riesel

If the past is prelude, there will be serious walkouts by thousands of construction workers at a time.

This deeply agitates the National Aeronautics and Space Administration executives. So much so that NASA has assigned one of its chief administrators to survey the missile and space installations and learn what can be done to instill a sense of urgency in the men whose work is vital to the hurling of capsules into space.

Thus far the strikes have not delayed the last minute shooting timetables. But the stoppages have tightened nerves and schedules of thousands of men involved — not to mention the astronauts who go hurtling.

WHAT DISTURBS the NASA brain trust is the grim fact that the "lost time rate" at Cape Kennedy, because of strikes, is ten times that lost at all the other missile and space bases combined!

In the crucial 15 months ending on March 31 — the deadline months preceding the McDivitt-White feat — there were 93 work stoppages at all missile and space sties in the country. Of these 93 walkouts, 56 hit Cape Kennedy (and the Moonport there).

During this stretch of 15 months, 65,144 man-days were lost in the series of stoppages at the Cape.

At all missile bases and space centers there was a total of 13 major stoppages. Of these crippling strikes, 10 hit the Cape Kennedy-Moonport area.

This meant that the vital core of the Gemini shots and final Apollo moon-landing project effort was hit by three times as many major walkouts as all the other bases combined.

OF THESE 10 major instances of tool - laydowns, six strikes affected some $200 million worth of construction and other pendent work. There were many instances when thousands of skilled craftsmen stayed off the grounds because two unions were disputing the jurisdiction over a handful of jobs — sometimes as few as four or five.

A good deal of the time the strikes developed when unions strung up picket lines to protest the subcontracting of work to one of two non-union employers.

Thus the space project was used as a lever against the firms which had no union contract or hiring hall pact.

Once a plumbers local moved a picket line 50 miles and halted work at the vast Cape complex, in order to get at an employer with whom the union was feuding.

Only in 6.7 per cent of the stoppages were collective bargaining disputes involved — that is, bargaining over wages, hours and working conditions. The rest of the stoppages were simply the result of feuds between one force or another.

OFT TIMES unions themselves duelled in the Florida sun.

Behind the scenes some labor officials began hammering away at NASA itself. The agency has been charged with being inexperienced in labor relations, biased against unions, and with attempting to swing non-union firms into the multi-billion dollar operations.

Fact is that with the military "stage" being phased out, NASA finds itself dealing more and more with small subsubcontractors. Because the contracts are getting smaller, more non-union firms are able to obtain them.

NASA attempts to get union contractors whenever it can. But frequently the chain of subcontracting is so long, NASA loses control of the orders for equipment which it must have as quickly as possible.

NASA understands labor's eagerness to have union men on the job. But NASA wants it understood it has to get astronauts on the moon before midnight, Dec. 31, 1969.

SO IT HAS assigned William B. Rieke, deputy associate administrator for industry affairs, who works closely with Dr. George E. Mueller, associate administrator for manned space flight, to probe and to suggest what can be done to rid Cape Kennedy of costly strikes.

. . . And to instill the same sense of urgency among the men on earth as exists among those whose minds are on the stars.

The Red Pages?

Telephone directories have served as code books for spies, references for robbers, hiding places for money and armor plating for trucks.

A woman in West Germany did a brisk business selling stolen Manhattan phone books to Communist agents for $75 each. Spies use a directory as a coding device by designating specific listings as a key.

Money, pressed butterflies, wills, music manuscripts and a letter from Mahatma Gandhi have turned up in old New York telephone books. A Bronx man interlarded a directory with his entire month's salary, then forgetfully exchanged it for a new one. He and his family searched for two days through 55,000 discarded books before finding the right one.

A South Amercian banana plantation bullet - proofed its trucks with old directories. A Little League baseball catcher fashioned a chest protector out of his parents' phone book.

The Little Leaguer would have found scant protection in the first telephone directory, the National Geographic Society says. Issued at New Haven, Conn., in February, 1878, it was a single sheet listing 50 customers served by the world's first telephone exchange.

This first directory carried only names — not one telephone number. Among the pioneer subscribers were a clergyman, three doctors, two dentists, two stables, the "Yale News" and the New Haven Flour Co., which had no less than four phones, one at each of its plants.

Court On Marriages

By David Lawrence

Decision Anticipated On Interracial Bans

Is the Supreme Court of the United States getting ready to ban as unconstitutional the laws in 19 states which forbid interracial marriages? Many lawyers think this is inevitable now in view of the decision rendered this week by the high court declaring that marriage comes under the constitutional "right of privacy" and "freedom of association."

David Lawrence

While the Supreme Court this week declared invalid those state laws which forbid methods of birth control, the language of the various opinions handed down indicates clearly that the court believes state laws cannot interfere with marital relationships even when there is a question of racial intermarriage involved.

It may be that the court's new ruling will even affect divorce laws. If the supreme court holds that the marital relationship is entirely a private affair, there logically cannot be any interference with the right of individuals to choose their mates or to discard them at will.

AGAIN AND AGAIN in the decision just handed down concerning methods of birth control, the Supreme Court reaffirmed principles it has expressed in previous cases. It emphasized, for instance, that the court has protected "freedom to associate and privacy in one's association" and that, in a case decided in 1923, the court had said that the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution gives the individual "not merely freedom from bodily restraint, but also (for example) the right. . . to marry, establish a home and bring up children."

This would seem to support the prediction that, when cases come up to it for consideration soon, the court is likely to invalidate any restrictions which are based on an attempt to prevent interracial marriages.

It's significant, too, that the Supreme Court referred to its own decision in the famous Oregon case when it invalidated a law that had forbidden parents to send their children to parochial schools.

The court in that case declared that such an act "unreasonably interferes with the liberty of parents and guardians to direct the upbringing and education of children under their control."

THE RIGHT of parents to educate their children in schools of their own choosing has, moreover, been affirmed in other cases by the Supreme Court, but this is being questioned today in the courts in states where local authorities are undertaking to tell parents that they do not have the right to choose the public schools which their children may attend and that they cannot enroll them even in public schools in their own neighborhood if the states decide otherwise.

This means that, if parents think a school in a distant neighborhood is infested with crime or is attended by children who frequently cause disturbances in the classroom, the same parents cannot exercise their right to insist that their children be enrolled at the school in the neighborhood in which they actually reside. The majority opinion of the Supreme Court this week said:

"The association of people is not mentioned in the Constitution nor in the Bill of Rights. The right to educate a child in a school of the parents' choice—whether public or private or parochial — is also not mentioned. Nor is the right to study any particular subject or any foreign language. Yet the First Amendment has been construed to include certain of those rights."

IT ALSO MAY turn out that state laws allowing divorce only in certain specific grounds may in time be ruled invalid. While in some states desertion or "mental cruelty" or other causes are specifically mentioned, there are very few states which grant the right to be divorced, for instance, on the ground of mere incompatablity of the husband or the wife.

This week's Supreme Court decision broadly asserts that the states do not have any fundamental right to interfere with the marriage relationship. From this it will sooner or later be inferred that the states have no right to stipulate the grounds for a divorce or to refuse to recognize certain divorces granted outside their boundaries.

Nearly all of the four opinions concurring as a majority in the ruling on the birth-control case and also that of the dissenting justices stress the point that the marriage relationship is a private affair.

"Marriage," says the Supreme Court, "is a coming together for better or for worse, hopefully enduring, and intimate to the degree of being sacred." The court adds that it "promotes a way of life," and reiterates that the whole relationship lies "within the zone of privacy created by several fundamental constitutional guarantees."

Switch Time

By James Marlow

This is switch time in American history when the President and the Supreme Court wear the big shoulders and the usually cantankerous Congress trots meekly behind President Johnson.

It wasn't always like this, may not be like this for long as Johnson gets deeper into his four-year term, deeper into the Vietnamese war, deeper into what he calls the "Great Society."

His November landslide victory, carrying his Democrats into crushing control of Congress, got him off to a good start unmatched since President Franklin D. Roosevelt's first term.

Technician Johnson has cajoled and cornered members of House and Senate into shouting "amen" to his programs. But this is an unnatural condition for President and Congress. The natural condition is tooth and claw.

This Supreme Court under Chief Justice Earl Warren, strongest and most alive since the first 35 years of the 19th century when the captain was Chief Justice John Marshall, plunges in where Congress fears to tread.

In sweeping thrusts, one after the other, it has given motion to civil rights, new meaning to separation of church and state with its bans on compulsory school prayers, new protections to individuals, new political equality for voters with its rulings on reapportionment.

In the truest sense it is a contemporary tribunal, in contrast with the court which barricaded Roosevelt's first four years.

It was in Roosevelt's first four years that Congress was even more submissive than it has been with Johnson. Confronted with depression disaster, it practically abdicated and gave Roosevelt a blank check.

Gradually after 1937, when the country began to regain some self-assurance, Roosevelt's relations with Congress soured until the war. But all his troubles weren't a patch on President Truman's.

From 1947 until 1949 Truman had to cope with what he called the "80th do-nothing" Republican Congress. Two Republicans in particular, Sens. Robert A. Taft and Joseph R. McCarthy, made Truman's life and administration an obstacle race.

This was while he tried to steer the country, and that part of the world which depended upon it, into the last half of the 20th century. As a climax, plastered with criticism, he had to fight the Korean War.

President Eisenhower had it better but for reasons he didn't and couldn't control, his Republicans had a majority in Congress in only the first two of his eight years. After that the Democrats ran Congress.

They weren't submissive, they were cooperative up to a point, particularly in the Senate bossed by Lyndon B. Johnson. Therefore Eisenhower, because of this Democratic control, was never able to run Congress like a big daddy.

Congress pretty much ran with him. And no wonder. For one thing, it would have been bad politics to claw or mangle a popular hero like Eisenhower.

President Kennedy had no such luck. He won the presidency with a Democratic Congress which barely outnumbered the Republicans. He was endlessly frustrated. But then he never fought for his programs as Johnson does.

Now there is the era of good feelings, even if temporary.

We Don't Believe It Either

The tortuous days that are an inescapable part of the life of Mrs. Lucille Potts of Chester since her son's capture by the Viet Cong in 1963 are about to become even more trying.

The Russians have charged that Sgt. George Smith has written an anti-American letter during his captivity.

The whole thing is utterly inconceivable to Mrs. Potts and to Sgt. Smith's stepfather, Thomas Potts. Only through an intense brainwashing or some other insidious form of persuasion can they imagine the sergeant being a part of any action that would be detrimental to the U.S.

Being aware through documented evidence of the Russians' techniques and their ability to use the lie as effective propaganda, it is equally difficult for us—and we're sure we share the feelings of hundreds of others in the vicinity—to accept the charges that emanated from Moscow.

Everything being normal, we're inclined to regard the turncoat label which the Reds are attempting to pin on Sgt. Smith as completely untrue and a fabrication of devilish minds engaged in another attempt to cast an unfavorable light on the American effort in Viet Nam.

For what consolation it may be, Mrs. Potts, we accept without hesitation your statement: "That's not my boy. He couldn't say that and be in his right mind."

One More Reason

The drowning of a Brilliant, Ohio, youngster in an abandoned sand pit brings to mind another of the dangers that go with strip-mined areas which are not properly reclaimed.

In many worked over "stripped" regions, deep pools of water have formed and been turned into unsupervised swimming holes by youngsters always ready to take a dip regardless of the hazards that might be involved.

Under adequate and carefully-planned reclamation programs, many "strip" areas have become safe and enjoyable recreation spots. But where proper regulations have been ignored, just as many unsafe water holes remain.

It's another reason why Sen. Edmund Sargus' battle for a tougher strip mine program should receive the support of the Ohio House. Stiffened regulations would go far toward eliminating many of the dangers and many of the other unfavorable aspects of "stripping" that now remain because of too weak legislation.

Issue In Search Of A Party

It is too early to think about national campaign issues in 1968, almost too early to think about them in the congressional campaigns coming up next year.

But a potential issue in 1966 and 1968 is U.S. involvement in the escalating war in Southeast Asia. The issue is not going to go away. It has arisen because of the new technique for committing the nation to large-scale combat without declaring war. It will stay because the war will be with us for a long time.

Until there has been a declaration of war by Congress, which is the only way it can be done, there will be no self-imposed curbs on discussion of national policy. What has happened and what will continue to happen in Viet Nam will be talked about freely.

U.S. policy in Southeast Asia will be an issue among the people.

The question that will loom larger as the 1966 congressional elections approach is whether the issue will find a party.

In the 1964 national campaign, the Republican standard bearer was advocating what President Johnson now is doing — escalating the military effort in Viet Nam — bombing targets in North Viet Nam — putting on pressure to show the North Vietnamese, the Viet Cong, the Chinese People's Republic and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics that the United States determined to stand its ground in Viet Nam.

It is a matter of election results that this must not have been a popular point of view. The Johnson policy of modified effort and studious avoidance of any move that would involve the United States in a war with Red China won more favor at the polls than Sen. Goldwater's ideas for bringing more force to bear on the Vietnamese and Chinese Communists.

So much for the issue of U.S. policy in Southeast Asia last year.

Where would the issue lie in 1966? How could an issue be closed between the parties with the Johnson administration doing what the Goldwater campaign advocated?

There have been many conjectures about the government by consensus that President Johnson talks about — whether it would be good or bad for the country in the long run.

One immediate effect is visible in the issue of U.S. policy in Southeast Asia.

Government by consensus has destroyed the loyal opposition by moving in beside it. It has nothing to oppose.

Fear Of The Unknown

At a time when it's a relief to think about astronauts and the Gemini 4 flight, instead of some projects that don't seem to be getting off the ground, it's a special comfort to think about what may happen in the future to fear of the unknown in space.

Astronauts McDivitt and White have been doing an especially good job of clearing the air of some notions that had been widely publicized. There is the possibility they could be over-optimistic about their own freedom from adverse physical effects after four days in space, but seemingly none of the dire things that could have happened to them did happen.

They were not bombarded with cosmic dust. Nothing has been said about jagged pieces of meteorites banging into their space craft or into Astronaut White's space suit when he left the craft for 20 minutes.

Both men were as normal when picked up in the South Atlantic as when they left Cape Canaveral. They had no difficulty walking. They were physically fit, with good appetites and still carrying on the banter that revealed how two men exploring space can hold tension at arm's length.

Fear of the unknown . . .

Voyagers of old were going to sail off the end of the earth and be lost forever. The first aviators were going to be addled from all that diving and looping.

Travelers were going to be set upon and slaughtered by savages. Astronauts were going to come back to terra firma with their bodies altered by a strange environment.

Everything that has been feared about astronautics may still be true. The unknown is still the unknown. But if man has learned anything about himself in these thousands of years, it is his adaptability.

Most of the things he is most afraid of never happen. They exist only in his mind, that vast storehouse of fear and misinformation.

Fasten The Lid

By Truman Twill

They're working on an interment capsule to freeze a human body and keep it in suspended life for as long as 100 years.

If this pans out, a man may gamble on fulfilling the wish to come back at some fixed date in the future to see what has happened.

I will settle for 2020.

I want to know how things finally turned out in Southeast Asia and whether we finally made things safe there for democracy after holding the local yokels feet to the fire until they whimpered, "Uncle Sam."

I want to know how Lyndon Johnson's doctrine of progress by consensus turned out, because if it continued to work there was bound to be a revolution in politics, with benevolent despotism replacing the two - party system; benevolent disjointedness.

I want to get the long view on modern art and modern music, with the idea of confirming my hunch that modernists are playing a trick that was half-spoofed to death at the time by a comedian named Danny Kaye with a character called "Noel Talent."

I want to know how people who care professionally for the sick made out with their dazed incredulity over the high cost of their triumph, because their first reaction was to wish for a flashback to horse-and-buggy medical economics.

I want to know what people did with all the time they were hell-bent on saving by flying in airplanes at 2,000 mph.

I want to know what the big brains finally did about the little brains who lacked ability to make signal contributions to life and progress in the tail end of the 20th century and the dawn of the 21st.

I want to know if the theoreticians fighting against planned parenthood finally tumbled to the fact they had lost their battle to the practicians.

I want to know how the white minority of this earth sustained the myth of its superiority after the colored races asserted their numerical superiority, backed up by their ability to take advantage of white men's knowledge, including the white man's evil works.

I want to know who will be fighting whom, as the grammarians say, because in my pre-frozen state I was making mental bets the big war would be between marauding Asians and defending Europeans, which was the way it all began when Genghis Khan felt his Asiatic oats in the 13th century.

There's a catch to this. They're not sure they can thaw you back to life after 100 years. But it's worth the chance. Put me in the freezer, Freddy, and fasten the lid. What do I have to lose?

The roots of a plant quite often are longer than the plants themselves. For example, a lima-bean plant 19 inches tall may have underground roots at least five feet in length.

The longest Book in the Bible is Psalms, the longest prose Book is Isaiah with 66 chapters and the shortest Book is the Second Epistle of John with 13 verses.

NASA Seeks To Curb Labor Feuds

By Victor Riesel

Early on Aug. 9 Gemini 5 will blast off for a space rendezvous with destiny — the coupling of two satellites in black nothingness— if there are no intramural strikes, union feuds, or other major stoppages at the Cape and Merritt Island Moonport.

Victor Riesel

If the past is prelude, there will be serious walkouts by thousands of construction workers at a time.

This deeply agitates the National Aeronautics and Space Administration executives. So much so that NASA has assigned one of its chief administrators to survey the missile and space installations and learn what can be done to instill a sense of urgency in the men whose work is vital to the hurling of capsules into space.

Thus far the strikes have not delayed the last minute shooting timetables. But the stoppages have tightened nerves and schedules of thousands of men involved — not to mention the astronauts who go hurtling.

WHAT DISTURBS the NASA brain trust is the grim fact that the "lost time rate" at Cape Kennedy, because of strikes, is ten times that lost at all the other missile and space bases combined!

In the crucial 15 months ending on March 31 — the deadline months preceding the McDivitt-White feat — there were 93 work stoppages at all missile and space sties in the country. Of these 93 walkouts, 56 hit Cape Kennedy (and the Moonport there).

During this stretch of 15 months, 65,144 man-days were lost in the series of stoppages at the Cape.

At all missile bases and space centers there was a total of 13 major stoppages. Of these crippling strikes, 10 hit the Cape Kennedy-Moonport area.

This meant that the vital core of the Gemini shots and final Apollo moon-landing project effort was hit by three times as many major walkouts as all the other bases combined.

OF THESE 10 major instances of tool - laydowns, six strikes affected some $200 million worth of construction and other pendent work. There were many instances when thousands of skilled craftsmen stayed off the grounds because two unions were disputing the jurisdiction over a handful of jobs — sometimes as few as four or five.

A good deal of the time the strikes developed when unions strung up picket lines to protest the subcontracting of work to one of two non-union employers.

Thus the space project was used as a lever against the firms which had no union contract or hiring hall pact.

Only in 6.7 per cent of the stoppages were collective bargaining disputes involved — that is, bargaining over wages, hours and working conditions. The rest of the stoppages were simply the result of feuds between one force or another.

OFT TIMES unions themselves duelled in the Florida sun.

Behind the scenes some labor officials began hammering away at NASA itself. The agency has been charged with being inexperienced in labor relations, biased against unions, and with attempting to swing non-union firms into the multi-billion dollar operations.

Fact is that with the military "stage" being phased out, NASA finds itself dealing more and more with small sub-subcontractors. Because the contracts are getting smaller, more non-union firms are able to obtain them.

NASA attempts to get union contractors whenever it can. But frequently the chain of subcontracting is so long, NASA loses control of the orders for equipment which it must have as quickly as possible.

NASA understands labor's eagerness to have union men on the job. But NASA wants it understood it has to get astronauts on the moon before midnight, Dec. 31, 1969.

SO IT HAS assigned William B. Rieke, deputy associate administrator for industry affairs, who works closely with Dr. George E. Mueller, associate administrator for manned space flight, to probe and to suggest what can be done to rid Cape Kennedy of costly strikes.

. . . And to instill the same sense of urgency among the men on earth as exists among those whose minds are on the stars.

Down Through The Years

TEN YEARS AGO — Mr. and Mrs. William H. Gill and Mrs. William Dean Laughlin and nephew, John S. Laughlin, all of the Georgetown area, concluded a month's vacation in California and other western states.

Midland Council awarded a contract for purchase of a new pickup truck to replace the 1949 model used by the street department.

The Red Pages?

Telephone directories have served as code books for spies, references for robbers, hiding places for money and armor plating for trucks.

A woman in West Germany did a brisk business selling stolen Manhattan phone books to Communist agents for $75 each. Spies use a directory as a coding device by designating specific listings as a key.

Money, pressed butterflies, wills, music manuscripts and a letter from Mahatma Gandhi have turned up in old New York telephone books. A Bronx man interlarded a directory with his entire month's salary, then forgetfully exchanged it for a new one. He and his family searched for two days through 55,000 discarded books before finding the right one.

A South Amercian banana plantation bullet - proofed its trucks with old directories. A Little League baseball catcher fashioned a chest protector out of his parents' phone book.

The Little Leaguer would have found scant protection in the first telephone directory, the National Geographic Society says. Issued at New Haven, Conn., in February, 1878, it was a single sheet listing 50 customers served by the world's first telephone exchange.

This first directory carried only names — not one telephone number. Among the pioneer subscribers were a clergyman, three doctors, two dentists, two stables, the "Yale News" and the New Haven Flour Co., which had no less than four phones, one at each of its plants.

Court On Marriages

By David Lawrence

Decision Anticipated On Interracial Bans

Is the Supreme Court of the United States getting ready to ban as unconstitutional the laws in 19 states which forbid interracial marriages? Many lawyers think this is inevitable now in view of the decision rendered this week by the high court declaring that marriage comes under the constitutional "right of privacy" and "freedom of association."

David Lawrence

While the Supreme Court this week declared invalid those state laws which forbid methods of birth control, the language of the various opinions handed down indicates clearly that the court believes state laws cannot interfere with marital relationships even when there is a question of racial intermarriage involved.

It may be that the court's new ruling will even affect divorce laws. If the supreme court holds that the marital relationship is entirely a private affair, there logically cannot be any interference with the right of individuals to choose their mates or to discard them at will.

AGAIN AND AGAIN in the decision just handed down concerning methods of birth control, the Supreme Court reaffirmed principles it has expressed in previous cases. It emphasized, for instance, that the court has protected "freedom to associate and privacy in one's association" and that, in a case decided in 1923, the court had said that the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution gives the individual "not merely freedom from bodily restraint, but also (for example) the right. . . to marry, establish a home and bring up children."

This would seem to support the prediction that, when cases come up to it for consideration soon, the court is likely to invalidate any restrictions which are based on an attempt to prevent interracial marriages.

It's significant, too, that the Supreme Court referred to its own decision in the famous Oregon case when it invalidated a law that had forbidden parents to send their children to parochial schools.

The court in that case declared that such an act "unreasonably interferes with the liberty of parents and guardians to direct the upbringing and education of children under their control."

THE RIGHT of parents to educate their children in schools of their own choosing has, moreover, been affirmed in other cases by the Supreme Court, but this is being questioned today in the courts in states where local authorities are undertaking to tell parents that they do not have the right to choose the public schools which their children may attend and that they cannot enroll them even in public schools in their own neighborhood if the states decide otherwise.

This means that, if parents think a school in a distant neighborhood is infested with crime or is attended by children who frequently cause disturbances in the classroom, the same parents cannot exercise their right to insist that their children be enrolled at the school in the neighborhood in which they actually reside. The majority opinion of the Supreme Court this week said:

"The association of people is not mentioned in the Constitution nor in the Bill of Rights. The right to educate a child in a school of the parents' choice—whether public or private or parochial — is also not mentioned. Nor is the right to study any particular subject or any foreign language. Yet the First Amendment has been construed to include certain of those rights."

IT ALSO MAY turn out that state laws allowing divorce only in certain specific grounds may in time be ruled invalid. While in some states desertion or "mental cruelty" or other causes are specifically mentioned, there are very few states which grant the right to be divorced, for instance, on the ground of mere incompatablity of the husband or the wife.

This week's Supreme Court decision broadly asserts that the states do not have any fundamental right to interfere with the marriage relationship. From this it will sooner or later be inferred that the states have no right to stipulate the grounds for a divorce or to refuse to recognize certain divorces granted outside their boundaries.

Nearly all of the four opinions concurring as a majority in the ruling on the birth-control case and also that of the dissenting justices stress the point that the marriage relationship is a private affair.

"Marriage," says the Supreme Court, "is a coming together for better or for worse, hopefully enduring, and intimate to the degree of being sacred." The court adds that it "promotes a way of life," and reiterates that the whole relationship lies "within the zone of privacy created by several fundamental constitutional guarantees."

Slag Purchases Are Authorized

LISBON — The Columbiana County commissioners purchased 1,510 tons of No. 4 and 455 tons of No. 5 slag Thursday at their regular meeting.

The Acme Coal Co. of Youngstown was low bidder at $2.90 per ton for No. 4 and $3.10 for No. 6. The other bidder was Standard Slag of Youngstown, $3 for No. 4 and $3.20 for No. 6.

The commissioners also approved the purchase of two air-conditioners for the engineer's office in the Courthouse at an estimated $500.

Russell Reichenbach of North Georgetown, county dog warden, was awarded a $75 travel allowance to attend a summer conference of Ohio dog wardens in Cleveland June 14-16.

Mrs. Theda Thornton, tuberculosis nurse, was allowed a $10 travel allowance to go to Molly Stark Sanitarium to visit a county patient.

The commissioners also purchased a new typewriter for Probate Court at a cost of $444.

One new patient was approved for entrance to the Ohio Tuberculosis Hospital in Columbus.

The commissioners' next regular meeting will be Monday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Plans Are Completed For Grange Festival

Officer Cites East End Man On 2 Charges

Two charges were filed against a 22-year-old East End man as an aftermath of an alleged hit-skip crash involving a parked car Thursday at 1:37 p. m. in the 1100 block of Pennsylvania Ave., police reported.

William C. Dorsey, 515 Virginia Ave., was cited by Patrolman William A. Devon on charges of leaving the scene of an accident and operating a car without a driver's license following the incident that damaged a 1957 two-door sedan owned by C. Glenn McGaffic, 817 Orchard Grove Ave., officers said.

Devon said Dorsey was located after the crash and admitted he was the driver of the auto which hit the McGaffic car. The patrolman said Dorsey related he fell asleep, causing his car to veer and hit the parked auto.

Dorsey admitted that he did not stop after the collision, the patrolman said. Dorsey said he parked his car on a dead-end section of Locust St. and then telephoned police headquarters and reported it stolen, officers said.

The mishap damaged the right front fender, bumper and grill of Dorsey's 1960 two-door sedan and the left rear fender and bumper and the left side of the McGaffic auto.

Patrolmen Devon and Paul A. Burson Jr. related details of the investigation when Dorsey was arraigned today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

The officers said two witnesses to the collision furnished a description of the hit-skip car and one identified the driver. Dorsey had been drinking, but not heavily, Devon said.

Pleading guilty to both charges, Dorsey blamed "panic" for his failure to stop. Commenting that he "has a good reputation, comes from a good family and has no prior record," the judge fined Dorsey $25 and costs and gave him a suspended 10-day jail term on the hit-skip charge.

The charge of driving without an operator's permit was continued until next Thursday to allow Dorsey time to obtain a replacement for his expired license.

Meanwhile, a belated report was filed on a minor mishap Wednesday at 3 p.m. on W. 5th St. at Persimmon Alley that damaged a crossing gate at St. Aloysius School.

Police said the gate was bumped by a 1953 sedan operated by Leona Millward, 29, of 1803 Harvey Ave., who was driving south in Persimmon Alley and turning onto W. 5th.

Patrolman Charles Winters said the woman related she intended to cross W. 5th St. and proceed south on Perisimmon, but she saw a car parked in the alley. When she made a sharp right turn onto W. 5th St., the auto damaged the crossing gate, he said.

Suspended Sentence Given To Two Youths

LISBON — Two 15-year-old East Liverpool youths were given suspended sentences Thursday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for auto larceny.

They were placed in the temporary custody of relatives, were instructed not to go anywhere unless accompanied by relatives and were told to stay out of East Liverpool and "be of general good behavior."

H. James Allison, president, presided.

Youth In Auto Case Penalized By Court

LISBON — A 17 - year -old youth of Beloit R.D. 2 was given a suspended sentence Thursday to the Ohio Youth Commission, received two weeks detention in the County Jail and then will be placed on probation to his parents for operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

He was placed on 7 p.m. curfew for four months, must pay $92.50 damages to the car stolen, report to the probation officer each week and not to associate with another youth involved in the case.

The grange will begin serving for the festival at 4:30 p. m.

Mrs. Viola Harrold, lecturer presented, "What the Grange Means To Me" and gave a reading, as did Mrs. Gladys Wilhelm. Group singing also was enjoyed.

The next meeting will be June 23 at 8:30 p. m. at the grange hall.

Officer Cites East End Man On 2 Charges

Two charges were filed against a 22-year-old East End man as an aftermath of an alleged hit-skip crash involving a parked car Thursday at 1:37 p. m. in the 1100 block of Pennsylvania Ave., police reported.

William C. Dorsey, 515 Virginia Ave., was cited by Patrolman William A. Devon on charges of leaving the scene of an accident and operating a car without a driver's license following the incident that damaged a 1957 two-door sedan owned by C. Glenn McGaffic, 817 Orchard Grove Ave., officers said.

Devon said Dorsey was located after the crash and admitted he was the driver of the auto which hit the McGaffic car. The patrolman said Dorsey related he fell asleep, causing his car to veer and hit the parked auto.

Dorsey admitted that he did not stop after the collision, the patrolman said. Dorsey said he parked his car on a dead-end section of Locust St. and then telephoned police headquarters and reported it stolen, officers said.

The mishap damaged the right front fender, bumper and grill of Dorsey's 1960 two-door sedan and the left rear fender and bumper and the left side of the McGaffic auto.

Patrolmen Devon and Paul A. Burson Jr. related details of the investigation when Dorsey was arraigned today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

The officers said two witnesses to the collision furnished a description of the hit-skip car and one identified the driver. Dorsey had been drinking, but not heavily, Devon said.

Pleading guilty to both charges, Dorsey blamed "panic" for his failure to stop. Commenting that he "has a good reputation, comes from a good family and has no prior record," the judge fined Dorsey $25 and costs and gave him a suspended 10-day jail term on the hit-skip charge.

The charge of driving without an operator's permit was continued until next Thursday to allow Dorsey time to obtain a replacement for his expired license.

Meanwhile, a belated report was filed on a minor mishap Wednesday at 3 p.m. on W. 5th St. at Persimmon Alley that damaged a crossing gate at St. Aloysius School.

Police said the gate was bumped by a 1953 sedan operated by Leona Millward, 29, of 1803 Harvey Ave., who was driving south in Persimmon Alley and turning onto W. 5th.

Patrolman Charles Winters said the woman related she intended to cross W. 5th St. and proceed south on Perisimmon, but she saw a car parked in the alley. When she made a sharp right turn onto W. 5th St., the auto damaged the crossing gate, he said.

Suspended Sentence Given To Two Youths

LISBON — Two 15-year-old East Liverpool youths were given suspended sentences Thursday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for auto larceny.

They were placed in the temporary custody of relatives, were instructed not to go anywhere unless accompanied by relatives and were told to stay out of East Liverpool and "be of general good behavior."

Wagner Decision Ignites Scramble For Mayor Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner's decision not to seek a fourth term touched off a scramble for the Democratic mayoral nomination today and promised to have national political repercussions in both parties.

The decision Thursday, which the three-term mayor said was based on family considerations, could produce some political pressure on the national level for the selection and financing of a powerful Democratic opponent to Republican Rep. John V. Lindsay in the Nov. 2 election.

Lindsay, 43, a proven vote getter in this nation's largest city where registered Democrats outnumber Republicans by more than 3-to-1, has been mentioned as potential presidential material. A victory in the mayoral race would boost both him and the GOP. President Johnson reportedly is anxious to see him defeated.

A new name cropped up on the Democratic side shortly after Wagner made his announcement. In Washington, Harlem Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., boosted Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., son of the late president, for the nomination. Roosevelt, 50, recently switched by President Johnson from undersecretary of commerce to chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, said he had received telephone calls from public officials and "important Democrats." He declined to identify them.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who now appears on his way to uncontested control of the Democratic party in New York with the withdrawal of Wagner, said the fate of the party in the city depends "on how well we do in selecting a candidate."

Kennedy said Roosevelt is "one of a number of possible candidates." He declined to name any others.

A Democratic primary battle appeared almost certain with at least three factions fighting for control. They include Wagner's proteges; Kennedy's backers and elements of the reform movement.

The primary election will be held Sept. 14, and three or four rival slates could shape up by then.

On the Republican side, Wagner's withdrawal meant that campaign strategy likely would have to be re-evaluated.

Lindsay said: "He (Wagner) will always remain a great New Yorker and he will have the gratitude of the people of New York. But the people of our city also feel that New York needs a change. They feel that the complacent arteries of our city administration are badly in need of a transfusion.

"The target has never been Bob Wagner. My campaign will be a fusion campaign to give the city a new life."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said in Milwaukee Wagner's decision probably would lead to "a real donnybrook," but that Lindsay's chances, as a fusion candidate, have improved 25 per cent.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said, however, that he did not think Wagner's decision would have any major effect on Lindsay's campaign.

"Whoever comes in will be someone who is identified with the Democratic administration," said Rockefeller.

Quick Young Banker Foils Robbery Try

GRAND SALINE, Tex. (AP) — A quick young banker soundly whipped a husky, gun-waving ex-convict Thursday during an attempt to rob Grand Saline's First National Bank. One wild shot was fired.

"When I heard the gun drop to the floor," said W. L. Garland III, "I was able to hit him. I hit him several times. I really got in one good one. It took the hide off his nose."

It also put William Pippin, 33, whose police record dates to 1955 in Rawlings, Wyo., back behind bars.

Garland, 28, held Pippin until police arrived at this East Texas salt mining town's only bank, and the downcast gunman said: "Well, fel-ows, I'm sorry — but it's all over now."

With drawn pistol, Pippin shoved past Garland, a vice president of the bank, at a side door after closing time.

Also present were W. L. Garland Jr., president of the bank and father of the young executive; four women employes and three tellers. Directors of the bank were due to meet shortly.

"I don't see how the shot missed all of us," said the elder Garland.

His son had answered a knock and cracked the door to hear Pippin inquire if the bank held a telegraphed money order for him. The younger Garland turned to relay the question to a teller and the intruder crowded inside.

"That gun looked like it might weigh 25 pounds," the vice president related. "But I caught his gun arm, we wrestled around and the gun went off."

As they struggled for the weapon, a man named by officers as an accomplice of Pippin fled in a white station wagon. He was arrested later near Dallas, where Sheriff Bill Decker identified him as Richard Rusk, 24, a parolee.

Decker said a young woman was with Rusk and their car contained a collection of pistols, shotguns, rifles and ammunition.

Pippin was charged with attempted bank robbery and lodged in the Van Zandt County jail at neighboring Canton.

Sheriff B.W. Ward reached Canton early today with Rusk and the young woman, identified by officers as Rusk's wife. Ward said complaints naming both would be filed.

Measure Calls For Fines

Ohio Bill Cracks Down On 'Glue Sniffing' Fad

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Youths and others who take to the fad of "glue sniffing" would be confronted with the law under a proposal before the Ohio Legislature.

Sen. Robert C. Blackburn, D-Montgomery, introduced a bill Thursday that would crack down on persons who inhale glue and other solutions "for excitement or intoxication."

He said his measure would impose a fine of $25 to $100 for the first offense. Two-time violators could be fined $100-$500 and each subsequent offense could bring a $1,000 fine and one-year prison term.

Blackburn offered the proposal at busy week-ending sessions at which lawmakers voted to boost the strength of the State Highway Patrol and give storekeepers a better chance of catching shoplifters.

Rep. Terry E. Drake, R-Crawford, led the Highway Patrol bill to House passage although it was greatly weakened from his original proposal which would have boosted patrol strength by 200 men.

Under the measure which now goes to the Senate, 25 patrolmen would be added next year and 25 in 1967 to bring patrol strength to 850. It also lowers from 35 to 30 the maximum age for recruits and cuts the patrol's residency requirement from five years to one.

The shoplifters bill would permit merchants to retain suspects anywhere in the store without search until the arrival of police. Present law allows this only after the suspected thief has passed the check-out counter.

Senators gave 26-1 appproval to an emergency act sponsors said would prevent delay of personal property tax collections pending settlement of a suit challenging variations between real estate and personal property assessments.

The bill by Sen. Charles H. Jones, R-Butler, would require payment of personal property taxes before the June 30 deadline and provide for adjustment of disputed claims at a later date.

Jones said defeat of the measure could delay $90-$135 million in payments earmarked primarily for schools and local governments. He explained that present law permits taxpayers to withhold payments when claims and assessments are disputed.

Procedures for removal of judges would be spelled out under another Senate - passed bill. It permits the Ohio Supreme Court to name a five-judge commission which could suspend, retire, or remove judges from office.

The measure reserves the right of apppeal to the Supreme Court, Sen. Frazier Reams, D-Lucas said, adding that the proposal has the backing of the Ohio State Bar Association.

Senate approval completed legislative action on two House measures. They would give non-teaching school employes six paid holidays a year and add "refinements" to a two-year-old statute requiring registration of auctioneers and their apprentices.

Permitholder At Palestine May Win Plea

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Judge John P. Case, chief counsel and hearing examiner for the Ohio Department of Liquor Control, says he probably will recommend that East Palestine City Council's objection to a beer and wine carryout permit for Mrs. Nancy Flowers be overruled.

He said he expects to take this action since Council had no representative at a hearing on the objection Thursday—a violation of state statutes covering such challenges.

Judge Case, who formerly sat on the common pleas bench in Fayette County, said the statute requires a member of the objecting group to be present to testify in support of any written complaints.

East Palestine City Council objected to the permit for Mrs. Flowers, a beauty operator, because of a large number of misdemeanor convictions of her husband, Eugene Flowers. Judge Case said records submitted by Council showed at least eight convictions for Flowers since 1958.

Flowers testified that he once had a drinking problem, but said that in the 13 months since he has been married to his present wife, he had kept it under control.

Work Discussed On Gaston's Mill

LISBON — The Columbiana County Historical Society reviewed progress on equipment being prepared for Gaston's Mill when it met Wednesday night here, with 15 members present.

Robert Kelm of Lisbon presided.

It was reported that trees have been cut and moved and now are being processed along with other necessary equipment to make the mill operative by water power.

It was announced E. W. Garber of Perrysville will donate several items for the museum at the mill in the near future.

Walter Kimes, a member of the new Western Columbiana County Historical Society, was a visitor at last night's meeting and reported on the progress of the club. It has purchased the old Presbyterian Church in Homeworth and will turn it into a museum.

The society's next regular meeting will be July 14 at 8 p. m.

The largest city in the world which is not situated next to water — sea, lake, or river—is Mexico City, Mexico, with a population of close to three million.

Senior Citizens Here Plan Playhouse Visit

Plans were made to attend a performance at the Packard Playhouse in Warren at a meeting of the Senior City Citizens Group Thursday afternoon at the Parish Hall of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church. Jack Barrett, president, conducted business.

Mrs. Eunice Hogenfield and Rudy Halpate reported on the current rummage sale at the Halpate Building in East End.

The Rev. John L. Clark, minister of the First Methodist Church, spoke briefly and invited the members to attend morning worship at his church June 20.

A moment of silent prayer was held for the late Mrs. Minnie Lang, a member, and the chorus sang, "Nearer My God To Thee."

A square dance will highlight next Thursday's meeting.

Goal Of $864,490 Set In Beaver County Fund

A goal of $864,490 has been set for this fall's United Funds of Beaver County's "Torch Drive," Oct. 3-Nov. 5, according to Myron J. Demeter, campaign chairman.

The figure was reached Wednesday during a Board of Directors meeting at the Penn-Beaver Hotel, Beaver Falls, and is 4 per cent greater than last year's goal of $831,327.

Benefitting from the campaign will be 43 United Fund affiliated agencies and services directly serving over 55,000 Beaver County residents.

In making the announcement, Demeter said "the goal presents a real challenge to all Beaver Countians. As campaign chairman, I am counting on many people to help meet this challenge. More than 4,000 volunteers will be involved in the drive. Most of all, however, I am depending on the continued generosity of Beaver County firms, their employes and other individuals who support the campaign financially."

Adopting recommendations of the Public Relations Committee headed by A. L. Breakiron, community service director of the Midland Works of Crucible Steel, and S. W. Boone, the Board of Directors endorsed three new programs.

They are (1) possible production of a UF campaign movie featuring Beaver County agencies; (2) production of an eight-page newspaper tabloid to be distributed by the two county newspapers on the eve of the campaign, and (3) an open house in mid-September to display United Fund services in those agencies having suitable facilities.

Joseph N. Tosh, president of the United Funds, stated, "This will be our seventh annual United Fund drive in Beaver County. Since our origin in 1959, we have come a long way in both raising funds and meeting the complex problems of our ever-growing county. A successful achievement of this year's goal of $864,490 is essential to continue our efforts in 1966."

Jury Fails To Agree, Dismissed By Judge

LISBON — Unable to agree on a verdict after deliberating for nearly eight hours, the jury was dismissed by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard Thursday afternoon in a compensation action.

Involved was an appeal action by Mrs. Clyde E. Wolfgang of Lisbon R. D. 3 in her benefit claim as the result of her husband's injury in a strip mine accident nearly seven years ago.

The Ohio Bureau of Workmen's Compensation had rejected her claim that the accident was the cause of her husband's later death. Mrs. Wolfgang then appealed to the Common Pleas Court, naming the bureau and the A.B.C. Mining Co. as defendants.

The present trial had lasted two and a half days before yesterday's dismissal of the jury. A rehearing date has not yet been set.

Workshop, Training Held By Girl Scouts

Tent pitching, tie - dying and outlining of the schedule for the Wellsville Girl Scouts day camp June 21-25 at Hammond Park featured the workshop and training session Wednesday at the Roadside Park.

Mrs. Dorothy Bunfill and Mrs. Nancy Palmer, day camp directors, were in charge, with 16 in attendance. Miss Irene Cross of the Upper Ohio Valley Girl Scout Council and Mrs. Sara Ormsby of Steubenville were visitors.

Seeks To Speed Integration

Bid To Oust School Head Brings Chicago Boycott

CHICAGO (AP) — A drive to oust schools Supt. Benjamin C. Willis and to speed classroom integration produced a traffic-jamming march on City Hall Thursday and the city's third school boycott — this one unofficial.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored people, and James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality were scheduled to arrive today.

Wilkins and Farmer planned to lead a group of civil rights marchers down busy streets from Soldier Field to City Hall, retracing Thursday's hour-and-15-minute march of some 200 persons which jammed traffic over the 2½-mile route.

The boycott, originally backed by the NAACP and other civil rights groups, apparently was dampened by a court order enjoining integrationists from encouraging school absenteeism.

The Rev. Lynward Stevenson, president of the Woodlawn Organization, a community group, claimed victory and said absenteeism was more than 100,000 — about three times the number of pupils normally out of school at this time of year. There are 536,160 youngsters enrolled in the school system.

On the other hand, Frank M. Whiston, Board of Education president, said he was pleased with what he described as a partial attendance check. He thanked parents "who were interested enough in the education of their children to keep them in school."

There was no official count of the number of youngsters who skipped classes. However, one spot check showed absenteeism up to 40 per cent in a few predominantly Negro schools, up to 25 per cent in some integrated schools and attendance about normal in predominantly white schools.

The last boycott, in February 1964, pulled 172,350 pupils out of the classrooms, and a few months earlier 250,000 stayed out.

The demonstrations are aimed at ousting Willis, accused by civil rights groups of dragging his feet in eliminating alleged de facto segregation in the public schools.

The integrationists took aim at Mayor Richard J. Daley two weeks ago when the school board, appointed by the mayor, renewed Willis' contract with the stipulation that he resign on his 65th birthday, in about 18 months.

The bill by Sen. Charles H. Jones, R-Butler, would require payment of personal property taxes before the June 30 deadline and provide for adjustment of disputed claims at a later date.

Jones said defeat of the measure could delay $90-$135 million in payments earmarked primarily for schools and local governments. He explained that present law permits taxpayers to withhold payments when claims and assessments are disputed.

Procedures for removal of judges would be spelled out under another Senate - passed bill. It permits the Ohio Supreme Court to name a five-judge commission which could suspend, retire, or remove judges from office.

The measure reserves the right of apppeal to the Supreme Court, Sen. Frazier Reams, D-Lucas said, adding that the proposal has the backing of the Ohio State Bar Association.

Senate approval completed legislative action on two House measures. They would give non-teaching school employes six paid holidays a year and add "refinements" to a two-year-old statute requiring registration of auctioneers and their apprentices.

Permitholder At Palestine May Win Plea

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Judge John P. Case, chief counsel and hearing examiner for the Ohio Department of Liquor Control, says he probably will recommend that East Palestine City Council's objection to a beer and wine carryout permit for Mrs. Nancy Flowers be overruled.

He said he expects to take this action since Council had no representative at a hearing on the objection Thursday—a violation of state statutes covering such challenges.

Judge Case, who formerly sat on the common pleas bench in Fayette County, said the statute requires a member of the objecting group to be present to testify in support of any written complaints.

East Palestine City Council objected to the permit for Mrs. Flowers, a beauty operator, because of a large number of misdemeanor convictions of her husband, Eugene Flowers. Judge Case said records submitted by Council showed at least eight convictions for Flowers since 1958.

Flowers testified that he once had a drinking problem, but said that in the 13 months since he has been married to his present wife, he had kept it under control.

Bernard Kenney Gets Steubenville Degree

Bernard Kenney of Steubenville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kenney, 725 Cadmus St., received his Bachelor of Arts degree Sunday at the College of Steubenville.

He will study for his Master's degree at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J., where he has received a fellowship in the Department of Environmental Science.

He will be accompanied by his wife, the former Sue Marshall, daughter of Mrs. Shirley Marshall, 313 Rural Ln., and their infant son.

Activities Advanced By Lisbon Lions Club

LISBON—The Lions Club held work night at its cottage Wednesday and made further plans for the annual street fair July 21-24 and the inter-village service clubs' picnic July 14 at Willow Grove Park. The Lions Club will play host this year.

Another work night will be held June 23 at the cottage.

Work Discussed On Gaston's Mill

LISBON — The Columbiana County Historical Society reviewed progress on equipment being prepared for Gaston's Mill when it met Wednesday night here, with 15 members present.

Robert Kelm of Lisbon presided.

It was reported that trees have been cut and moved and now are being processed along with other necessary equipment to make the mill operative by water power.

It was announced E. W. Garber of Perrysville will donate several items for the museum at the mill in the near future.

Walter Kimes, a member of the new Western Columbiana County Historical Society, was a visitor at last night's meeting and reported on the progress of the club. It has purchased the old Presbyterian Church in Homeworth and will turn it into a museum.

The society's next regular meeting will be July 14 at 8 p. m.

The largest city in the world which is not situated next to water — sea, lake, or river—is Mexico City, Mexico, with a population of close to three million.

Senior Citizens Here Plan Playhouse Visit

Plans were made to attend a performance at the Packard Playhouse in Warren at a meeting of the Senior City Citizens Group Thursday afternoon at the Parish Hall of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church. Jack Barrett, president, conducted business.

Mrs. Eunice Hogenfield and Rudy Halpate reported on the current rummage sale at the Halpate Building in East End.

The Rev. John L. Clark, minister of the First Methodist Church, spoke briefly and invited the members to attend morning worship at his church June 20.

A moment of silent prayer was held for the late Mrs. Minnie Lang, a member, and the chorus sang, "Nearer My God To Thee."

A square dance will highlight next Thursday's meeting.

Goal Of $864,490 Set In Beaver County Fund

A goal of $864,490 has been set for this fall's United Funds of Beaver County's "Torch Drive," Oct. 3-Nov. 5, according to Myron J. Demeter, campaign chairman.

The figure was reached Wednesday during a Board of Directors meeting at the Penn-Beaver Hotel, Beaver Falls, and is 4 per cent greater than last year's goal of $831,327.

Benefitting from the campaign will be 43 United Fund affiliated agencies and services directly serving over 55,000 Beaver County residents.

In making the announcement, Demeter said "the goal presents a real challenge to all Beaver Countians. As campaign chairman, I am counting on many people to help meet this challenge. More than 4,000 volunteers will be involved in the drive. Most of all, however, I am depending on the continued generosity of Beaver County firms, their employes and other individuals who support the campaign financially."

Adopting recommendations of the Public Relations Committee headed by A. L. Breakiron, community service director of the Midland Works of Crucible Steel, and S. W. Boone, the Board of Directors endorsed three new programs.

They are (1) possible production of a UF campaign movie featuring Beaver County agencies; (2) production of an eight-page newspaper tabloid to be distributed by the two county newspapers on the eve of the campaign, and (3) an open house in mid-September to display United Fund services in those agencies having suitable facilities.

Joseph N. Tosh, president of the United Funds, stated, "This will be our seventh annual United Fund drive in Beaver County. Since our origin in 1959, we have come a long way in both raising funds and meeting the complex problems of our ever-growing county. A successful achievement of this year's goal of $864,490 is essential to continue our efforts in 1966."

Jury Fails To Agree, Dismissed By Judge

LISBON — Unable to agree on a verdict after deliberating for nearly eight hours, the jury was dismissed by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard Thursday afternoon in a compensation action.

Involved was an appeal action by Mrs. Clyde E. Wolfgang of Lisbon R. D. 3 in her benefit claim as the result of her husband's injury in a strip mine accident nearly seven years ago.

The Ohio Bureau of Workmen's Compensation had rejected her claim that the accident was the cause of her husband's later death. Mrs. Wolfgang then appealed to the Common Pleas Court, naming the bureau and the A.B.C. Mining Co. as defendants.

The present trial had lasted two and a half days before yesterday's dismissal of the jury. A rehearing date has not yet been set.

Workshop, Training Held By Girl Scouts

Tent pitching, tie - dying and outlining of the schedule for the Wellsville Girl Scouts day camp June 21-25 at Hammond Park featured the workshop and training session Wednesday at the Roadside Park.

Mrs. Dorothy Bunfill and Mrs. Nancy Palmer, day camp directors, were in charge, with 16 in attendance. Miss Irene Cross of the Upper Ohio Valley Girl Scout Council and Mrs. Sara Ormsby of Steubenville were visitors.

Seeks To Speed Integration

Bid To Oust School Head Brings Chicago Boycott

CHICAGO (AP) — A drive to oust schools Supt. Benjamin C. Willis and to speed classroom integration produced a traffic-jamming march on City Hall Thursday and the city's third school boycott — this one unofficial.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored people, and James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality were scheduled to arrive today.

Wilkins and Farmer planned to lead a group of civil rights marchers down busy streets from Soldier Field to City Hall, retracing Thursday's hour-and-15-minute march of some 200 persons which jammed traffic over the 2½-mile route.

The boycott, originally backed by the NAACP and other civil rights groups, apparently was dampened by a court order enjoining integrationists from encouraging school absenteeism.

The Rev. Lynward Stevenson, president of the Woodlawn Organization, a community group, claimed victory and said absenteeism was more than 100,000 — about three times the number of pupils normally out of school at this time of year. There are 536,160 youngsters enrolled in the school system.

On the other hand, Frank M. Whiston, Board of Education president, said he was pleased with what he described as a partial attendance check. He thanked parents "who were interested enough in the education of their children to keep them in school."

There was no official count of the number of youngsters who skipped classes. However, one spot check showed absenteeism up to 40 per cent in a few predominantly Negro schools, up to 25 per cent in some integrated schools and attendance about normal in predominantly white schools.

The last boycott, in February 1964, pulled 172,350 pupils out of the classrooms, and a few months earlier 250,000 stayed out.

The demonstrations are aimed at ousting Willis, accused by civil rights groups of dragging his feet in eliminating alleged de facto segregation in the public schools.

The integrationists took aim at Mayor Richard J. Daley two weeks ago when the school board, appointed by the mayor, renewed Willis' contract with the stipulation that he resign on his 65th birthday, in about 18 months.

Profit System Called Basis Of Economy

The profit system is the basis of the American economy, and the word "profit" should not be disparaged, Steve Eibling, Ohio Bell Co. district commercial manager, told the Kiwanis Club at a meeting Thursday in the Travelers Hotel.

Eibling spoke on some aspects of money, its history and its role in economy.

Money forms in the past have been huge stones in the South Sea Islands, compressed cheese or tea in China and tobacco and the scalps of red-headed woodpeckers in the American colonies.

The use of mottoes, such as an early "Mind Your Business," was also mentioned by the speaker.

Eibling emphasized the importance of the investment of money as a means of expanding the economy, and said, "Profit should not be a dirty word. It is the key of the American way of life, for no firm or individual can exist properly without showing a profit."

"Money," he said," is not the root of all evil, nor is the love of money, as mentioned in the Bible, necessarily wrong," he concluded.

Jack Woomer, contractor and member of the East Liverpool Board of Education, was introduced as a new member.

Eibling was introduced by James Miller. Alex Kidd, president, was in charge.

Boy On Bicycle Struck By Truck

Robert Claypool, 12-year-old son of Charles Claypool of Cemetery Rd., was treated at City Hospital Thursday afternoon for abrasions of the ankle and elbow received when he was struck by a truck as he was riding his bicycle in front of the Faulk Brothers Hardware Store on Carolina Ave., Chester, between 4th and 5th Sts.

The driver of the truck, George D. King, an employe of the Downing Construction Co., an Ohio firm, drove the youth to the hospital following the accident, which occurred as King was crossing the sidewalk to enter a nearby parking lot.

Robert was released from the hospital following treatment. Audley Campbell, investigating patrolman, said the mishap occurred about 3:30 p. m.

sible solutions to the traffic congestion which Council feels will develop when Crucible shuts the 3rd St. gate to the plant to auto traffic.

Several proposals were submitted from both Council and the Crucible representatives and it was decided that an on-the-spot survey should be conducted to better determine the most feasible solutions.

Mayor Eli Corak, the traffic committee o. Council, Ed Stefl, borough police chief, and the Crucible police will conduct the survey next week.

The possibility of tennis courts for the borough was discussed. Corak suggested that the recreation committees of both Council and School Board meet to study the possibility of constructing several courts in the area of the softball field at 7th St. playground.

Clarence J. Grimm was named as instructor of the senior life-saving class at the Veterans Memorial Pool at a salary of $50.

Vinovich, swimming pool chairman, said beginning Monday, and running Monday through Friday, children's swimming lessons will be offered at the pool from 10 a.m. to noon and adult lessons from noon until 1 p.m.

He said night swimming will be held each Tuesday and Thursday evening, beginning Tuesday.

Fire Chief Vince D'Itri was granted permission to attend a demonstration of fire equipment July 18-22 at the American-LaFrance Co. in Elmira, N. Y., and Stefl was given permission to attend the Pennsylvania chiefs of police convention July 25-27 at Pittsburgh.

In other action, Council accepted an $85 bid of Benjamin Irwin for several abandoned autos now in storage on borough property.

Officers' reports were accepted as submitted and all bills were ordered paid. Vinovich presided. The next meeting will be June 24.

City Will Receive Bids On New Refuse Truck

Mayor Merrill D. Hall and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, comprising the Board of Control, will open sealed bids today at noon at City Hall on purchase of a new "packer body" truck for use of the incinerator department.

Bidders were given the option of filing separate offers on the truck and chassis or quoting a combined price for the two. The city's specifications call for a 16 cubic yard "packer body" and a truck chassis that would give the unit a gross vehicle weight of 23,000 pounds.

The acquisition will raise to five the number of "packer body" refuse trucks in service. Council provided $9,000 for the purchase in the annual appropriation ordinance.

Beaver Baking Firm Will Close Saturday

BEAVER — The Liberty Baking Co. of Pittsburgh, which operates a distribution center here with 40 employes, will go out of business at midnight Saturday.

U. S. District Court in Pittsburgh denied an injunction sought by the bakery union to halt the closing.

Melvin Affalter, manager of the local distribution center which serves all of Beaver County and portions of surrounding counties, said negotiations are under way for two out-of-state firms to acquire Liberty's routes.

In City's Court's Cases

Clocked At 80-Mile Pace, Motorist Loses License

A 20-year-old Wellsville man clocked at speeds in excess of 80 miles an hour on the East Liverpool - Wellsville road by the State Highway Patrol was given a 30-day suspension of his driver's license and fined $20 and costs when he appeared today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Walter E. Cross, 1719 Lincoln Ave., pleaded guilty to the patrol's citation issued June 3, but told the judge he did not "know exactly how fast I was going." The patrol noted he was cited in a 60-mile zone after passing five autos.

Queried by the court, Cross said his license previously was suspended in the local court for 15 days, also on a charge of speeding. Lack of driving privileges caused him to lose his job, he said.

Meanwhile, Scott J. Knight, 914 Lisbon St., was fined $20 and costs on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the same stretch. He was cited by the patrol at 10:30 p. m. Wednesday. The judge warned his driver's license may be suspended for another violation.

Russell A. Gamble, 24, of Chester R. D. 1, arrested Wednesday at 4 a. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. on a charge of being in physical control of a motor vehicle while intoxicated, was allowed to plead guilty to a reduced charge of simple intoxication. He was fined $10 and costs.

The motion to dismiss the physical control charge was made by Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark. He said officers found Gamble in a parked truck, but the defendant denied he had driven it there.

Gamble said he was a hitchhiker and did not know the driver of the truck, the solicitor said. Clark said the police "do not necessarily believe this story" but indicated the prosecution felt it lacked sufficient evidence for a conviction.

In assessing the fine, the judge said he took into consideration the fact Gamble had been in jail more than 48 hours awaiting trial, as he was unable to raise bond.

Three other persons arrested for speeding on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. Thursday night and another cited Wednesday night are due for hearings next week.

Cited last night in a 50-mile zone were: John L. Karin of Cleveland, Nina L. Duke of Brilliant and Wayne Cranston, 400 8th St., Wellsville. Cranston is due in court Wednesday and the Cleveland man and the Brilliant woman are due on Friday, June 18. Karin posted a $17.50 appearance bond.

Thomas Terry McIlvain, 300 E. 3rd St., cited Wednesday at 11:30 p. m. on a charge of driving 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone in the same stretch, is slated to appear next Tuesday.

The court granted a continuance until Tuesday in the case of Charles Curtis, 1232 Harker Ave., cited May 23 on a charge of reckless driving and failure to obey an officer's traffic order. Curtis had been due to appear today for sentencing.

Rancher Takes Stand At His Murder Trial

BEAVER — John W. Brandvold, 27 - year - old Montana rancher, took the stand today on his own behalf in his murder trial for the shooting of William Tully of Vanport last March 7.

The state concluded its case and the defense presented six witnesses in a 3½-hour session Thursday night.

The defense is basing its case on self-defense, attempting to prove that Brandvold became frightened after Tully had pursued him from Vanport where the victims estranged wife resides at Fallston.

Three witnesses last night described the chase through West Bridgewater, with Brandvold blowing the horn on his truck and running two traffic signals as he was pursued by Tully in a station wagon.

Frischkorn Selected By Junior Fair Board

LISBON — Donald Frischkorn of Wellsville R. D. 1 was elected president of the Columbiana County Junior Fair Board at a meeting Thursday night in the County Extension Offices. He succeeds Robert Hippely of Salem R. D. 2.

Other officers are Betty Rudebock of Leetonia R. D. 1, vice president; Nancy Lowmiller of Minerva R. D. 2, secretary, and Vickie Cobourn of Columbiana, treasurer.

The group discussed money-making projects and decided to hold a dance soon. The group also discussed projects which it hopes to use at County Fair Aug. 25-29, according to Miss Ann Overturf, county extension agent in home economics.

The polar diameter of the earth is 7,899.94 miles, just 26.58 miles less than the equatorial diameter of 7,926.52 miles.

potential of the Ohio River, railroads and highways. He pointed out that Beaver Creek State Park offers a tremendous opportunity for development of a recreation site that would benefit the whole region.

Formation of the commission has improved lines of communication across the county, he said. With the survey serving as an inventory of the county's resources and problems, it is now the task of the commission to project goals and then for the county to implement them.

"There is no magic formula," Wright stated, adding that consistent work and cooperation are the means for achieving the goals.

A sizable delegation of Senior Citizens from East Liverpool attended the meeting, expressing interest in housing for the elderly.

Lower explained the commission has a committee on housing, but the primary responsibility for construction lies with the government and contractors.

Past and present members of the commission and committees were introduced.

Water Line Repaired And Service Resumes

Water service was restored in a West End-Sunnyside district early Thursday afternoon after a city water department crew finished work on replacing a faulty 12-foot section of 6-inch line that sprang a leak Monday.

Supt. Donald T. Duke said the cutoff lasted approximately three hours, or only half as long as had been anticipated in advance. The crew turned off the service at 9 a.m., after warning householders against a six-hour shutdown.

The break first was noted about noon Monday on Dresden Ave. near W. 9th St. Temporary repairs were finished Wednesday. Duke said a section of the main, which is at least 60 years old, developed a long fissure that allowed water to escape.

Unity, Fairfield Gain 2 Trustee Candidates

The County Election Board today listed new candidates for trustee seats in Unity and Fairfield Townships.

Seeking places on the November general election ballot, Forrest A. Stallsmith entered for the post in Unity and Kenneth Baker filed for a seat in Fairfield. The latest entries brought to 29 the number seeking nonpartisan ballot spots in November.

Aug. 4 is the deadline for filing by nonpartisan candidates in townships, school districts and villages under 2,000 population

Prizes will total more than $350. A $150 "purchase prize" will be provided by the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

This year the show has been expanded to include a sculpturing division media, being limited by a maximum weight of 100 pounds and a height of six feet.

The cash prize for best in the show will be $45; best religious, $20; first in oil, $35; second in oil, $20; first in water, $35; second in water, $20; first in still life, $35; second in still life, $20; first in sculpturing, $35; second in sculpturing, $20.

In Division 11, for artists 12 through 18 years, the awards are $15 for best in division and $10 for second in division.

In addition to cash prizes, two merchandise prizes will be awarded.

The pre-screening committee will consist of Lawrence Novak, art instructor at Lincoln High School, and Thomas Kozar, art instructor at Western Beaver High School.

The Knights of Columbus art committee will accept applications through June 17. All work must be delivered to the council rooms at 832 Midland Ave. from June 23 through June 25, from 7 to 9 p. m.

Dray Presents Program During Midland Meeting

Victor Dray of East Liverpool, a scarfer in the Conditioning Mill of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., presented the program during a meeting of the Midland Lions Club Thursday night at Deramo's Restaurant.

A relatively new member of the club, Dray screened films on "Trip to the Moon" narrated by Walter Cronkite, television news commentator.

Plans were made for the installation of officers June 24 at Deramo's Restaurant, with George Welsh of Beaver Falls, district governor - elect, as installing officer.

It was announced that the club has awarded plaques to two seniors with high averages in English — Andrea Wuchina of Lincoln High School and Jean Verzella of Western Beaver High School. Maurice Newman and Leslie B. Roach were in charge of arrangements for the presentation of the awards.

Paul Schaff was named chairman of the committee in charge of the July 4 float.

Lisbon Motorist Cited After Route 30 Crash

A Lisbon motorist was cited early today by the Ohio Highway Patrol after his car struck the rear of a semi-trailer truck on Route 30, about 1½ miles east of Lisbon.

Robert Elmer Mowery, 34, of 316 E. Washington St., Lisbon, was charged by officers from the Lisbon post with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

His 1965 sedan hit the rear of the rig driven by Lloyd William Moore, 35, of Wintersville about 1:40 a.m., the patrol said. Neither driver was hurt.

Group Opposes Canal Under Present Plans

BEAVER — The Beaver County Planning and Zoning Commission went on record Thursday night in opposition to present plans for the Lake Erie-Ohio River canal.

The commission indicated it would look more favorably on the canal if it is constructed to handle ships rather than just barges and if the federal government assumes more of the expenses.

Former British News Agency Figure Dies

LONDON (AP) — William Turner, former joint general manager of Reuters news agency, died at his home at Bexhill-on-Sea Thursday. He was 84.

Turner was chief Far Eastern correspondent for the news agency for 12 years, became overseas general manager in 1932 and joint general manager six years later.

Beaver Baking Firm Will Close Saturday

BEAVER — The Liberty Baking Co. of Pittsburgh, which operates a distribution center here with 40 employes, will go out of business at midnight Saturday.

U. S. District Court in Pittsburgh denied an injunction sought by the bakery union to halt the closing.

Melvin Affalter, manager of the local distribution center which serves all of Beaver County and portions of surrounding counties, said negotiations are under way for two out-of-state firms to acquire Liberty's routes.

In City's Court's Cases

Clocked At 80-Mile Pace, Motorist Loses License

A 20-year-old Wellsville man clocked at speeds in excess of 80 miles an hour on the East Liverpool - Wellsville road by the State Highway Patrol was given a 30-day suspension of his driver's license and fined $20 and costs when he appeared today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Walter E. Cross, 1719 Lincoln Ave., pleaded guilty to the patrol's citation issued June 3, but told the judge he did not "know exactly how fast I was going." The patrol noted he was cited in a 60-mile zone after passing five autos.

Queried by the court, Cross said his license previously was suspended in the local court for 15 days, also on a charge of speeding. Lack of driving privileges caused him to lose his job, he said.

Meanwhile, Scott J. Knight, 914 Lisbon St., was fined $20 and costs on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the same stretch. He was cited by the patrol at 10:30 p. m. Wednesday. The judge warned his driver's license may be suspended for another violation.

Russell A. Gamble, 24, of Chester R. D. 1, arrested Wednesday at 4 a. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. on a charge of being in physical control of a motor vehicle while intoxicated, was allowed to plead guilty to a reduced charge of simple intoxication. He was fined $10 and costs.

The motion to dismiss the physical control charge was made by Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark. He said officers found Gamble in a parked truck, but the defendant denied he had driven it there.

Gamble said he was a hitchhiker and did not know the driver of the truck, the solicitor said. Clark said the police "do not necessarily believe this story" but indicated the prosecution felt it lacked sufficient evidence for a conviction.

In assessing the fine, the judge said he took into consideration the fact Gamble had been in jail more than 48 hours awaiting trial, as he was unable to raise bond.

Three other persons arrested for speeding on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. Thursday night and another cited Wednesday night are due for hearings next week.

Cited last night in a 50-mile zone were: John L. Karin of Cleveland, Nina L. Duke of Brilliant and Wayne Cranston, 400 8th St., Wellsville. Cranston is due in court Wednesday and the Cleveland man and the Brilliant woman are due on Friday, June 18. Karin posted a $17.50 appearance bond.

Thomas Terry McIlvain, 300 E. 3rd St., cited Wednesday at 11:30 p. m. on a charge of driving 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone in the same stretch, is slated to appear next Tuesday.

The court granted a continuance until Tuesday in the case of Charles Curtis, 1232 Harker Ave., cited May 23 on a charge of reckless driving and failure to obey an officer's traffic order. Curtis had been due to appear today for sentencing.

Rancher Takes Stand At His Murder Trial

BEAVER — John W. Brandvold, 27 - year - old Montana rancher, took the stand today on his own behalf in his murder trial for the shooting of William Tully of Vanport last March 7.

The state concluded its case and the defense presented six witnesses in a 3½-hour session Thursday night.

The defense is basing its case on self-defense, attempting to prove that Brandvold became frightened after Tully had pursued him from Vanport where the victims estranged wife resides at Fallston.

Three witnesses last night described the chase through West Bridgewater, with Brandvold blowing the horn on his truck and running two traffic signals as he was pursued by Tully in a station wagon.

Frischkorn Selected By Junior Fair Board

LISBON — Donald Frischkorn of Wellsville R. D. 1 was elected president of the Columbiana County Junior Fair Board at a meeting Thursday night in the County Extension Offices. He succeeds Robert Hippely of Salem R. D. 2.

Other officers are Betty Rudebock of Leetonia R. D. 1, vice president; Nancy Lowmiller of Minerva R. D. 2, secretary, and Vickie Cobourn of Columbiana, treasurer.

The group discussed money-making projects and decided to hold a dance soon. The group also discussed projects which it hopes to use at County Fair Aug. 25-29, according to Miss Ann Overturf, county extension agent in home economics.

potential of the Ohio River, railroads and highways. He pointed out that Beaver Creek State Park offers a tremendous opportunity for development of a recreation site that would benefit the whole region.

Formation of the commission has improved lines of communication across the county, he said. With the survey serving as an inventory of the county's resources and problems, it is now the task of the commission to project goals and then for the county to implement them.

"There is no magic formula," Wright stated, adding that consistent work and cooperation are the means for achieving the goals.

A sizable delegation of Senior Citizens from East Liverpool attended the meeting, expressing interest in housing for the elderly.

Lower explained the commission has a committee on housing, but the primary responsibility for construction lies with the government and contractors.

Past and present members of the commission and committees were introduced.

Water Line Repaired And Service Resumes

Water service was restored in a West End-Sunnyside district early Thursday afternoon after a city water department crew finished work on replacing a faulty 12-foot section of 6-inch line that sprang a leak Monday.

Supt. Donald T. Duke said the cutoff lasted approximately three hours, or only half as long as had been anticipated in advance. The crew turned off the service at 9 a.m., after warning householders against a six-hour shutdown.

The break first was noted about noon Monday on Dresden Ave. near W. 9th St. Temporary repairs were finished Wednesday. Duke said a section of the main, which is at least 60 years old, developed a long fissure that allowed water to escape.

Unity, Fairfield Gain 2 Trustee Candidates

The County Election Board today listed new candidates for trustee seats in Unity and Fairfield Townships.

Seeking places on the November general election ballot, Forrest A. Stallsmith entered for the post in Unity and Kenneth Baker filed for a seat in Fairfield. The latest entries brought to 29 the number seeking nonpartisan ballot spots in November.

Aug. 4 is the deadline for filing by nonpartisan candidates in townships, school districts and villages under 2,000 population

Judge, Prizes Announced For Art Show At Midland

The judge and prizes to be awarded have been announced by the Midland Knights of Columbus for its ninth annual regional art exhibition planned in conjunction with the July 4 celebration.

William Rakocy of New Springfield, advertising manager and art director for the Lablaw Stores of Youngstown, will be the judge.

He received his Master's degree in Fine Arts from the Kansas City Art Institute and has studied painting in Italy on a Felician Art Scholarship. He has edited and published several publications.

Prizes will total more than $350. A $150 "purchase prize" will be provided by the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

This year the show has been expanded to include a sculpturing division media, being limited by a maximum weight of 100 pounds and a height of six feet.

The cash prize for best in the show will be $45; best religious, $20; first in oil, $35; second in oil, $20; first in water, $35; second in water, $20; first in still life, $35; second in still life, $20; first in sculpturing, $35; second in sculpturing, $20.

In Division 11, for artists 12 through 18 years, the awards are $15 for best in division and $10 for second in division.

In addition to cash prizes, two merchandise prizes will be awarded.

The pre-screening committee will consist of Lawrence Novak, art instructor at Lincoln High School, and Thomas Kozar, art instructor at Western Beaver High School.

The Knights of Columbus art committee will accept applications through June 17. All work must be delivered to the council rooms at 832 Midland Ave. from June 23 through June 25, from 7 to 9 p. m.

Dray Presents Program During Midland Meeting

Victor Dray of East Liverpool, a scarfer in the Conditioning Mill of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., presented the program during a meeting of the Midland Lions Club Thursday night at Deramo's Restaurant.

A relatively new member of the club, Dray screened films on "Trip to the Moon" narrated by Walter Cronkite, television news commentator.

Plans were made for the installation of officers June 24 at Deramo's Restaurant, with George Welsh of Beaver Falls, district governor - elect, as installing officer.

It was announced that the club has awarded plaques to two seniors with high averages in English — Andrea Wuchina of Lincoln High School and Jean Verzella of Western Beaver High School. Maurice Newman and Leslie B. Roach were in charge of arrangements for the presentation of the awards.

Paul Schaff was named chairman of the committee in charge of the July 4 float.

Lisbon Motorist Cited After Route 30 Crash

A Lisbon motorist was cited early today by the Ohio Highway Patrol after his car struck the rear of a semi-trailer truck on Route 30, about 1½ miles east of Lisbon.

Robert Elmer Mowery, 34, of 316 E. Washington St., Lisbon, was charged by officers from the Lisbon post with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

His 1965 sedan hit the rear of the rig driven by Lloyd William Moore, 35, of Winterssville about 1:40 a.m., the patrol said. Neither driver was hurt.

Group Opposes Canal Under Present Plans

BEAVER — The Beaver County Planning and Zoning Commission went on record Thursday night in opposition to present plans for the Lake Erie-Ohio River canal.

The commission indicated it would look more favorably on the canal if it is constructed to handle ships rather than just barges and if the federal government assumes more of the expenses.

Former British News Agency Figure Dies

LONDON (AP) — William Turner, former joint general manager of Reuters news agency, died at his home at Bexhill-on-Sea Thursday. He was 84.

Turner was chief Far Eastern correspondent for the news agency for 12 years, became overseas general manager in 1932 and joint general manager six years later.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruso —

Dear Heloise: Last summer we solved the problem of marking clothing to be taken to camp, by using strips of iron-on tape on which we typed the camper's name.

After typing a strip of tags, apart, and iron one on each item.

We found this to be much quicker than sewing, and less destructive and messy as with a marking pen.

Besides, it saves the cost of having name tags made.

M.F.

DEAR FOLKS: Just put the iron-tape on a piece of waxed paper and type away.

If the ribbon on your typewriter isn't new, you may have to type over it again. It's a ring-dilly though.

I made a batch of them to put in our purses, jackets, etc., and even ironed one little piece, with the point of my iron, on the back of a casserole dish which I loan out all the time.

So get out your typewriter, if you have one. If not, use a laundry marker. Sure beats marking up clothes with a name that can't be removed.

And, by the way, want to know how to remove them when the time comes? Just iron the iron-tape again with a hot iron and remove the tape while it's still warm!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband and I never use a whole can of biscuits at one time.

I bake the entire can, let them cool in packages of four, wrap in foil and put them in the freezing compartment of my refrigerator. They are easily reheated in the oven still wrapped in the foil.

This way, I have just enough biscuits for one meal, and they are especially good when topped with creamed chicken, stew, etc.

BARBARA GATTERMEYER.

DEAR HELOISE: My lipstick brush wore out, so I used nail polish remover to clean the brush from a bottle of nail polish, cut about half the bristles off, cut down the quill, and inserted it into my lipstick holder in place of the worn out brush.

It makes as good a lipstick brush as the original.

AGNES R. WOLVERTON.

DEAR HELOISE: I use attractive old coffee mugs for:

Leftovers in the refrigerator.

Spoonholders.

Pen and pencil holders on the desk.

Planters for cacti and rubber plants.

EMMA SCHMIDT.

DEAR HELOISE: I just finished making the most delightful cafe curtains for my kitchen, from white nylon net.

I made 4-inch ruffles, and sewed them onto gathered net. I sewed two rows of ruffles on the bottom curtain, and one row on the valance.

They are so inexpensive, and just think how easy they'll be to wash, and no ironing! Also, no hemming! Even my husband likes them.

MRS. M. OVERMEIER.

DEAR HELOISE: I discovered a nifty trick—inexpensive, too—for having an uncluttered cabinet for my pots and pans.

I hang them on stick-on picture hangers.

I just stuck the hooks along the sides of the cabinet, and hang my pots and pans on them.

This way each pan is easily accessible, and there are no holes in the cabinets either.

Now I can use the floor of the cabinet for other things.

BINKY.

ROBERT C. GILROY
He Replaces Schake.

Gilroy Appointed Fund's Chairman In Midland Area

Robert C. Gilroy, general superintent of production services at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., has been named general campaign chairman of the Midland Area United Fund Drive next fall.

The announcement was made by Charles A. Jacoby of Industry, president of the fund.

Gilroy replaces Paul K. Schake of Industry, former works controller at the Midland Works, who had been selected as chairman but has been transferred to the company's Pittsburgh offices.

Gilroy has held various positions at the Midland Works since joining the company in 1945.

He and his wife and their four children reside at Glenfield Farms in Brighton Township.

Charles Kurcina of Ohioville, last year's general campaign chairman, and Joseph D'Alesio, president of United Steelworkers of America Local 1212, who also served as a co-chairman last year, will be co-chairmen for the fall drive.

3 Courts Pay $4,491 To County Treasurer

LISBON — The three county courts paid the county treasurer $4,491.28 in fines and costs during May, according to a report of Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey.

A breakdown shows $2,703.75 from patrol fines and $1,787.53 for civil and criminal cases court costs.

The state treasurer also received $1,792.85 for its 45 per cent of patrol fines, and other state fines.

The three courts — Salem, East Palestine and Lisbon — handled 286 criminal cases and 84 civil cases during the month.

Sheriff, constable and city police were paid $303.20 for their costs.

4-H Club

Plans were discussed for a party next Wednesday during a meeting of the Rogerettes 4-H Club at the home of Mrs. Glen Hawkins of Rogers. Karen Hawkins, vice president, presided.

Members will be notified of the place of the party.

Lorna Elliott gave a demonstration. Carol Shearer, Laurel Bezdek, Lorna Elliott and Debbie Barnhouse will enter a health and safety contest June 29.

A movie and cookout climaxed the meeting.

The next session will be June 22 at the Hawkins home. Members are requested to bring health and safety clippings.

Twelve attended a meeting of the Golden Needles 4-H Club Wednesday night at the home of Miss Dana Cameron of Frischkorn Hegihts, Wellsville.

Cindy Dornick had roll call. Demonstrations were presented by Mamie Frischkorn, Linda Swearingen, Miss Dornick and Sue Serafy.

Safety talks were given by Sharon Nicholson and Gail Copestick.

The next meeting will be June 16 at the home of Miss Dornick on Route 39.

5 Juvenile Motorists Involved In Hearings

LISBON — Traffic hearings in Juvenile Court have resulted in the suspension of the driving permits of two motorists, fining of two others and a warning to a fifth.

Charles Francis Harris, 16, of 1047 St. Clair Ave., East Liverpool, received 10 days for speeding and Phillip E. Wickersham, 17, of Kensington R. D. 1, five days for driving without wearing his glasses.

Wesley Pollock, 17, of Hanoverton R.D. 1, was fined $15 for failure to yield the right of way and Dale Allen Farmer, 16, of Hanoverton R.D. 1 $15 for speeding.

Roger K. Messer, 17, of East Rocheser R.D. 1, received a warning for improper backing.

All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Unopposed Candidate Lists Expense Of $52

Although he was unopposed, Richard Carter spent $52.82 in seeking the Republican nomination for First Ward councilman in the primaries May 4, he said in a sworn statement of campaign expenses on file today with the County Election Board.

John Parsons, one of three GOP nominees for a council-at-large seat, said he had no campaign expenses.

June 18 is the deadline for the reports. They are required under the "Corrupt Practices Act," which puts a ceiling on campaign spending. The reports must be filed by candidates, whether or not they were successful, and by committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

House Group To Quiz Castro's Sister Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Juanita Castro, sister of the Cuban prime minister, testifies today before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The committee said she will be questioned about pro-Castro, Communist propaganda activities in the United States and illegal travel to Cuba by American citizens.

Miss Castro, who has been living in exile, has been outspoken in criticism of her brother Fidel and has pledged herself to his "overthrow and, God forbid, to his destruction."

She also has said she is sure the people of Cuba will back any invasion of the island and that 95 per cent of them "are against the Communist regime."

Hays Requested To Spur Action On Housing Plan

LISBON — County Commissioners Max Gard and Frank Wilson said today that Rep. Wayne L. Hays has agreed to help expedite procedures necessary for the establishment of a Columbiana County Housing Authority.

The commissioners in May approved a resolution which was submitted to state and federal ofiicials at Columbus for approval in creating such an authority.

However, no further action has been taken at Columbus, and the commissioners Wednesday requested Hays to determine if the procedures can be expedited.

Action by groups in the county, including several in the East Liverpool district, to obtain housing for the elderly brought the original resolution by the commissioners.

Roy Wilson To Attend Sessions On Banking

Roy H. Wilson, trust officer of the First National Bank, will begin his second summer session at the Stonier Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J., on Monday.

The session will continue through June 25.

Wilson is one of 1,100 bank officers who will take part in the school, sponsored by the American Bankers Association. The student body will represent 46 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Philippines.

The school was founded in 1935 to provide an opportunity for advanced study for experienced bankers.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Last summer we solved the problem of marking clothing to be taken to camp, by using strips of iron-on tape on which we typed the camper's name.

After typing a strip of tags, apart, and iron one on each item.

We found this to be much quicker than sewing, and less destructive and messy as with a marking pen.

Besides, it saves the cost of having name tags made.

M.F.

DEAR FOLKS: Just put the iron-tape on a piece of waxed paper and type away.

If the ribbon on your typewriter isn't new, you may have to type over it again. It's a ring-dilly though.

I made a batch of them to put in our purses, jackets, etc., and even ironed one little piece, with the point of my iron, on the back of a casserole dish which I loan out all the time.

So get out your typewriter, if you have one. If not, use a laundry marker. Sure beats marking up clothes with a name that can't be removed.

And, by the way, want to know how to remove them when the time comes? Just iron the iron-tape again with a hot iron and remove the tape while it's still warm!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband and I never use a whole can of biscuits at one time.

I bake the entire can, let them cool in packages of four, wrap in foil and put them in the freezing compartment of my refrigerator. They are easily reheated in the oven still wrapped in the foil.

This way, I have just enough biscuits for one meal, and they are especially good when topped with creamed chicken, stew, etc.

BARBARA GATTERMEYER.

DEAR HELOISE: My lipstick brush wore out, so I used nail polish remover to clean the brush from a bottle of nail polish, cut about half the bristles off, cut down the quill, and inserted it into my lipstick holder in place of the worn out brush.

It makes as good a lipstick brush as the original.

AGNES R. WOLVERTON.

DEAR HELOISE: I use attractive old coffee mugs for:

Leftovers in the refrigerator.

Spoonholders.

Pen and pencil holders on the desk.

Planters for cacti and rubber plants.

EMMA SCHMIDT.

DEAR HELOISE: I just finished making the most delightful cafe curtains for my kitchen, from white nylon net.

I made 4-inch ruffles, and sewed them onto gathered net. I sewed two rows of ruffles on the bottom curtain, and one row on the valance.

They are so inexpensive, and just think how easy they'll be to wash, and no ironing! Also, no hemming! Even my husband likes them.

MRS. M. OVERMEIER.

DEAR HELOISE: I discovered a nifty trick—inexpensive, too—for having an uncluttered cabinet for my pots and pans.

I hang them on stick-on picture hangers.

I just stuck the hooks along the sides of the cabinet, and hang my pots and pans on them.

This way each pan is easily accessible, and there are no holes in the cabinets either.

Now I can use the floor of the cabinet for other things.

BINKY.

He Replaces Schake.

Gilroy Appointed Fund's Chairman In Midland Area

Robert C. Gilroy, general superintent of production services at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., has been named general campaign chairman of the Midland Area United Fund Drive next fall.

The announcement was made by Charles A. Jacoby of Industry, president of the fund.

Gilroy replaces Paul K. Schake of Industry, former works controller at the Midland Works, who had been selected as chairman but has been transferred to the company's Pittsburgh offices.

Gilroy has held various positions at the Midland Works since joining the company in 1945.

He and his wife and their four children reside at Glenfield Farms in Brighton Township.

Charles Kurcina of Ohioville, last year's general campaign chairman, and Joseph D'Alesio, president of United Steelworkers of America Local 1212, who also served as a co-chairman last year, will be co-chairmen for the fall drive.

3 Courts Pay $4,491 To County Treasurer

LISBON — The three county courts paid the county treasurer $4,491.28 in fines and costs during May, according to a report of Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey.

A breakdown shows $2,703.75 from patrol fines and $1,787.53 for civil and criminal cases court costs.

The state treasurer also received $1,792.85 for its 45 per cent of patrol fines, and other state fines.

The three courts — Salem, East Palestine and Lisbon — handled 286 criminal cases and 84 civil cases during the month.

Sheriff, constable and city police were paid $303.20 for their costs.

4-H Club

Plans were discussed for a party next Wednesday during a meeting of the Rogerettes 4-H Club at the home of Mrs. Glen Hawkins of Rogers. Karen Hawkins, vice president, presided.

Members will be notified of the place of the party.

Lorna Elliott gave a demonstration. Carol Shearer, Laurel Bezdek, Lorna Elliott and Debbie Barnhouse will enter a health and safety contest June 29.

A movie and cookout climaxed the meeting.

The next session will be June 22 at the Hawkins home. Members are requested to bring health and safety clippings.

Twelve attended a meeting of the Golden Needles 4-H Club Wednesday night at the home of Miss Dana Cameron of Frischkorn Hegihts, Wellsville.

Cindy Dornick had roll call. Demonstrations were presented by Mamie Frischkorn, Linda Swearingen, Miss Dornick and Sue Serafy.

Safety talks were given by Sharon Nicholson and Gail Copestick.

The next meeting will be June 16 at the home of Miss Dornick on Route 39.

5 Juvenile Motorists Involved In Hearings

LISBON — Traffic hearings in Juvenile Court have resulted in the suspension of the driving permits of two motorists, fining of two others and a warning to a fifth.

Charles Francis Harris, 16, of 1047 St. Clair Ave., East Liverpool, received 10 days for speeding and Phillip E. Wickersham, 17, of Kensington R. D. 1, five days for driving without wearing his glasses.

Wesley Pollock, 17, of Hanoverton R.D. 1, was fined $15 for failure to yield the right of way and Dale Allen Farmer, 16, of Hanoverton R.D. 1 $15 for speeding.

Roger K. Messer, 17, of East Rocheser R.D. 1, received a warning for improper backing.

All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Unopposed Candidate Lists Expense Of $52

Although he was unopposed, Richard Carter spent $52.82 in seeking the Republican nomination for First Ward councilman in the primaries May 4, he said in a sworn statement of campaign expenses on file today with the County Election Board.

John Parsons, one of three GOP nominees for a council-at-large seat, said he had no campaign expenses.

June 18 is the deadline for the reports. They are required under the "Corrupt Practices Act," which puts a ceiling on campaign spending. The reports must be filed by candidates, whether or not they were successful, and by committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

House Group To Quiz Castro's Sister Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Juanita Castro, sister of the Cuban prime minister, testifies today before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The committee said she will be questioned about pro-Castro, Communist propaganda activities in the United States and illegal travel to Cuba by American citizens.

Miss Castro, who has been living in exile, has been outspoken in criticism of her brother Fidel and has pledged herself to his "overthrow and, God forbid, to his destruction."

She also has said she is sure the people of Cuba will back any invasion of the island and that 95 per cent of them "are against the Communist regime."

Boy, 13, Drowns

Hays Requested To Spur Action On Housing Plan

LISBON — County Commissioners Max Gard and Frank Wilson said today that Rep. Wayne L. Hays has agreed to help expedite procedures necessary for the establishment of a Columbiana County Housing Authority.

The commissioners in May approved a resolution which was submitted to state and federal officials at Columbus for approval in creating such an authority

However, no further action has been taken at Columbus, and the commissioners Wednesday requested Hays to determine if the procedures can be expedited.

Action by groups in the county, including several in the East Liverpool district, to obtain housing for the elderly brought the original resolution by the commissioners.

Roy Wilson To Attend Sessions On Banking

Roy H. Wilson, trust officer of the First National Bank, will begin his second summer session at the Stonier Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J., on Monday.

The session will continue through June 25.

Wilson is one of 1,100 bank officers who will take part in the school, sponsored by the American Bankers Association. The student body will represent 46 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Philippines.

The school was founded in 1935 to provide an opportunity for advanced study for experienced bankers.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was very disappointed that a sophisticated dame like you would fall for that tear-jerker. I refer to the letter from the kid who wrote about his dog who was hit by a car and left in the street to die.

I'm with the driver. If I hit a mutt I would not ruin the inside of my car taking him to an animal hospital. And I wouldn't stop and try to cheer up the kid, either. People should know that most dogs are stupid and no match for modern traffic.

Folks who love a dog will not allow him to run loose. In many cities there is a law against it, but people ignore the law—and now and then a dog gets hit. If the dog means so little to the family that they don't keep him on a leash they deserve whatever they get.—NO PATSY.

Dear No: I agree that dogs should not be allowed to run loose, but that was not the question.

A driver who hits a dog should stop and do whatever he can to alleviate the animal's suffering. The dog is not to blame if a careless master allows him to run unleashed. You are my candidate for the Meanest Man in Town Award.

Unwheeled Dropout

Dear Ann: I'm 20 years old (boy) and have a driver's license but nothing to drive. For three years I have been asking my folks for a car. They say, "Go out and earn it." It's hard to get a job when you don't have a car.

I've had six jobs since I dropped out of high school. None of them lasted very long. One of the problems is I can't get to work on time. If I had a car the problem would be solved.

When I'm working I give my folks $15 a week room and board. Now they don't get anything. So you can see it would be better for them if they bought me a car, too.

It isn't as if they can't afford it. Both my parents are working and together they make $8,000 a year. I am not asking for a Rolls Royce. Any make will do. Please give me a hand. —NEED WHEELS.

Dear Wheels: A kid who can't get to work on time on public transportation is not likely to do better if he has his own car. He'd probably do worse.

My advice: Forget about a car and concentrate on a high school diploma. Either go back to school or take night courses. Dropouts are a problem to society, to their families and to themselves. Right now you need education—not wheels.

Blonde Bombshell

Dear Ann: My husband and I have been married nearly 20 years. We are in our middle 40s. We moved to this city seven months ago and like it very much.

My husband's mother wrote us several weeks ago that a third cousin of my husband lives in this city and she would like to see us. The woman was divorced several years ago and my husband remembers her as a "beautiful blonde." He hasn't seen her in 22 years.

Now my husband is nagging me to invite this woman to dinner. I keep making up excuses. The truth is if she has any looks left, and if she behaves like most divorcees, it could mean trouble.

Am I right or wrong?—MRS. XXX.

Dear Mrs.: Wrong. If Cuz had ulterior motives she would have called your husband at his place of business. She would not have written to his mother.

Invite her to dinner and fast. Be relaxed and friendly. Your reluctance may give your husband ideas he never had before.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Teen-Age Dieting Calls For Family Teamwork

Overweight teen - agers need someone to take an interest in their weight problems. . .someone to encourage them in their dieting efforts. In fact, dieting calls or teamwork by the family. One unhappy youngster writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"Please help me, I'm desperate. I'm 15 and weigh 152 pounds. I am 5' 7" tall and measure 34-26-40. I eat like I don't know what! But when I do stop overeating, then all I eat is apples and oranges. Are these fattening? I could live off them if it were necessary. Please, please help me. My hips and legs are the worst.

—:—

"I'M ASHAMED to diet openly. My parents and friends, plus my relatives, would only poke fun at me. Please give me as much advice as possible."

First off, congratulations for your concern and for taking the initiative to do something about it. At 15, a weight of 152 is not a laughing matter. Declare your serious intentions to your family, not in a light or kidding way. Remember, the way you talk with your family about the problem conditions their response. Show them you have a problem and that you need and want their help.

Recognize, however, that the real issue is not whether your family is going to take your dieting efforts seriously, but whether you are. If you make a determined, honest effort to stop stuffing and leave out sweets, the family will soon sense your resolve and cooperate.

About the diet: You cannot live on apples and oranges, whether they are fattening or non-fattening. Get hep to the fact that eating — right eating, not dieting — is the backbone of healthful reducing. Why not learn about good nutrition, and apply this to everyday eating?

At which meal do you overeat? Try the plan of eating about half as much at that meal as you do now. This will work slimming wonders. Give real forethought to the idea that you will get up from the table before you overeat. Picture it, and make this a mind - set.

HEAVY LEGS and hefty hips may be a family characteristic. When you gain, the excess tends to go to those places, but you can take it off those places . . .with exercise and proper eating.

Plan to spend 15 minutes daily on leg swinging and rolling exercises. Hit a rhythm; you'll enjoy the workout. You can shape up and feel alive with exercise and daily physical activity. Take your choice: swim, walk, dance, play tennis — but do it regularly. Soon you will look and feel wonderful.

Have the courage of your own convictions. You cannot be governed by what people laugh at. Live your life to make your dreams come true. Happy slimming, honey!

Send stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for Teen-Age Challenge and Revised Calorie Chart. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Humphrey Says U.S. Is Pledged To End Job Bias

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says the federal government is pledged to put an end to job discrimination.

"We'll walk that extra mile to achieve voluntary compliance," Humphrey told more than 800 business leaders at the Northwest Regional Plans for Progress Conference Thursday night.

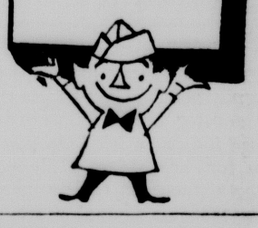

"But let everyone be assured of one thing: We intend for these standards to be observed and we intend to expand the opportunities for individuals in this country."

Humphrey said strides have been made and cited statistics from 100 companies. He said 27.9 per cent of the total increase in employment from 1963 to 1964 went to non-whites.

SALTY BABY FOOD AND HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Q. A recent newspaper article states that salt present in infant foods may be a factor in the development of high blood pressure later in life. Is this true?

A. Certain animal studies suggest such a possibility but there is no proof that the same thing applies to humans. A great many questions about high blood pressure remain unanswered. Until much more is known, limiting the salt intake of infants to prevent possible high blood pressure in adult life would be an unnecessarily illogical and unjustified procedure.

TONGUE-TIE

Q. Are some people actually tongue-tied?

A. Yes, the tongue can be so adherent that in speech, the tip is not free to touch the roof of the mouth. Difficulty is therefore encountered in making the sounds "t," "d," and "n." A simple surgical procedure corrects the mechanical defect but in the older child or adult this does not necessarily ensure proper speech. It is often necessary to follow the surgery with speech therapy to correct the faulty speech habit.

U.S. Playing Major Role

Dominican Crisis Turns Into Economic Conflict

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican civil war is turning into an economic conflict with the United States playing a major role.

The battlefield is still Santo Domingo. The capital is becoming even more divided as a result of the economic struggle between the junta and rebel factions.

With U.S. aid, the economy is being reorganized in hopes it can operate without Santo Domingo's downtown business district, the rebel stronghold.

Some U.S. officials believe that if the rebels can be bypassed economically, they might be pressured into a political settlement. Negotiations to form a compromise government are stalemated.

The insurgents have two powerful weapons in the economic arena, however. Their territory includes the principal banks and the port where most of the nation's imports are normally unloaded.

All the nation's factories are located in territory controlled by the junta, and more than 90 per cent are operating again. But many owners have their money in downtown banks which are shut. Their raw materials are sitting in warehouses overseas because port facilities to unload them here are not available.

The owner of a shoe polish factory said he was forced to shut down this week.

"There are 14,000 troops here, each with boots to be shined," he said. "The demand for shoe polish is high, but the waxes I need to make it are stuck in a warehouse in Panama. I can't get dock space to unload them in the Dominican Republic."

Four small ports are trying to handle the traffic that usually comes into Santo Domingo.

But these ports are equipped to handle the export of sugar, coffee, tobacco and other agricultural products. They do not have the dock space, warehouses or unloading facilities to handle import cargoes in volume.

Hector Aristy, minister to the presidency of the rebel regime, says the port of Santo Domingo will remain closed to any ship carrying cargo which might help the junta's economy.

Imports of wheat, a basic necessity, have stopped. Normally wheat is stored in huge silos overlooking the harbor, then ground into flour at a nearby mill. Plans are being considered to grind the flour in Puerto Rico and ship it here in sacks, a much more expensive process.

The U.S. government has offset some of the money shortage by distributing $9.2 million since the rebellion began on April 24. The Organization of American States got $6 million of this to pay the salaries of thousands of government employes for April. Some rebels also were paid.

The rebel regime says the banks can open downtown under certain conditions. These include the right to check private accounts if the rebels believe the money in these accounts was obtained illegally from state funds.

The four major banks rejected these conditions. They are the Royal Bank of Canada, the Bank of Nova Scotia, and two U.S. banks, First National City and Chase Manhattan.

Dear No: I agree that dogs should not be allowed to run loose, but that was not the question.

A driver who hits a dog should stop and do whatever he can to alleviate the animal's suffering. The dog is not to blame if a careless master allows him to run unleashed. You are my candidate for the Meanest Man in Town Award.

Unwheeled Dropout

Dear Ann: I'm 20 years old (boy) and have a driver's license but nothing to drive. For three years I have been asking my folks for a car. They say, "Go out and earn it." It's hard to get a job when you don't have a car.

I've had six jobs since I dropped out of high school. None of them lasted very long. One of the problems is I can't get to work on time. If I had a car the problem would be solved.

When I'm working I give my folks $15 a week room and board. Now they don't get anything. So you can see it would be better for them if they bought me a car, too.

It isn't as if they can't afford it. Both my parents are working and together they make $8,000 a year. I am not asking for a Rolls Royce. Any make will do. Please give me a hand. —NEED WHEELS.

Dear Wheels: A kid who can't get to work on time on public transportation is not likely to do better if he has his own car. He'd probably do worse.

My advice: Forget about a car and concentrate on a high school diploma. Either go back to school or take night courses. Dropouts are a problem to society, to their families and to themselves. Right now you need education—not wheels.

Blonde Bombshell

Dear Ann: My husband and I have been married nearly 20 years. We are in our middle 40s. We moved to this city seven months ago and like it very much.

My husband's mother wrote us several weeks ago that a third cousin of my husband lives in this city and she would like to see us. The woman was divorced several years ago and my husband remembers her as a "beautiful blonde." He hasn't seen her in 22 years.

Now my husband is nagging me to invite this woman to dinner. I keep making up excuses. The truth is if she has any looks left, and if she behaves like most divorcees, it could mean trouble.

Am I right or wrong?—MRS. XXX.

Dear Mrs.: Wrong. If Cuz had ulterior motives she would have called your husband at his place of business. She would not have written to his mother.

Invite her to dinner and fast. Be relaxed and friendly. Your reluctance may give your husband ideas he never had before.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

U.S. Playing Major Role

Dominican Crisis Turns Into Economic Conflict

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican civil war is turning into an economic conflict with the United States playing a major role.

The battlefield is still Santo Domingo. The capital is becoming even more divided as a result of the economic struggle between the junta and rebel factions.

With U.S. aid, the economy is being reorganized in hopes it can operate without Santo Domingo's downtown business district, the rebel stronghold.

Some U.S. officials believe that if the rebels can be bypassed economically, they might be pressured into a political settlement. Negotiations to form a compromise government are stalemated.

The insurgents have two powerful weapons in the economic arena, however. Their territory includes the principal banks and the port where most of the nation's imports are normally unloaded.

All the nation's factories are located in territory controlled by the junta, and more than 90 per cent are operating again. But many owners have their money in downtown banks which are shut. Their raw materials are sitting in warehouses overseas because port facilities to unload them here are not available.

The owner of a shoe polish factory said he was forced to shut down this week.

"There are 14,000 troops here, each with boots to be shined," he said. "The demand for shoe polish is high, but the waxes I need to make it are stuck in a warehouse in Panama. I can't get dock space to unload them in the Dominican Republic."

Four small ports are trying to handle the traffic that usually comes into Santo Domingo.

But these ports are equipped to handle the export of sugar, coffee, tobacco and other agricultural products. They do not have the dock space, warehouses or unloading facilities to handle import cargoes in volume.

Hector Aristy, minister to the presidency of the rebel regime, says the port of Santo Domingo will remain closed to any ship carrying cargo which might help the junta's economy.

Imports of wheat, a basic necessity, have stopped. Normally wheat is stored in huge silos overlooking the harbor, then ground into flour at a nearby mill. Plans are being considered to grind the flour in Puerto Rico and ship it here in sacks, a much more expensive process.

The U.S. government has offset some of the money shortage by distributing $9.2 million since the rebellion began on April 24. The Organization of American States got $6 million of this to pay the salaries of thousands of government employes for April. Some rebels also were paid.

The rebel regime says the banks can open downtown under certain conditions. These include the right to check private accounts if the rebels believe the money in these accounts was obtained illegally from state funds.

The four major banks rejected these conditions. They are the Royal Bank of Canada, the Bank of Nova Scotia, and two U.S. banks, First National City and Chase Manhattan.

Crucible Works Adds Shear, Die Equipment

A new shearing machine and die equipment have been installed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. to improve and provide more uniform agricultural steel products, the firm announced.

The new hump shear slices carbon strip into lengths from which the round and notched discs are punched. The progressive die is for a press which stamps out different shapes and types of shin plates for plows.

Teen-Age Dieting Calls For Family Teamwork

Ida Jean Kain

Overweight teen - agers need someone to take an interest in their weight problems. . .someone to encourage them in their dieting efforts. In fact, dieting calls for teamwork by the family. One unhappy youngster writes:

"Please help me, I'm desperate. I'm 15 and weigh 152 pounds. I am 5' 7" tall and measure 34-26-40. I eat like I don't know what! But when I do stop overeating, then all I eat is apples and oranges. Are these fattening? I could live off them if it were necessary. Please, please help me. My hips and legs are the worst.

"I'M ASHAMED to diet openly. My parents and friends, plus my relatives, would only poke fun at me. Please give me as much advice as possible."

First off, congratulations for your concern and for taking the initiative to do something about it. At 15, a weight of 152 is not a laughing matter. Declare your serious intentions to your family, not in a light or kidding way. Remember, the way you talk with your family about the problem conditions their response. Show them you have a problem and that you need and want their help.

Recognize, however, that the real issue is not whether your family is going to take your dieting efforts seriously, but whether you are. If you make a determined, honest effort to stop stuffing and leave out sweets, the family will soon sense your resolve and cooperate.

About the diet: You cannot live on apples and oranges, whether they are fattening or non-fattening. Get hep to the fact that eating — right eating, not dieting — is the backbone of healthful reducing. Why not learn about good nutrition, and apply this to everyday eating?

At which meal do you overeat? Try the plan of eating about half as much at that meal as you do now. This will work slimming wonders. Give real forethought to the idea that you will get up from the table before you overeat. Picture it, and make this a mind - set.

HEAVY LEGS and hefty hips may be a family characteristic. When you gain, the excess tends to go to those places, but you can take it off those places . . with exercise and proper eating.

Plan to spend 15 minutes daily on leg swinging and rolling exercises. Hit a rhythm; you'll enjoy the workout. You can shape up and feel alive with exercise and daily physical activity. Take your choice: swim, walk, dance, play tennis — but do it regularly. Soon you will look and feel wonderful.

Have the courage of your own convictions. You cannot be governed by what people laugh at. Live your life to make your dreams come true. Happy slimming, honey!

Send stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for Teen-Age Challenge and Revised Calorie Chart. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Humphrey Says U.S. Is Pledged To End Job Bias

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says the federal government is pledged to put an end to job discrimination.

"We'll walk that extra mile to achieve voluntary compliance," Humphrey told more than 800 business leaders at the Northwest Regional Plans for Progress Conference Thursday night.

"But let everyone be assured of one thing: We intend for these standards to be observed and we intend to expand the opportunities for individuals in this country."

Humphrey said strides have been made and cited statistics from 100 companies. He said 27.9 per cent of the total increase in employment from 1963 to 1964 went to non-whites.

SALTY BABY FOOD AND HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Q. A recent newspaper article states that salt present in infant foods may be a factor in the development of high blood pressure later in life. Is this true?

A. Certain animal studies suggest such a possibility but there is no proof that the same thing applies to humans. A great many questions about high blood pressure remain unanswered. Until much more is known, limiting the salt intake of infants to prevent possible high blood pressure in adult life would be an unnecessarily illogical and unjustified procedure.

TONGUE-TIE

Q. Are some people actually tongue-tied?

A. Yes, the tongue can be so adherent that in speech, the tip is not free to touch the roof of the mouth. Difficulty is therefore encountered in making the sounds "t," "d," and "n." A simple surgical procedure corrects the mechanical defect but in the older child or adult this does not necessarily ensure proper speech. It is often necessary to follow the surgery with speech therapy to correct the faulty speech habit.

Politics And The Late Show

Democrats keep saying that the Republicans are having trouble finding eligible vote getters to run for office, but it isn't true. The GOP has discovered a secret pool of talent so obvious and simple that Democrats haven't really caught on to it yet.

Hal Humphrey

Just stay with the late, late TV shows featuring old, old movies and you will be getting an advance look at the Republican candidates who'll be running in '66 and '68.

Some uninformed observers of the political scene thought ex-song - and - dance man George Murphy got the GOP nod to run for senator from California because the party felt indebted to him for organizing Hollywood entertainment at GOP conventions the past several years.

NOT SO. Party strategists saw all of that free TV time George was grabbing with his old movies, and also the image being cast by most of the roles he had then. In the 1938 picture, "Little Miss Broadway," he is Shirley Temple's protector.

"Hold That Co-ed" is another of similar vintage which has George steeped in pretty girls, college football and politics.

It seems almost certain that actor Ronald Reagan will be the GOP's next choice to run for governor in California. Here, too, the image and free TV time come into play. Anyone staying up late enough can't escape seeing an old Ronald Reagan movie on TV. And his roles always were true-blue.

REAGAN also replaced Stanley Andrews, the old ranger on the mule train with the syndicated TV series, "Death Valley Days," this season. That's role which won't smirch his image.

Pierre Salinger, who got beaten out last November by the now Sen. Murphy, finally saw the advantage of a show business career and recently wangled a very small bit part in an upcoming Doris Day movie ("Do Not Disturb"). It will take awhile, however, for it to reach late, late show status on TV, and even then Pierre isn't likely to benefit.

Inexplicably the Democrats haven't yet seen the advantages in rehabilitating middle - aged movie stars to political careers —especially those from the late, late TV shows. When they do, the Republicans will have already skimmed the cream of the talent.

ACTOR WENDELL COREY, another favorite in movies resurrected for TV, was elected to City Council in Santa Monica a few weeks ago. If Ronald Reagan should get to be California's governor, we're bound to see other Hollywood faces around the Statehouse.

On the national political horizon, besides Sen. Murphy, there is Robert Montgomery, who was a familiar figure around the White House during President Eisenhower's stay there. He saw to it that Ike had the proper direction on his TV appearances.

Big John Wayne is another man to watch. The GOP might decide he is just the Western type hombre to take the play away from Lyndon (Tex) Johnson in '68.

With Wayne in the White House, it wouldn't take much imagination to see Walter Brennan as his secretary of state, Loretta Young heading up health and welfare and Edward G. Robinson as secretary of defense.

PAT O'BRIEN or James Cagney appear to be naturals for succeeding J. Edgar Hoover, and Spencer Tracy would be a shoo-in for attorney general. Fred MacMurray is a perfect choice for secretary of the treasury. He could make up any deficits out of his own pocket.

In fact, if the average TV viewer puts his mind to it, there isn't a job in Washington he couldn't cast from the score or more big stars he sees every week in the late, late show.

Democrats may laugh at such a possibility, but if they think the GOP is about to stop after George Murphy and maybe Ronald Reagan, then they aren't measuring the opposition's newest secret weapon.

Graduation Rites Important To All

High school graduation commencement is a great event in most school communities, especially in the smaller ones. Parents, grandparents, uncles, aunts nd cousins are there to see a boy or girl receive a diploma. Suppose the graduating class is small enough for each graduate to walk a cross the platform to receive the diploma as his or her name is called.

Dr. Garry Myers

Suppose as your son's or daughter's name is called by the principal you barely recognize the name; or suppose it is pronounced so incorrectly by the school principal that the audience, on hearing it, roar with laughter. How will you feel then? How will the son or daughter feel?

You and I have been at a high school commencement when such happened. Indeed, I don't recall having attended any in which it didn't happen, and I used to get to many as a "commencement speaker." Always it was an uncomfortable period while this barbarity occurred. I would suffer vicariously with the student victim and his loved ones there for I couldn't keep from imagining myself in their places.

WHAT MADE it especially horrible ws that more often than not the student whose name was mispronounced was not Smith or Brown or Williams but a longer name suggesting that his forebears came from a non-English speaking country—that he had what a lot of snobs and bigots call a "foreign name."

In contrast I once visited in a high school of nearly a thousand students and observed that the principal, as we walked through the crowded halls as classes passed, seemed to be able to address every student by his or her last name. I was so amazed at his skill that I asked him how he did it. He replied that he worked hard at it.

Well, we hardly should expect every high school principal to do as well in this direction. But we wish he would practice before the night of commencement with the graduating students individually till he was able to pronounce their names distinctly and correctly. With what dignity might he then perform on commencement night.

SOME HIGH school teachers may meet a total of a few hundred students a week.

But being smart enough to teach they should be smart enough to remember, after a few weeks, and pronounce correctly the first and last names of each student. Most would if they considered it important to do so. Could anything else be as important? Isn't a person's name very precious to him?

Of course, just first names may be easier to pronounce and remember, and some high school teachers still address their students by their first name. But if, instead, it were Mr. or Miss, these students would feel they were treated as grown-up. I wonder what the youths themselves think about this matter.

My bulletin, "The Lonely, Timid Youth," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Intruder Obtains $10 In Change At State St. Laundry

An intruder obtained $10 in change when he rifled a desk in a State St. laundry Thursday afternoon, police reported.

The thief forced open a door to gain entrance to a back room at the Econ-O-Wash Laundry operated by Mrs. Joseph Clement and then ransacked the desk, obtaining $5 in dimes and $5 in quarters, officers said. The theft was timed about 1:10 p. m. Nothing else appeared to be missing.

In another laundry incident between 7 and 11:30 p. m. yesterday, a thief broke a glass section in the front of a vending machine and stole two 10 - cent candy bars, police said. The theft was reported at another Econ-O-Wash laundry at 1790 Pennsylvania Ave., operated by Paul Conkle.

Meanwhile, Louis Groglode, 920 Lisbon St., told officers late Thursday afternoon vandals damaged and stole a number of flowering shrubs and plants in the lawn at his home some time between 11 p. m. Wednesday and 9 a. m. Thursday.

He said the loss included two prize-winning rose bushes, three beds of petunias and eight day lilies. Some of the plants were dug up and carried away, he said.

Reserve Unit To Leave For Training Site

Company A of the 7th Battalion, 68th Armor, local Army reserve unit, will leave Saturday for Camp Hill, Va., to join other units of the 83rd Infantry Division for the annual two weeks field training.

The 7th Battalion is commanded by Lt. Col. Arnold W. Bokesch. It is comprised of Headquarters Co. of Salem, commanded by Capt. William R. Zinz Jr.; Co. A of East Liverpool, commanded by Capt. James E. Fox; Co. B of Warren, commanded by Capt. Thomas H. Tisher, and Co. C of East Palestine, commanded by Capt. William Dunfee.

The unit will receive training in "Tank and Infantry Operations."

The equipment convoy left the Poplar Ln. Armory this morning.

VFW Post Given Calcutta Soldier

Staff Sgt. Jack A. Giralico of Calcutta, who has been in the Army for about 16 years, has been appointed National Aide-de-camp, recruiting class, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The announcement was made from VFW headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., by John A. Jenkins, commander.

Sgt. Giralico is attending a supply school at Ft. Lee, Va., and will complete the course in two weeks, after which he will be assigned to Ft. Knox, Ky.

He and his wife, the former Alice Wagner of East Liverpool, and their three sons and two daughters returned to the States in April from Okinawa. He served as a supply sergeant there for four years.

A former resident of Midland, Sgt. Giralico served in the Korean conflict, after which he worked at the former Treadwell Construction Co. in Midland and then the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. In 1953, he re-enlisted in the Army. He is the son of Mrs. Minnie Giralico of Midland Heights.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Politics And The Late Show

Democrats keep saying that the Republicans are having trouble finding eligible vote getters to run for office, but it isn't true. The GOP has discovered a secret pool of talent so obvious and simple that Democrats haven't really caught on to it yet.

Hal Humphrey

Just stay with the late, late TV shows featuring old, old movies and you will be getting an advance look at the Republican candidates who'll be running in '66 and '68.

Some uninformed observers of the political scene thought exsong - and - dance man George Murphy got the GOP nod to run for senator from California because the party felt indebted to him for organizing Hollywood entertainment at GOP conventions the past several years.

NOT SO. Party strategists saw all of that free TV time George was grabbing with his old movies, and also the image being cast by most of the roles he had then. In the 1938 picture, "Little Miss Broadway," he is Shirley Temple's protector.

"Hold That Co-ed" is another of similar vintage which has George steeped in pretty girls, college football and politics.

It seems almost certain that actor Ronald Reagan will be the GOP's next choice to run for governor in California. Here, too, the image and free TV time come into play. Anyone staying up late enough can't escape seeing an old Ronald Reagan movie on TV. And his roles always were true-blue.

REAGAN also replaced Stanley Andrews, the old ranger on the mule train with the syndicated TV series, "Death Valley Days," this season. That's role which won't smirch his image.

Pierre Salinger, who got beaten out last November by the now Sen. Murphy, finally saw the advantage of a show business career and recently wangled a very small bit part in an upcoming Doris Day movie ("Do Not Disturb"). It will take awhile, however, for it to reach late, late show status on TV, and even then Pierre isn't likely to benefit.

Inexplicably the Democrats haven't yet seen the advantages in rehabilitating middle - aged movie stars to political careers —especially those from the late, late TV shows. When they do, the Republicans will have already skimmed the cream of the talent.

ACTOR WENDELL COREY, another favorite in movies resurrected for TV, was elected to City Council in Santa Monica a few weeks ago. If Ronald Reagan should get to be California's governor, we're bound to see other Hollywood faces around the Statehouse.

On the national political horizon, besides Sen. Murphy, there is Robert Montgomery, who was a familiar figure around the White House during President Eisenhower's stay there. He saw to it that Ike had the proper direction on his TV appearances.

Big John Wayne is another man to watch. The GOP might decide he is just the Western type hombre to take the play away from Lyndon (Tex) Johnson in '68.

With Wayne in the White House, it wouldn't take much imagination to see Walter Brennan as his secretary of state, Loretta Young heading up health and welfare and Edward G. Robinson as secretary of defense.

PAT O'BRIEN or James Cagney appear to be naturals for succeeding J. Edgar Hoover, and Spencer Tracy would be a shoo-in for attorney general. Fred MacMurray is a perfect choice for secretary of the treasury. He could make up any deficits out of his own pocket.

In fact, if the average TV viewer puts his mind to it, there isn't a job in Washington he couldn't cast from the score or more big stars he sees every week in the late, late show.

Democrats may laugh at such a possibility, but if they think the GOP is about to stop after George Murphy and maybe Ronald Reagan, then they aren't measuring the opposition's newest secret weapon.

TV Highlights

7:30, KDKA, WSTV, Rawhide: Louis Hayward guest stars as John Tasker, a Wells Fargo agent who has $5,000 in gold for Rowdy Yates, and a deadly secret, in "The Backshooter."

8:30, WJAC, WTRF, WHC, Bob Hope: "Terror Island," starring Ginger Rogers and Carol Lawrence. A young bride senses hostility and danger when she first meets her husband's mother and sister at their remote island home. (color)

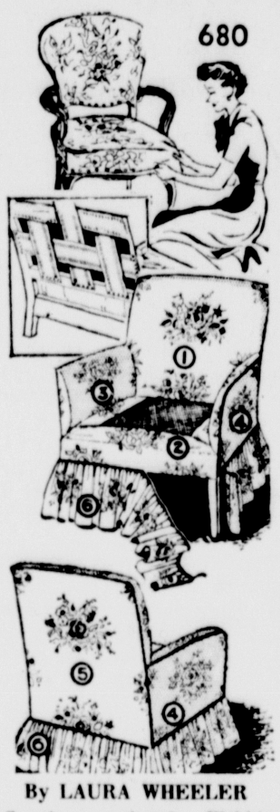

9:30, KDKA, WSTV, Gomer Pyle: Sgt. Carter thinks Gomer is dying of a mysterious malady and starts waiting hand and foot on the ailing private.

9:30, KDKA, WSTV, Jack Benny: Jack and Lucille Ball present their version of the "real story" behind Paul Revere's midnight ride.

10, KDKA, WSTV, Slattery's People: "Question: Which One Has the Pivilege?" The story involves a newspaperman's right to protect the source of a damaging news story.

11:15, WTAE, Movie: "Look Back in Anger," starring Richard Burton and Claire Bloom. A film, based on John Osbourne's play, which tells of a young man's realization, almost too late, of his need and love for his wife.

First Practice Held By County 4-H Band

LISBON — Thirty - six musicians attended the first practice of the Columbiana County 4-H band Wednesday night at the Lisbon Grange Hall.

The band is open to any boy or girl in the county regardless of whether they belong to 4-H Club, Robert Lewis, county extension agent in 4-H work, pointed out.

Any youngster over 12 is eligible to become a member of the band, which will play for various activities during the summer.

Another practice will be held next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the grange hall.

William Justice of Poland again is serving as director.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Graduation Rites Important To All

High school graduation commencement is a great event in most school communities, especially in the smaller ones. Parents, grandparents, uncles, aunts nd cousins are there to see a boy or girl receive a diploma. Suppose the graduating class is small enough for each graduate to walk a cross the platform to receive the diploma as his or her name is called.

Dr. Garry Myers

Suppose as your son's or daughter's name is called by the principal you barely recognize the name; or suppose it is pronounced so incorrectly by the school principal that the audience, on hearing it, roar with laughter. How will you feel then? How will the son or daughter feel?

You and I have been at a high school commencement when such happened. Indeed, I don't recall having attended any in which it didn't happen, and I used to get to many as a "commencement speaker." Always it was an uncomfortable period while this barbarity occurred. I would suffer vicariously with the student victim and his loved ones there for I couldn't keep from imagining myself in their places.

WHAT MADE it especially horrible ws that more often than not the student whose name was mispronounced was not Smith or Brown or Williams but a longer name suggesting that his forebears came from a non-English speaking country—that he had what a lot of snobs and bigots call a "foreign name."

In contrast I once visited in a high school of nearly a thousand students and observed that the principal, as we walked through the crowded halls as classes passed, seemed to be able to address every student by his or her last name. I was so amazed at his skill that I asked him how he did it. He replied that he worked hard at it.

Well, we hardly should expect every high school principal to do as well in this direction. But we wish he would practice before the night of commencement with the graduating students individually till he was able to pronounce their names distinctly and correctly. With what dignity might he then perform on commencement night.

SOME HIGH school teachers may meet a total of a few hundred students a week.

But being smart enough to teach they should be smart enough to remember, after a few weeks, and pronounce correctly the first and last names of each student. Most would if they considered it important to do so. Could anything else be as important? Isn't a person's name very precious to him?

Of course, just first names may be easier to pronounce and remember, and some high school teachers still address their students by their first name. But if, instead, it were Mr. or Miss, these students would feel they were treated as grown-up. I wonder what the youths themselves think about this matter.

My bulletin, "The Lonely, Timid Youth," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Intruder Obtains $10 In Change At State St. Laundry

An intruder obtained $10 in change when he rifled a desk in a State St. laundry Thursday afternoon, police reported.

The thief forced open a door to gain entrance to a back room at the Econ-O-Wash Laundry operated by Mrs. Joseph Clement and then ransacked the desk, obtaining $5 in dimes and $5 in quarters, officers said. The theft was timed about 1:10 p. m. Nothing else appeared to be missing.

In another laundry incident between 7 and 11:30 p. m. yesterday, a thief broke a glass section in the front of a vending machine and stole two 10 - cent candy bars, police said. The theft was reported at another Econ-O-Wash laundry at 1790 Pennsylvania Ave., operated by Paul Conkle.

Meanwhile, Louis Groglode, 920 Lisbon St., told officers late Thursday afternoon vandals damaged and stole a number of flowering shrubs and plants in the lawn at his home some time between 11 p. m. Wednesday and 9 a. m. Thursday.

He said the loss included two prize-winning rose bushes, three beds of petunias and eight day lilies. Some of the plants were dug up and carried away, he said.

Reserve Unit To Leave For Training Site

Company A of the 7th Battalion, 68th Armor, local Army reserve unit, will leave Saturday for Camp Hill, Va., to join other units of the 83rd Infantry Division for the annual two weeks field training.

The 7th Battalion is commanded by Lt. Col. Arnold W. Bokesch. It is comprised of Headquarters Co. of Salem, commanded by Capt. William R. Zinz Jr.; Co. A of East Liverpool, commanded by Capt. James E. Fox; Co. B of Warren, commanded by Capt. Thomas H. Tisher, and Co. C of East Palestine, commanded by Capt. William Dunfee.

The unit will receive training in "Tank and Infantry Operations."

The equipment convoy left the Poplar Ln. Armory this morning.

VFW Post Given Calcutta Soldier

Staff Sgt. Jack A. Giralico of Calcutta, who has been in the Army for about 16 years, has been appointed National Aide-de-camp, recruiting class, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The announcement was made from VFW headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., by John A. Jenkins, commander.

Sgt. Giralico is attending a supply school at Ft. Lee, Va., and will complete the course in two weeks, after which he will be assigned to Ft. Knox, Ky.

He and his wife, the former Alice Wagner of East Liverpool, and their three sons and two daughters returned to the States in April from Okinawa. He served as a supply sergeant there for four years.

A former resident of Midland, Sgt. Giralico served in the Korean conflict, after which he worked at the former Treadwell Construction Co. in Midland and then the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. In 1953, he re-enlisted in the Army. He is the son of Mrs. Minnie Giralico of Midland Heights.

Probe Negro's Death

CINCINNATI (AP) — Homicide officers are investigating the death of a young Negro whose body was found Thursday with a bullet wound in the head. The victim was tentatively identified as Leroy Jennings, 28. The body was found in a wooded area.

Pirates' Latest String Extended To 6

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Trotters Go Postward Friday . . .

When The Meadows opens it gates next Friday night, district sports fans will have more than their share of night-time entertainment on hand.

Unless Waterford Park decides to switch to daylight racing while The Meadows is running, the racing fraternity will be split in two directions. And don't forget the redhot Pittsburgh Pirates, who have been attracting more patrons in the past few weeks while winning 18 of 20.

Feature of the opening night at The Meadows will be the appearance of Bret Hanover, the 3-year-old who has won 27 straight races.

The Washington trotting plant also will feature perfecta racing on the last race each night. The Pennsylvania Harness Racing Commission has approved this form of wagering.

Perfecta betting involves picking the horses which finish first and second in that order.

Majors Try New Draft . . .

IN CASE you are wondering what the new free-agent player draft in baseball is all about, the main purpose is to stop the big bonus money for youngsters and help strengthen the weaker clubs.

With one team having exclusive rights to sign a player under the new draft system, the competitive bidding for high-priced talent will come to an end.

For example, assume the New York Mets, last team in the National League, were attempting to sign Ohio State star Arnie Chonko.

The Mets have first choice and choose Chonko. They haxe six months to sign him. If Chonko cannot come to an agreement with the Mets, his name goes back into the players' pool for drafting at the next meeting in January.

Chonko may feel that he is worth a high-priced bonus, but if the Mets refuse to pay it, then Arnie has to wait six months because he can't deal with another club and no other club can deal with him.

At the end of the six-month period he must start again to negotiate with another club.

FROM TAMPA, Fla., came a letter from Adrian (Adie) Wright, a former softball pitcher in East Liverpool during the early 1930's.

Wright requested this department to see if any records show where he pitched a no-hit game in 1930 or 1931 in the Church Softball League.

A hurried look revealed no record of the game, but perhaps some one playing at that time could supply us with the information.

Wright also reported that Ken Russell, the former Midland and Florida State grid star, will be teaching and coaching in Tampa at Chamberlain High School this fall.

Glover Knocks In Winning Run For Chester Merchants

Peck Glover singled to right-field scoring Dick Davis with the winning run as the Chester Merchants edged Globe Brick, 6-5, in extra innings Thursday in the Chester City Softball League.

Davis had got on base on an error before scoring the deciding run in the eighth.

Bob Campbell had tied the game in the seventh inning on a long single to left which plated two runs and knotted the score at 5-5.

Jerry Murawski belted a home run and two singles for the losers.

Frank Paytors picked up the win in relief of Jack Evans and Bill Talbot was the loser.

Hancock Savings will meet Scafide's today. Managers are reminded to submit their team rosters by Monday.

Chisox Move Within 1½ Of Loop Leaders

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The best advice Sam McDowell ever received was not to take any.

The 22-year-old Cleveland lefthander, a victim of the verbal handout, continued his outstanding pitching Thursday night by striking out nine in a 4-1 victory over first-place Minnesota and becoming the first American Leaguer to reach the 100-strikeout level this season.

McDowell now has won three straight, lifting his record to 6-3 while proving that the amazing flip-flop he made after the middle of the 1964 season was only the first step toward justifying the $100,000 bonus the Indians paid out five years ago.

For it was only last season that McDowell, who took advice so readily he learned his pickoff move in a telephone conversation, began to listen to General Manager Gabe Paul and walk away from all the free advice he was getting.

"I had a brainstorm," admits McDowell, "I woke up."

Instead of experimenting, McDowell began to rely only on a fast ball and curve, enough equipment for a guy with his overpowering speed.

So, he closed his ears, opened up with the fast ball and curve after three previous shots at the majors had proved fruitless and put together an 11-6 record over the final half of the season.

And now he suddenly has blossomed into the league's strikeout artist, challenging Sandy Koufax for the major league lead. McDowell has struck out 108 in 80 2-3 innings to 119 in 101 1-3 innings for the Los Angeles Dodgers' southpaw.

In the only other AL game scheduled, the Chicago White Sox moved to within 1½ games of the front-running Twins by downing Boston 4-2.

McDowell struck out Twins' slugger Harmon Killebrew three times and allowed Minnesota's only run in the second inning on a walk and singles by Jerry Kindall and pitcher Dave Boswell. He allowed only six hits until the ninth when the Twins threatened and Gary Bell finished up.

Camilo Carreon hit a two-run homer in Cleveland's three-run second inning uprising against Boswell and Leon Wagner wrapped up the scoring with a solo homer in the third.

Bunker, who had a 19-5 record last season but has been plagued by arm trouble, came through with his second straight strong performance, losing his bid for a shutout in the seventh inning when Dave Johnson's error contributed to an unearned Wahington run.

Bunker, now 3-2, also collected a two-run single in the eighth inning after the Orioles had snapped a 1-1 tie in the seventh when Johnson doubled and scored on a single by Russ Snyder.

The Red Sox led 2-1 and Dave Morehead was working on a three-hitter when the White Sox suddenly threatened in the seventh. Boston reliever Dick Radatz came on, hit Don Buford with a pitch to load the bases and then was tagged for a triple by Floyd Robinson.

Gary Peters, who gave up Tony Conigliaro's 12th homer, got the victory for a 5-4 record with Hoyt Wilhelm's relief help.

Casper, Lema Share Cleveland Lead

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — The first-round leaders in the $135,000 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament are nursing a variety of ailments, but their scores are healthy enough.

Billy Casper, the veteran Californian, said he didn't think he would even play Thursday after surgery the night before to remove a hemorrhoid.

But the 33-year-old Casper showed up anyway and posted a strong four-under-par 67 over Highland Parks's 6,821-yard course.

"It didn't bother me a bit," Casper said of his minor operation after he moved into a first-place deadlock with defending titlist Tony Lema.

Champagne Tony, who rang up five birdies and a bogey in registering his 67, said he felt "lousy" because of a heavy cold.

"A few more birdies and I would have forgotten I had a cold," Lema jested after his impressive round.

And Tommy Aaron, one of five pros chasing the leaders only a stroke behind at 68, said he has been taking penicillin for a strep throat he picked up last weekend at the Buick Open.

Another pro fighting a nagging cold, Arnold Palmer, started slowly but finished with an even par 71.

For two of the tour's champions, it was a long day. U.S. Open titlist Ken Venturi, plagued by a circulatory ailment in his hands, shot a 76 while PGA king Bobby Nichols came in with a 75.

Venturi, who says frankly "I am playing poorly," will defend his Open crown in St. Louis next week.

Deadlocked with Aaron were rookie Bob Reith Jr., Bill Martindale, Dan Sikes and Johnny Pott.

Aqueduct's Oaks Is Top Turf Event

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The richest purses on the American turf Saturday will be for 3-year-olds with distaff members of the division appearing in the wealthiest of them all — the $100,000-added Coaching Club American Oaks at Aqueduct.

Male members of the division, riddled by injuries to top performers, get three chances at rich prizes. They are the one mile of the $50,000-added Swaps at Arlington Park, the 1 1-16 miles of the $50,000-added Michigan Derby at Hazel Park and $30,000-added Argonaut over 1 1-16 miles at Hollywood Park.

The 1¼ miles of the Coaching Club American Oaks is the finale of New York's Triple Crown for 3-year-old fillies. It is expected to attract a field of 10, including the winners of the first two legs — Ground Control (Acorn) and Cordially (Mother Goose). Cordially has been made a supplementary entry by owner Howell E. Jackson at the cost of $10,000. With 10 starters the race will be worth $84,175 to the winner.

Other likely starters include such contenders for the divisional title as Marshua, What A Treat, Up Oars and Terentia.

Swift Ruler and Mr. Pak, also rans in the Kentucky Derby, top the probable field of eight or nine in the Swaps.

Now, if the Pirates only had the Mets' number the way Juan Marichal does. . .

Pittsburgh is the hottest team in the major leagues with 18 victories in the last 20 games after a 4-2 victory over Houston Thursday night. Marichal, meanwhile, continued feeding New York his personal steady diet of blanks as San Francisco downed the Mets 3-0.

The Pirates' victory stretched their latest winning streak to six games while the Mets' loss was their sixth in a row. The last time New York won, Pittsburgh lost. In fact the Pirates' only two setbacks in the last three weeks have come at the hands of the cellar-dwelling New Yorkers.

Bob Veale won his fifth straight complete game against the Astros with home runs by Willie Stargell and Donn Clendenon the key blows for the Pirates.

League-leading Los Angeles was blanked by Philadelphia's Ray Herbert, who pitched his first National League shutout 4-0. In afternoon games, Milwaukee moved within 2½ games of the lead with a 6-4 victory over Chicago and Cincinnati edged St. Louis 8-7.

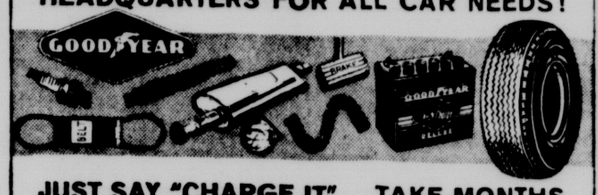

Veale had his string of scoreless innings snapped at 28 when Houston pushed a run across in the fifth, but the tall left-hander went on to his seventh victory in nine decisions.

Marichal shut out the Mets for the third time this season and has allowed them just one run in the last 52 innings dating back to May 31, 1964. The victory ran his career mark to 12-0 against New York.

Jesus Alou and Jim Davenport provided Marichal (9-5) with all the runs he needed, hammering solo home runs against Met starter Gary Kroll.

Richie Allen and Dick Stuart supported Herbert with back-to-back homers in the sixth inning as the Phillie right-hander evened his record at 3-3.

Stuart, whose fielding has left something to be desired in the past, turned in the defensive play of the night to bail Herbert out of a spot in the eighth. After Ruben Amaro made two errors on one play, allowing Willie Crawford to reach second, Stuart barely reached Maury Wills' little pop up and then flipped to Amaro, doubling Crawford.

Chisox Move Within 1½ Of Loop Leaders

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The best advice Sam McDowell ever received was not to take any.

The 22-year-old Cleveland lefthander, a victim of the verbal handout, continued his outstanding pitching Thursday night by striking out nine in a 4-1 victory over first-place Minnesota and becoming the first American Leaguer to reach the 100-strikeout level this season.

McDowell now has won three straight, lifting his record to 6-3 while proving that the amazing flip-flop he made after the middle of the 1964 season was only the first step toward justifying the $100,000 bonus the Indians paid out five years ago.

For it was only last season that McDowell, who took advice so readily he learned his pickoff move in a telephone conversation, began to listen to General Manager Gabe Paul and walk away from all the free advice he was getting.

"I had a brainstorm," admits McDowell, "I woke up."

Instead of experimenting, McDowell began to rely only on a fast ball and curve, enough equipment for a guy with his overpowering speed.

So, he closed his ears, opened up with the fast ball and curve after three previous shots at the majors had proved fruitless and put together an 11-6 record over the final half of the season.

And now he suddenly has blossomed into the league's strikeout artist, challenging Sandy Koufax for the major league lead. McDowell has struck out 108 in 80 2-3 innings to 119 in 101 1-3 innings for the Los Angeles Dodgers' southpaw.

While McDowell was showing his problems are solved, Baltimore's Wally Bunker took his second straight swing at the sophomore jinx, allowing only an unearned run while scattering eight hits in a 5-1 victory over Washington.

In the only other AL game scheduled, the Chicago White Sox moved to within 1½ games of the front-running Twins by downing Boston 4-2.

McDowell struck out Twins' slugger Harmon Killebrew three times and allowed Minnesota's only run in the second inning on a walk and singles by Jerry Kindall and pitcher Dave Boswell. He allowed only six hits until the ninth when the Twins threatened and Gary Bell finished up.

Camilo Carreon hit a two-run homer in Cleveland's three-run second inning uprising against Boswell and Leon Wagner wrapped up the scoring with a solo homer in the third.

Bunker, who had a 19-5 record last season but has been plagued by arm trouble, came through with his second straight strong performance, losing his bid for a shutout in the seventh inning when Dave Johnson's error contributed to an unearned Wahington run.

Bunker, now 3-2, also collected a two-run single in the eighth inning after the Orioles had snapped a 1-1 tie in the seventh when Johnson doubled and scored on a single by Russ Snyder.

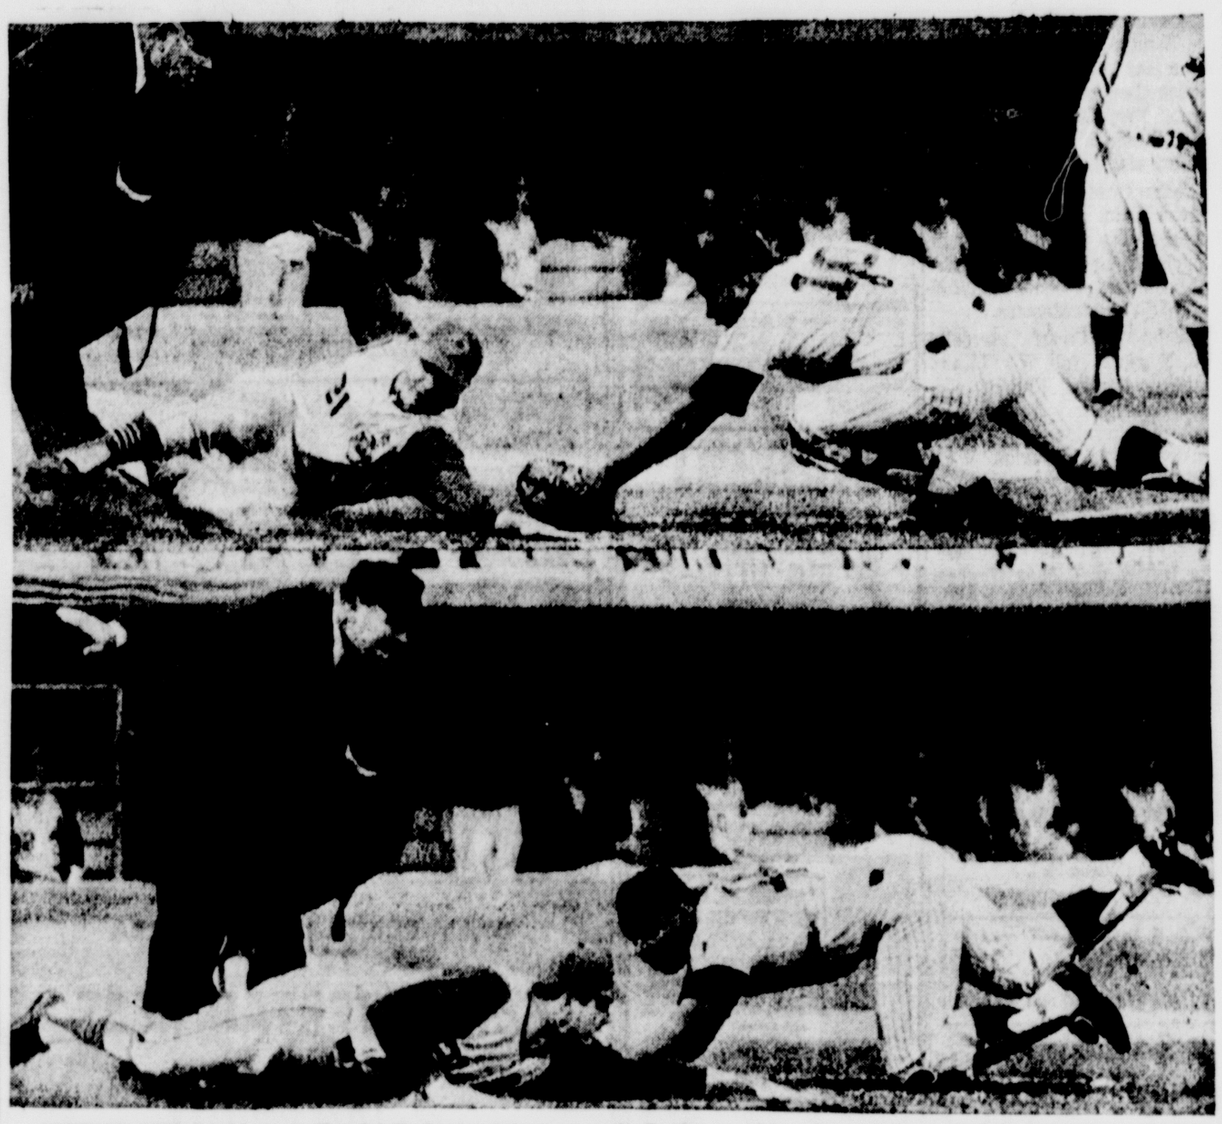

The Red Sox led 2-1 and Dave Morehead was working on a three-hitter when the White Sox suddenly threatened in the seventh. Boston reliever Dick Radatz came on, hit Don Buford with a pitch to load the bases and then was tagged for a triple by Floyd Robinson.

Gary Peters, who gave up Tony Conigliaro's 12th homer, got the victory for a 5-4 record with Hoyt Wilhelm's relief help.

Casper, Lema Share Cleveland Lead

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — The first-round leaders in the $135,000 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament are nursing a variety of ailments, but their scores are healthy enough.

Billy Casper, the veteran Californian, said he didn't think he would even play Thursday after surgery the night before to remove a hemorrhoid.

But the 33-year-old Casper showed up anyway and posted a strong four-under-par 67 over Highland Parks's 6,821-yard course.

"It didn't bother me a bit," Casper said of his minor operation after he moved into a first-place deadlock with defending titlist Tony Lema.

Champagne Tony, who rang up five birdies and a bogey in registering his 67, said he felt "lousy" because of a heavy cold.

"A few more birdies and I would have forgotten I had a cold," Lema jested after his impressive round.

And Tommy Aaron, one of five pros chasing the leaders only a stroke behind at 68, said he has been taking penicillin for a strep throat he picked up last weekend at the Buick Open.

Another pro fighting a nagging cold, Arnold Palmer, started slowly but finished with an even par 71.

For two of the tour's champions, it was a long day. U.S. Open titlist Ken Venturi, plagued by a circulatory ailment in his hands, shot a 76 while PGA king Bobby Nichols came in with a 75.

Venturi, who says frankly "I am playing poorly," will defend his Open crown in St. Louis next week.

Deadlocked with Aaron were rookie Bob Reith Jr., Bill Martindale, Dan Sikes and Johnny Pott.

Aqueduct's Oaks Is Top Turf Event

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The richest purses on the American turf Saturday will be for 3-year-olds with distaff members of the division appearing in the wealthiest of them all — the $100,000-added Coaching Club American Oaks at Aqueduct.

Male members of the division, riddled by injuries to top performers, get three chances at rich prizes. They are the one mile of the $50,000-added Swaps at Arlington Park, the 1 1-16 miles of the $50,000-added Michigan Derby at Hazel Park and $30,000-added Argonaut over 1 1-16 miles at Hollywood Park.

The 1¼ miles of the Coaching Club American Oaks is the finale of New York's Triple Crown for 3-year-old fillies. It is expected to attract a field of 10, including the winners of the first two legs — Ground Control (Acorn) and Cordially (Mother Goose). Cordially has been made a supplementary entry by owner Howell E. Jackson at the cost of $10,000. With 10 starters the race will be worth $84,175 to the winner.

Other likely starters include such contenders for the divisional title as Marshua, What A Treat, Up Oars and Terentia.

Swift Ruler and Mr. Pak, also rans in the Kentucky Derby, top the probable field of eight or nine in the Swaps.

Phils Blank Dodgers, 4-0; Reds Win, 8-7

By HAL BOCK

Now, if the Pirates only had the Mets' number the way Juan Marichal does. . .

Pittsburgh is the hottest team in the major leagues with 18 victories in the last 20 games after a 4-2 victory over Houston Thursday night. Marichal, meanwhile, continued feeding New York his personal steady diet of blanks as San Francisco downed the Mets 3-0.

The Pirates' victory stretched their latest winning streak to six games while the Mets' loss was their sixth in a row. The last time New York won, Pittsburgh lost. In fact the Pirates' only two setbacks in the last three weeks have come at the hands of the cellar-dwelling New Yorkers.

Bob Veale won his fifth straight complete game against the Astros with home runs by Willie Stargell and Donn Clendenon the key blows for the Pirates.

League-leading Los Angeles was blanked by Philadelphia's Ray Herbert, who pitched his first National League shutout 4-0. In afternoon games, Milwaukee moved within 2½ games of the lead with a 6-4 victory over Chicago and Cincinnati edged St. Louis 8-7.

Veale had his string of scoreless innings snapped at 28 when Houston pushed a run across in the fifth, but the tall left-hander went on to his seventh victory in nine decisions.

Marichal shut out the Mets for the third time this season and has allowed them just one run in the last 52 innings dating back to May 31, 1964. The victory ran his career mark to 12-0 against New York.

Jesus Alou and Jim Davenport provided Marichal (9-5) with all the runs he needed, hammering solo home runs against Met starter Gary Kroll.

Richie Allen and Dick Stuart supported Herbert with back-to-back homers in the sixth inning as the Phillie right-hander evened his record at 3-3.

Stuart, whose fielding has left something to be desired in the past, turned in the defensive play of the night to bail Herbert out of a spot in the eighth. After Ruben Amaro made two errors on one play, allowing Willie Crawford to reach second, Stuart barely reached Maury Wills' little pop up and then flipped to Amaro, doubling Crawford.

Howell Pitches Pony No-Hitter

Jerry Howell joined the local Pony League Hall of Fame with the league's first no-hitter as Burbick's whipped George Bright's, 15-0.

On his way to the masterpiece, Howell fanned 16 batters while giving up only two walks.

His teammates backed him with a 12-hit attack as Burbick's scored four times in the second inning and the rout was on.

Berhar smacked two home runs to lead Burbick's while Lacey connected for a roundtripper.

In another contest Thursday, Litten's banged out 11 hits to score a 10-5 victory over Sevy's.

A home run and two singles by Myers plus Bob Flint's three safeties paced Litten's plate attack. Parson was the winning pitcher allowing seven hits while Don Smith was checked with the loss.

Bill Montgomery clouted a home run and two singles in Sevy's losing cause.

20th County Dog Show Set Saturday At Salem

The 20th annual all - breed dog show and obedience trail, sponsored by the Columbiana County Kennel Club will be held Saturday at the Saxon Country Club near Salem.

The show hours will be from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. and 611 dogs have entered. The entires mark the largest turnout in the club's history and is almost 100 over the 517 which entered a year ago.

Dan Perkins of East Liverpool is local field chairman for the show.

Thirty-two local dogs who have compiled points towards a championship will be shown.

All proceeds from the show will be given to the multiple sclerosis society.

Riverview Pounds Lawyers For 15-3 Colt League Win

Riverview unleashed a 12-hit attack and took advantage of five misplays to hand the Lawyers a 15-3 setback Thursday in the Colt League.

Riverview took a 7-0 lead after three innings then bombarded its foe for eight runs in the sixth frame.

Bob Pancake with three hits plus a pair of doubles by Mike McVay led the Riverview sluggers.

Juszczak was the winning pitcher as he hurled shut out ball for five innings and scattered six hits. Carl Natalina was the losing pitcher.

Arlin Hurls Top Game In College Tournament

OMAHA (AP)—Steve Arlin's courageous 15-inning job Thursday night for Ohio State, a three-hitter with 20 strikeouts, overshadowed Arizona State's relentless drive to its first College World Series championship.

Arlin pitched a four-hit victory over Florida State Monday, had one day of rest, started Wednesday against Arizona State and was knocked out in the first inning by four solid hits and four Ohio State errors. Then he came back Thursday with possibly the top game in Series history.

His 1 - 0 shutout eliminated Washington State. Then Arizona ousted St. Louis 6-2, making it a two-team race.

Arizona State, 4-0 in the double elimination tourney, can wrap it up by beating the Buckeyes tonight.

Ohio State, 3 - 1, must whip ASU two straight, tonight and Saturday, to claim its first NCAA baseball crown and the big Ten's sixth.

Ohio State's cause is far from hopeless, even though Arlin is through for the series, barring rainouts. Marty Karow will start lefthander John Durant, who pitched a six-hit 14 - 1 victory over Washington State Tuesday.

If Durant wins, Karow can come back Saturday with Ron Kitchon, senior righthander who held ASU to one run in 7 2-3 innings Wednesday.

Arlin's 15 innings pitched and 20 strikeouts broke Series pitching records of 13 innings and 16 strikeouts. He walked only five.

STEVE ARLIN
Hurls Outstanding Game.

Arlin, sophomore righthander with an outstanding fast ball, was on the brink of defeat in the last of the 13th after permitting only two runnners as far as second base until then. WSU's Dale Ford led off the 13th with a 420-foot triple to center. Then Arlin issued the two intentional walks, got Dale Schilley on a weak grounder to the mound for a double play and struck out Duane Rossman.

The winning run scored on an error with two out in the 15th.

Rogers, T.S.&T., Pusateri's Capture Minor League Tilts

Roger's Drive-In led the Little Minor League in runs scored Thursday with a 20-5 win over M. & A. Motors while T. S. & T. edged Tri-State Appliance, 14-13 and Pusateri's was a 15-11 winner over Potters Bank & Trust.

LeMasters clouted a home run and double and Armstrong collected a double and single for Rogers. Tom Bennett, the winning pitcher, allowed M. & A. batters only two hits but one was a roundtripper by Crowe.

Steven Hancock's four hits led T. S. & T. to its narrow victory over Tri-State. Hancock also claimed the pitching victory as Bruce Branson was the loser. Bosworth collected three singles for Tri-State.

Matt Stewart pitched and batted Pusateri's to victory. He fanned nine batters and allowed seven hits while collecting three safeties himself. Schwartz came up with three hits for the winners. Mike Forzano came up with three of Potters seven hits.

Jr. Legion Defeated By Steubenville

Post 374, limited to three hits by Larry Leasure, dropped a 2-0 decision at Steubenville Thursday.

Steubenville came up with two runs in the first inning off loser Rich Whittington for the only scoring of the game.

East Liverpool was paced at the plate by Shorades with two singles in two trips.

Post 374 will meet Hanoverton Sunday at 3:30 on Colt Field.

High-Scoring Games Mark Little League

Several high scoring contests marked the Little League action Thursday.

Chester Legion outlasted McBurney's 12-9 as the winners pounded out 17 hits including two doubles and a single by Earl Taylor and Alan Forsythe. Mike Banfield was the winning pitcher allowing five hits.

Bill Pittenger drove in three of McBurney's runs with a triple while Tom Samples doubled.

Golden Star ripped Travelers Hotel, 23-9 featured by a 12-run third inning and an eight-run fifth frame. The Dairymen unleased an 18-hit attack with Bob Robinson's two doubles and single leading the way. Dave Kyle was the winning pitcher and fanned eight batters. Jeff Davis was charged with the loss.

Veteran Plate Glass took a 10-0 lead after two innings and went on to a 16-10 victory over Vernon Dell. Randy McVay's two home runs paced the Vets' 11-hit attack while Mike Horoszko chipped in with two singles.

Vernon Dell came up with 13 hits including a home run by Bob Deem while Gary Cunningham lashed a pair of doubles and a single. Rick Watson, the winning moundsman, fanned eight batters.

Newell, Shippingport Nine, Hanover Win Junior Battles

Newell routed Lawrenceville, 22-8 while Shippingport gained a 9-4 win over Frankfort and Hanover topped Hookstown 9-8 in South Side Hot Stove League Junior Division games Thursday.

Jim Booher couldn't have been better with a perfect six-for-six night including a grand slam home run while Jim Stine also connected for a roundtripper. Ron Heffner was the winning pitcher allowing four hits including three off the bat of Lawrenceville's Duke Reed.

Ed Ashcroft fanned 11 batters and collected three hits to pace Shippingport's victory. Ed Shaffer chipped in with a home run for the winners while Larry Cox tripled for Frankfort.

Hookstown unloaded for three home runs but that wasn't enough to get past Hanover as Tim McCoy fanned 14 batters for the Hanover nine.

Larry Anderson clubbed two roundtrippers and Bruce Potts, Hookstown's losing pitcher, smacked one.

Howell Pitches Pony No-Hitter

Jerry Howell joined the local Pony League Hall of Fame with the league's first no-hitter as Burbick's whipped George Bright's, 15-0.

On his way to the masterpiece, Howell fanned 16 batters while giving up only two walks.

His teammates backed him with a 12-hit attack as Burbick's scored four times in the second inning and the rout was on.

Berhar smacked two home runs to lead Burbick's while Lacey connected for a roundtripper.

In another contest Thursday, Litten's banged out 11 hits to score a 10-5 victory over Sevy's.

A home run and two singles by Myers plus Bob Flint's three safeties paced Litten's plate attack. Parson was the winning pitcher allowing seven hits while Don Smith was checked with the loss.

Bill Montgomery clouted a home run and two singles in Sevy's losing cause.

Arlin Hurls Top Game In College Tournament

OMAHA (AP)—Steve Arlin's courageous 15-inning job Thursday night for Ohio State, a three-hitter with 20 strikeouts, overshadowed Arizona State's relentless drive to its first College World Series championship.

Arlin pitched a four-hit victory over Florida State Monday, had one day of rest, started Wednesday against Arizona State and was knocked out in the first inning by four solid hits and four Ohio State errors. Then he came back Thursday with possibly the top game in Series history.

His 1 - 0 shutout eliminated Washington State. Then Arizona ousted St. Louis 6-2, making it a two-team race.

Arizona State, 4-0 in the double elimination tourney, can wrap it up by beating the Buckeyes tonight.

Ohio State, 3 - 1, must whip ASU two straight, tonight and Saturday, to claim its first NCAA baseball crown and the big Ten's sixth.

Ohio State's cause is far from hopeless, even though Arlin is through for the series, barring rainouts. Marty Karow will start lefthander John Durant, who pitched a six-hit 14 - 1 victory over Washington State Tuesday.

If Durant wins, Karow can come back Saturday with Ron Kitchon, senior righthander who held ASU to one run in 7 2-3 innings Wednesday.

Arlin's 15 innings pitched and 20 strikeouts broke Series pitching records of 13 innings and 16 strikeouts. He walked only five.

STEVE ARLIN
Hurls Outstanding Game.

Arlin, sophomore righthander with an outstanding fast ball, was on the brink of defeat in the last of the 13th after permitting only two runnners as far as second base until then. WSU's Dale Ford led off the 13th with a 420-foot triple to center. Then Arlin issued the two intentional walks, got Dale Schilley on a weak grounder to the mound for a double play and struck out Duane Rossman.

The winning run scored on an error with two out in the 15th.

Rogers, T.S.&T., Pusateri's Capture Minor League Tilts

Roger's Drive-In led the Little Minor League in runs scored Thursday with a 20-5 win over M. & A. Motors while T. S. & T. edged Tri-State Appliance, 14-13 and Pusateri's was a 15-11 winner over Potters Bank & Trust.

LeMasters clouted a home run and double and Armstrong collected a double and single for Rogers. Tom Bennett, the winning pitcher, allowed M. & A. batters only two hits but one was a roundtripper by Crowe.

Steven Hancock's four hits led T. S. & T. to its narrow victory over Tri-State. Hancock also claimed the pitching victory as Bruce Branson was the loser. Bosworth collected three singles for Tri-State.

Matt Stewart pitched and batted Pusateri's to victory. He fanned nine batters and allowed seven hits while collecting three safeties himself. Schwartz came up with three hits for the winners. Mike Forzano came up with three of Potters seven hits.

Jr. Legion Defeated By Steubenville

Post 374, limited to three hits by Larry Leasure, dropped a 2-0 decision at Steubenville Thursday.

Steubenville came up with two runs in the first inning off loser Rich Whittington for the only scoring of the game.

East Liverpool was paced at the plate by Shorades with two singles in two trips.

Post 374 will meet Hanoverton Sunday at 3:30 on Colt Field.

Family Begins Dream Vacation

By KEN MCCREARY
For The Associated Press

A homemade ship with an all-girl crew is providing an Ohio skipper a dream vacation—seven weeks sailing the tropical waters of the Bahamas.

Veteran Columbus Police Sgt. Alex Incze and his female family of three are making their cruise on a 32-foot sailboat which they designed and built.

Incze is the skipper. The first mate is his wife, Evelyn, who toiled with him over the thousands of hours of planning and building. "Crewmen" are the Incze's freckle - faced teenaged daughters, Cathy, 15, and Karen 14.

What kind of a craft is taking the Ohio family on this trip? The "Mixed Emotions" (so named because of the varied reactions of people seeing it) is a sloop-rig trimaran. Complementing the main hull are a pair of 21 foot outrigger pontoons which serve to stabilize the craft in choppy water. A 42-foot mast supports the mainsail and the jib, and under full sail with a good wind, the boat will cruise at 15 knots. The craft also has an auxiliary 25-horsepower internally-mounted outboard motor.

The "Mixed Emotions" is five years old. Three years were spent building it and another two years sailing Lake Erie, checking out the boat in preparation for the Caribbean adventure.

The Inczes left Columbus last Thursday, towing their ship to Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Their plans call for them to be sailing today.

The ship has sleeping facilities for four, a complete galley, sanitary facilities, a refrigerator, marine radio equipment and numerous safety devices. The culinary mainstay will be 175 pounds of dry and frozen food, plus fish they catch and fresh supplies picked up along the route.

The itinerary calls for an initial stop at West End, on Grand Bahama Island. From there, the sleek blue sailboat will cruise other islands in the West Indies chain then head for Nassau.

Incze stressed that his route is strictly tentative, "we're on vacation, and we might change our minds a thousand times."

The Inczes plan plenty of diving in the clear waters surrounding the coal islands, with some underwater exploration, photography and sightseeing.

The captain, who's got over a dozen years of boating under his nautical belt, doesn't anticipate any problems or emergencies which can't be handled.

The cruise will be the fullfillment of a longtime dream. "Actually, you could call this a return to paradise," Incze said. "We made a shorter trip to the islands six years ago, on a 21-foot boat.

It was then that we decided to build the 'Mixed Emotions' and come back.

"We've been saving our money and vacation time ever since then for this trip."

De Gaulle, Erhard Open Talks In Bonn

BONN, Germany (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle arrived today for two days of talks with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard about their differences over the European community.

The two leaders were not expected to make much progress toward agreement.

De Gaulle came for the consultation held semiannually under the terms of the French-West German treaty of friendship and cooperation which he and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer signed. The talks are intended to promote common policies on foreign affairs and defense, but this goal appears farther away than ever.

Ohio Due $13 Million For Military Projects

WASHINGTON (AP)—Allocation of $13,366,000 for Ohio military installations is provided in the $2 billion military construction bill passed by the House Thursday.

The largest share of the money, $12,319,000, is allocated for Wright - Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton.

The Newark Air Force Station gets $181,000 for utilities, and Lockbourne Air Force Base, Columbus, $565,000 for maintenance and production facilities.

People In News

MALMO, Sweden (AP)—The Malmo Fire Department has made jazz trumpeter Louis Armstrong an honorary captain.

Armstrong was met by hundreds of fans when he arrived Thursday after a one-night stand in Budapest. Fire Chief Sven Soennerberg put a captain's helmet on Satchmo's head.

Armstrong called the crowd of 80,000 that turned out for his concert in Budapest "the largest audience I ever had during my career."

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Kwame Nkrumah was unanimously elected Thursday by Ghana's new Parliament as president for a second 5-year term. There was no debate.

TURIN, Italy (AP) — Dr. Michael Ellis de Bakey, prominent heart surgeon from Houston, Tex., was awarded an honorary degree of medical science Thursday by the University of Turin.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Gen. Dwight E. Beach arrived today to assume the triple command of the U.N. and U.S. forces in Korea and of the 8th U.S. Army.

Beach succeeds Gen. Hamilton H. Howze, who will leave Korea Tuesday for the United States and retirement on June 30.

Contract Agreement Ends Strike Of 1,000

CINCINNATI (AP) — Some 1,000 workers called off their strike Thursday at the Philip Carey Manufacturing Co. when the Paper Makers Union agreed to a new contract, which provides for wage and fringe increases of 23 cents an hour over the next three years.

De Gaulle, Erhard Open Talks In Bonn

BONN, Germany (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle arrived today for two days of talks with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard about their differences over the European community.

The two leaders were not expected to make much progress toward agreement.

De Gaulle came for the consultation held semiannually under the terms of the French-West German treaty of friendship and cooperation which he and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer signed. The talks are intended to promote common policies on foreign affairs and defense, but this goal appears farther away than ever.

Ohio Due $13 Million For Military Projects

WASHINGTON (AP)—Allocation of $13,366,000 for Ohio military installations is provided in the $2 billion military construction bill passed by the House Thursday.

The largest share of the money, $12,319,000, is allocated for Wright - Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton.

The Newark Air Force Station gets $181,000 for utilities, and Lockbourne Air Force Base, Columbus, $565,000 for maintenance and production facilities.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 3 to 6 degrees above normal. Representative normal highs and lows are Cleveland 78-56, Columbus 83-59, Cincinnati 84-63.

Not much change in temperature until warmer about Tuesday. Rainfall will average one quarter to one half inch as scattered showers and thundershowers Sunday and again about the middle of next week.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our dear father, Silas R. McKenzie, who passed away 6 years ago today, June 11, 1959.
You have left a beautiful memory, with sorrow too great to be told,
But to us who have loved and lost you,
Your memory will never grow old.

Sadly missed by daughters, Ollie Wirth, Edna Wickham and Elizabeth Hayes.

IN memory of Grace Devon, who died June 11, 1963.
An empty chair, a certain look,
A bit of music, or a book
Can bring with it a stab of pain,
For memory can still retain
The loss we feel that she is gone,
While we are left to carry on.
No one can ever take her place,
And time can never dim her face,
For it is carved upon my heart;
A very special piece of art.
The Family

3 CARDS OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and sincere appreciation to the kind friends and neighbors whose expression of sympathy meant so much to us. We thank Rev. R. H. Schondelmayer, nurses at City Hospital, Arner Funeral Home and those who sent floral tributes. — Mrs. Mattie Chambers, Daughter and Family.

WE wish to express our sincere thanks to all those who helped in any way during the illness and death of our beloved Husband and father, Ben Smith. Also special thanks to Rev. W. L. Harris of the Midland Mt. Olive Baptist Church and Will Leavell of the Leavell Funeral Home in Midland. Mrs. Pearl Smith and children.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our dear father, Silas R. McKenzie, who passed away 6 years ago today, June 11, 1959.
You have left a beautiful memory, with sorrow too great to be told,
But to us who have loved and lost you,
Your memory will never grow old.

Sadly missed by daughters, Ollie Wirth, Edna Wickham and Elizabeth Hayes.

IN memory of Grace Devon, who died June 11, 1963.
An empty chair, a certain look,
A bit of music, or a book
Can bring with it a stab of pain,
For memory can still retain
The loss we feel that she is gone,
While we are left to carry on.
No one can ever take her place,
And time can never dim her face,
For it is carved upon my heart;
A very special piece of art.
The Family

3 CARDS OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and sincere appreciation to the kind friends and neighbors whose expression of sympathy meant so much to us. We thank Rev. R. H. Schondelmayer, nurses at City Hospital, Arner Funeral Home and those who sent floral tributes. — Mrs. Mattie Chambers, Daughter and Family.

WE wish to express our sincere thanks to all those who helped in any way during the illness and death of our beloved Husband and father, Ben Smith. Also special thanks to Rev. W. L. Harris of the Midland Mt. Olive Baptist Church and Will Leavell of the Leavell Funeral Home in Midland. Mrs. Pearl Smith and children.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, June 11, the 162nd day of 1965. There are 203 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1776, Congress appointed a committee to draft a Declaration of Independence. The committee included Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin and John Adams.

On this date

In 1859, the Comstock Lode was discovered in Nevada.

In 1936, a new Soviet constitution was submitted to the people of the Soviet Union.

In 1942, an announcement was made of a lend-lease agreement between Russia and the United States.

In 1945, the Senate voted to continue the Office of Price Administration for another year.

Ten years ago — The Atomic Energy Commission reported that the hydrogen bomb could be constructed in almost unlimited size from the cheapest atomic explosives.

Five years ago — White House news secretary James Hagerty went to Tokyo to arrange the details of a visit by President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

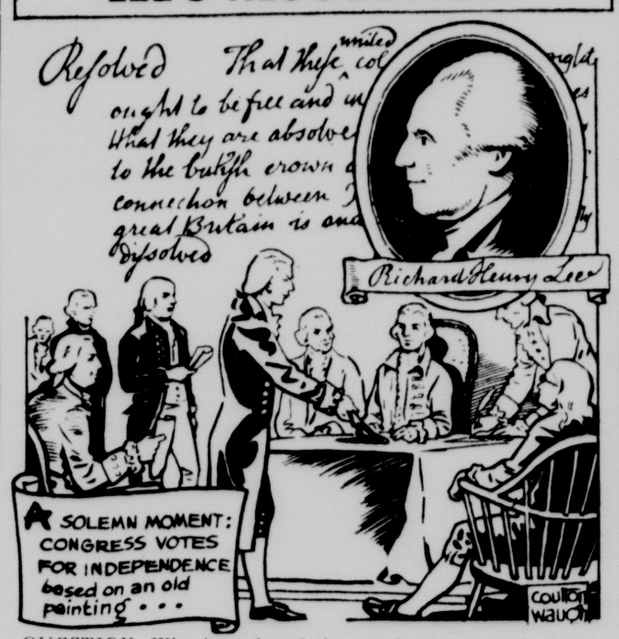

One year ago — The State Department announced that reconnaissance flights over Laos would continue "as necessary," with the consent of Premier Souvanna Phouma.

This 'n That

The longest reign of any British king was that of George III, from October 1760 to January 1820—59 years and 96 days. The longest reign of any queen of England was that of Victoria, from June 1837 to January 1901—63 years and 216 days.

Probably the most prolific painter of any note was the Belgian artist, Antoine Wiertz (1806-65), who produced 131 canvases 50 feet wide and 30 feet high, totaling more than 195,000 square feet or 4½ acres that he covered with his brushes.

A Junior Editors Quiz About LEE'S RESOLUTION

QUESTION: Who introduced the resolution to declare the American colonies independent?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Not everyone realizes that the announcement of independence given in the famous Declaration was preceded by an also-famous resolution.

Before the Revolution, the American colonies handled their affairs through provincial governments in each colony. As the feeling for independence grew, the colonies, on the suggestion of Virginia, sent representatives to Philadelphia, this grouping being known as The Continental Congress. After much debate and argument, a resolution was finally drawn up stating "That these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States" and that they were absolved from allegiance to the British Crown. This highly important and historic resolution was presented on June 7, 1776, by Richard Henry Lee, senior member of the delegation from Virginia. The motion was seconded by Adams of Massachusetts. It was debated for some time, finally being voted on and adopted on July 2. Meanwhile a committee to write a Declaration of Independence previously had given this task to Thomas Jefferson. Thus, this document was ready when the historic vote was taken. On July 4, America's independence was announced to the nation and to the world.

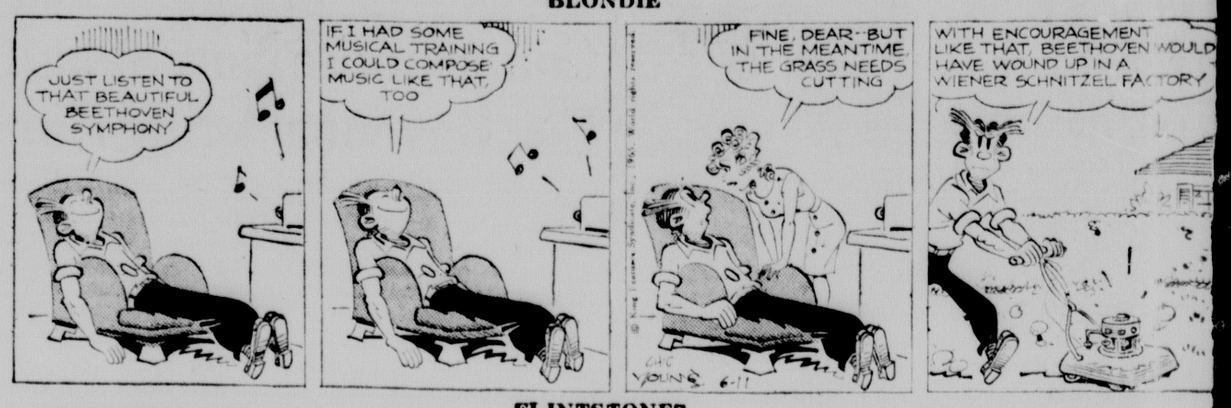

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Look in a history book for the wording of Lee's resolution. As you read it, realize that the moment when it was adopted was actually the moment when America became free. A great decision had been taken; a new nation had been born.

Ohio Officials Seek Support

Compromise Now Sought For Ravenna A-Site Bid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio officials sought a compromise today to gather united support for location of a $280 million atom smasher at the Ravenna Arsenal, near Cleveland.

A dispute erupted Thursday after the Defense Department said the Ravenna site was not available for the project and a Southern Ohio group initiated a drive for location of the atom smasher in the Portsmouth area.

State officials insist that the Ravenna site is available and that the Portsmouth area location—at Piketon in Pike County—does not meet requirements of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Revealing the compromise plan, Development Director Fred P. Neuenschwander said arrangements are being made for a meeting "real fast" of state officials and members of the Ohio congressional delegation to discuss the possibility of obtaining another federal installation for Piketon.

He said Piketon does not have enough level land to handle the three-mile-long and two - mile-accelerator, that it is too far from a jet airport and does not have sufficient technical manpower available.

Neuenschwander also contradicted a statement by Rep. William H. Harsha, R-Ohio, that the advantages of the Southern Ohio site outweight other areas in Ohio because of its high unemployment figures and because it is in the Appalachia area earmarked for aid.

Actually, said Neuenschwander, the unemployment and poverty situation works against the Pike County area rather than for it.

One of the requirements of an area bidding for the atom smasher, he said, is that there exist a concentration of $40,000 homes for highly paid technicians.

Neuenschwander said he has been assured by the Department of the Army that the necessary acreage at the Ravenna Arsenal will be made available if the state puts forth a united effort for it.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, said he and other members of a coordination committee who favor selection of the Ravenna site plan to meet Monday with Cyrus Vance, deputy secretary of defense, to "explore the situation."

The state will present its arguments for the Ravenna site at a Washington hearing next Tuesday, at which Gov. James A. Rhodes will appear personally.

The Atomic Energy Commission has set June 15 as the deadline for applications from over the country from groups seeking the electron volt accelerator for their areas.

State officials were criticized for their handling of the Ravenna location by Rep. Robert E. Sweeney, Democrat serving at-large for the state, during a luncheon in Washington Thursday for the Southern Ohio group promoting the Piketon site.

Sweeney said he was shocked to learn that the Defense Department had never given a commitment that the Ravenna site would be available. He said someone in Ohio "has been leading the people down a primrose path," in an obvious swipe at Rhodes.

He indicated that if the Defense Department doesn't release the Ravenna property by June 15, "Jim Rhodes should crawl in off the limb and go for the Pike County site."

Meeting Sought For Settling Of Cleveland Issue

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Community Relations Board is asking Mayor Ralph S. Locher to call a special meeting of the board to settle differences between civil rights leaders and the city administration.

The action was taken Thursday when the board passed a resolution at an impromptu meeting. The resolution called for a meeting of the board with Police Chief Richard Wagner and representatives of the United Freedom Movement, a federation of civil rights groups.

The civil rights group has been trying unsuccessfully for four days to meet privately with Locher to protest a statement made by Wagner in Columbus two weeks ago about the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM), a black nationalist organization.

Locher informed the group that he did not think a meeting would be useful and referred the civil rights group to Wagner.
